To His Majesty King Henry the Eighth, Holy Trinity, AD 1585.

It is granted by me, Sir William Davenant of Wimpole, in the County of Suffolk, in the person of the said William Davenant, Baron of Wimpole in the said county, Knt. To have of his pound, St. John's College, two twenty-fourth parts of all the goods, chattels, and moveable goods of the said William Davenant, without any other summons or demand by the said William Davenant, to the amount of my personal goods, to the said Lord King his estate, to be paid to the donee and the donee's assigns.

Also, to the said Lord King, his assigns, for the sum of two hundred pounds, at the cost of the returnation of the said William Davenant, Captain of the said College, in reward for the sum of two hundred pounds, for the said William Davenant, of all my goods, chattels, and personal estate, as your first absolute motion.
