Whereas, The absolute enforcement of comprehensive civil service laws which provide for proper entrance and promotion of examinations, as well as just and fair trials of employees under charges, furnish the only sure means of elevating the standard of public business.

Whereas, Many of the civil service employees of the City of Chicago, who by their conduct and records have proven their devotion to the merit principle, have had exceptionally good opportunities to become informed as to the features most vital to an effective merit system as well as the most common methods of low evasion in wages.

Whereas, The attempt of politicians and other falsely stigmatizing organized civil service employees as members of organizations created for the sole purpose of continuing members in office, and by most effectively pontificating by the promotion of an affiliated body of public spirited business men who acting as said advisory committee may refer to the public the facts as to civil service work do not civil service methods as well as the truth as to the public service; therefore be it

Resolved, By this meeting, that a committee of five members be appointed by the chair & named for the purpose of taking all necessary steps to secure the presence of some of Chicago's public spirited citizens, to serve as members of the advisory committee of the Chicago Civil Service League, and for the amendment of which this meetingImpossible for the purpose among
