

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a narrow strip of parchment. The text is arranged in approximately four lines. The first line begins with a large initial 'S' followed by 'Sungens'. The script is dense and cursive, typical of the late 15th century. The parchment is aged and shows some staining and wear, particularly at the edges. A small, dark, irregular mark is visible on the left side of the strip, possibly a remnant of a binding or a stain.
