THE trailer you have just seen, a real “home on wheels,” was constructed in a home workshop. It is a real job, requiring only the experience which the average homecraftsman possesses.

Plans for this trailer may be found in the March-April, 1934 issue of POPULAR HOMECRAFT Magazine in the Home Workshop just across the aisle. Blue prints and directions for making the trailer are also available.

Construct a trailer next winter; become one of the many homecraftsmen who “hit the trails” in a trailer built in a home workshop.
FOLLOW A HOBBY

The following of things by hand dates back to prehistoric times. The more modern man-fashioned things of our day, such as guns, hats, socks, and clothes, need and desire. Create as they may have been, they found favor with him.

There is something intangible about the making of an article yourself, which performs to enhance its value. No two articles are alike, no two things are the same. A single thing or a creation of creativity and beauty, it has a far greater value in the market than an identical one purchased from store or manufacturer.

The home workshop you have seen in operation was planned and operated by those whose names appear upon the brochure. The sole purpose for us in demonstrating simple it is today to fashion almost anything from wood, metal, leather and other products utilized in the Arts and Crafts.

Today, the price range of electrically driven tools is within the monetary reach of all. If you purchase the set equipped as you require them. Small hand tools, also, cost little, even for the finer grades. Why not put away bound to derive great pleasure in following a hobby—your hobby.

Do not worry about your technique; about your ability to handle tools. You'll acquire that quickly. Your next door neighbor may be a craftsman, who will take pleasure and pride in helping you on any operation, which seems difficult or difficult.

LEADING CRAFTSMAN MAGAZINE

PAPERWORKCRAFTSMAN, with the cooperation of the manufacturers whose names appear on the reverse side of this sheet, was responsible for the creation, maintenance and operation of the Home Workshop of the Craftsman Makers of Progress. Chicago.

PAPERWORKCRAFTSMAN is published every two months and is the brainchild of the Craftsmen. It is a big magazine filled from cover to cover with good, practical, useful information on what to construct and how to do it in construction. Every issue is a complete men's encyclopedia. Very practically illustrated with photographs and plans. All instructions are written in such a way that you can easily follow and build anything that you like. It is the largest and oldest magazine devoted to home decoration in the country. It is the practical step by step guide for all the home tools. We know you will be delighted with PAPERWORKCRAFTSMAN.

So you know, you may know this practical magazine, we offer to those of you who have been through the Home Workshop a full illustrated instruction on the making of a $1.00 Coin of Silver. Metal is made up and put in the coin, inscribed with your name and number of the year it was made. Your name and address are placed on a plate on the back of the coin, which is then signed by the President of the United States.

Have a Hobby...Become a Craftsman

The purpose and aim of the workshop you have just seen is to demonstrate to the thousands of visitors to A Century of Progress the machinery, tools, equipment and accessories that may be used by the home craftsman. You may be impressed with the artistic manner in which we have presented this work shop to you. Here are a few pertinent facts concerning the exhibit.

The entire booth was constructed with the aid of the tools and machinery displayed. The wood is the nationally known Shevlin Pine, finished with a special aging stain furnished by the Colonial Stain Company. Many interesting living rooms, libraries and fine dwellings have been finished with these products. The floor is Marinite Presswood, and we believe you will demonstrate that it is artistic and pleasing. We know that it is durable.

It is our hope that you will visit this workshop, where tools and machinery are ably demonstrated, will result in your joining the ranks of the large army of craftsmen who are devoting their new hours of leisure in the pursuit of their hobbies. The expense for equipment is not large; the end results are enjoyment and profit.

We invite you to write POPULAR HOME CRAFTSMAN magazine for information on tools, machines and equipment. Also feel free to ask our advice on any craft where the details of construction or procedure may be obscure to you. It will be our genuine pleasure to serve you.
