William de Northall of Burgate grants to William, son of Sir Robert de Burgate, Esq., for his service & a mark of silver a piece of his house in the village of Burgate, between his own house on the south & house of Geoffrey Cucke on the north & abutting on the west on his croft & on the east on the common moor (moor) of Burgate; & said piece of house is 8½ perches long & 3½ perches wide. Giving capital lord of the fee annually one halfpenny at Michaelmas.
