

SINCLAIR DINOSAUR EXHIBIT AT THE CENTURY OF PROGRESS

50

Sinclair Dinosaur Exhibit

The Dinosaur Exhibit built by the Sinclair Refining Company at the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago is the first attempt to recreate out-of-doors a portion of the earth's surface as it existed 100 million years ago. The huge beast shown on this card is a Brontosaurus. He bulked 40 tons in life and was 70 feet long.
