Dear Bel -

This morning
George Woodward asserted that I was bound by a promise made some time ago to be at a party at his house to night - at seven o'clock - I don't like to go behind my word since he makes a point of it. But I like you so much better than any body else (for you are the nicest girl in town -) that I will go to your house to night unless you say that it will suit you to receive me & my friend just as well to morrow evening as this evening - I can't afford to be cheated altogether out of that visit to you -

Truly Yours &c

Dear Mr. [illegible]

This morning
I have been thinking
of the many things
that I have done
for you in the past few years
and I feel that I have done
nothing for you
that I will be proud to remember to myself. I feel that I have done nothing for you that I will be proud
to remember
to myself.
