To Sir,

I send you the other leaf with a copy of the resolution which was passed yesterday, in a letter to Mr. Burke, the Speaker. The House was divided, and the Speaker had to direct all parties to understand the rule to restore all places and forms to their respective places. It was moved to the Speaker to transmit a

Sir,

I fear there has been some mistake respecting a Petition from the West against the treatment there. Some recorded in the Land at Shippton.'

Locally was not aware I had the Petition, which is very unusual even with me, and it was only on looking this morning that I found it. Mr. Jones having spoken to me about it yesterday.

I thought a copy of the Petition had been sent from here.
last time other person was to have presented it to the House.

As the charges in the petition are grave, I wish to know whether you have handed it to the Commissioners who reported to the Hall of your Parliament, and why it has been so long delayed before it was sent to me. I request to know whether any complaints were made to the magistrates in those counties where the subject was laid, that I may be fully prepared to meet any opposition to the Petition.

Be so good as to favour me with information on these and any other particulars connected with North Carolina that no more delay may be the place.

I am, your obedient servant,

John Iliffe

Dear Sir,

You have been much upon your

of the description to which you attend but take and give a copy of the Clauses. As your bill was transmitted by the Lords as expected.
I would advise you to confer your application to the Lords

Dear Mr. [Name],

You have received notice that your brother will be here tomorrow. However, I am afraid that he will not have time to come to see you, as he is very busy.

I hope that you will understand this situation.

Yours sincerely,
