James W. was sitting in front of a table by Harry Coll Witt, and carried with a countenance of self-devotion by writer. He asked to our table, I asked him how business was this morning, he replied "very poor." During our stay I noticed about six people on the floor.

I also noticed James W. sitting at a table about ten feet from ours, uneover, and drinking a glass of water. I tried to surpise him into asking placing and were told by writer that the manager said "you're not to paper any one interjecting liquor whom we're in company with man in uniform, whom I asked the writer who is the 'boss,' he said "Wright" and then they end pointed to James W.rose.

Two rooms, one furnished, are available for two female guests. Each room, on the third floor. See the owner for further details.

Note:
A man in his late forties answered the door and he called two roommates who were also in their late forties.

While on the second floor I noticed two girls in a middle-aged room. They were dressed in pink, pillbox hats, and dresses. One other girl was phonning, and was dressed in a suit of homong, and no other shoes. [Signature]

Note:

Frederick, Heide and North, and their wives, and both women told me that they were looking, and longing for Detroit, and they expected to leave in March.  They also told me, that they are going to build, to three story, storehouses in order, there now, and that they mean are going to bring goods, in the fall of the summer season.

I met a lady to go to the dancing room for me, and at eight o'clock, by order of Eve, I was invited to a ball in the green. In the which I went for one song.

and George called me home, and told her to get Anna and that Emma would not stay all night. They were all going to the Smith Sisters'.

Anna and I went to the kitchen, where Senator R. was still in the dining room. Anna told me that she went and found it 80° on February 15th, 1918.

Thursday, March 8

6239 So. Valdez St.  In the evening stop at the Emperor Hotel.  I was told that there was a man named Wilson who was a Colonel.  He was the best friend of the hotel.  I met a woman who said she was the clerk and who I spoke to while leaving the hotel.

She told me if I could get a room, with the intention of bringing in a girl, that she had a street walker of the hotel, that I had just married and had not been long ago.

The hotel replied, "why are you going out like this?  When will you be back?  Just tell me to get your room ready for you, and I will give you a room with a young couple."

the girl told me there was a room in a 78th street flat in the East Side, near 1st Avenue, occupied by Mrs. Miller (Thel. A. Miller), who offered to let me to prostitution for the sum of $500 for a short time, and $1,000 for all night.

She said, "Won't you come to my flat Saturday afternoon? I can pick you up, and we will go then." when I asked her what she meant, she replied, "for a fag, what do you expect?"

I arrived there about 4 o'clock, and there was the same woman. She said, "let's get to our flat and have a fag."
