"I do a great deal of reading, but I'm not very big on contemporary authors. My favorites are Dostoevsky and George Eliot. Television? Well, the Smothers Brothers was the show I liked best. Now I lean toward Laugh-In and The Bold Ones."

Miss August, Sharon Clark, becomes Playboy's twelfth gatefold queen.

Since the darkest days of World War Two, when it was a vaunted stronghold of the Imperial Japanese Navy, had the Micronesian atoll of Truk received such attention in an American magazine. But this time, the August 1970 issue of Playboy, the mood was infinitely brighter; one of the Truk islands, Moen, was the temporary headquarters of that month's Playmate, lovely Sharon Clark, then teaching English to local high school students. So captivated were Playboy's editors by Sharon's fresh-faced beauty and sunny personality that she was their unanimous choice as 1971's Playmate of the Year. Sharon thus becomes the 12th in the succession of Playmate of the Year.

Sharon is so honored and, like all of her predecessors, she finds it difficult to believe. Now back in California, where she has recently moved from Santa Monica to a house on stilts in the Hollywood hills, Sharon told us: "I really don't know what shook me up more, our earthquake or the news that I'd been chosen Playmate of the..." (text concluded on page 190)
“I’ve always loved to travel, and my experiences in Truk just whetted my appetite for further exploration. I’d like to go to Spain—I’ve been studying the language diligently, on records—and I’m excited about the prospect of participating, as Playmate of the Year, in a trip to Switzerland, with ski instructor Roaer Staub as host. Luckily, skiing is my favorite winter sport.”
