

Peace Society,
Office, 47, New Broad Street.

London June 3. 1899.
E.C.

Dear Dr Moschles,

Will you kindly tell the gentleman, who wrote you about the slides, that we shall be glad to help him with any of our slides, and that if he will kindly write me telling me what he wants, I will see to the matter at once.

He may have the use of those you had, or any from our other sets.

We always lend our slides free to members of the Society, they paying the carriage, and making good breakages, and, of course, we are always ready to do the same thing - for any who are seeking to benefit the Cause of Peace & who desire it. I shall be very glad to render any service to your correspondent

Yours very sincerely

W. Evans Darby.
