Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my opinion on the decision to implement a tax on all goods. I believe this move will be detrimental to the economy and will lead to an increase in prices for consumers. Furthermore, it will place a burden on the working class, who are already struggling financially.

I urge you to reconsider this decision and explore alternative measures to address the fiscal issues faced by the government. Your consideration of the impact on the population will be greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

I arrived at the above address at about 9:30 P.M. after finding our friend and the night porter (who said his name was Jack Kirby) in a lower part of the house, in which the stable is. If it is an old girl you want, I know of one who is in her house now and will take you back. We said that we wanted two girls and she replied, "There are no other girls that stay here. But she went and found us a whip in about half an hour.

We agreed to return in about half an hour and left, returning again at 10:30 P.M., and Jack told us that the other girl had not returned yet and that she might have put some money and remain out late. But that he would find it up for us some day this week. We ate some cold cocoa in the restaurant, we left at 11:30 P.M.

Some time after leaving a dairy store,

I was solicited by two girls who said their names were May Welch and Elizabeth in front of the store window.

They said, "Hello, kid, let's go home." I told

I tried to look the woman who later said
