In the month of
of the year of our Lord
It was a cold winter day
and the wind was strong.
John and Mary went to church and they prayed together.

Psalms 121:1

Be careful not to lose your way.
[Handwritten text in Latin, difficult to transcribe accurately due to the condition of the page]
Long before the sound of the bells of the tower trickled up through the earth and other celestial Bodies to the heavens above, the first light of day illuminates the land and the first sound of a bird's song is heard. This day, as promised for their benefit, is to be a joyful one.
