harbor their trade and sad strange men go to their table and the men and woman would soon leave together.

Bessie Brown formerly operated a house of prostitution at 312 872 W St.
and broad street, on which place I often visited, and from that place I traced
her to the above mentioned address.

While smoking through the cafe alone
on an unselected woman sitting in a booth smiling and beckoned for me to come over.
I did so, and took a seat with her, and the woman said her name was "Mrs. Bender."
Just as I took seats with this woman
she immediately solicited me to prostitution saying "will you, you look like you need a jizz to jive," when I asked her where we could go, and what she charged, she replied
"any hotel, and it will cost you enough."

See for arrangements here.
I allowed me
with no further moment, and took a seat with this woman, and dealing with every concern
pursed with drunk.

As this woman being intoxicated we would not take chances going to a hotel with her.

While in company with Mr. D. and while walking north on 5th St. I met in the vicinity of 10th Ave. E. S. St. I recogized a notorious street walker, who spoke to him and who he introduced to me as Florence.

After about five minutes of conversation with this woman, she left me and immediately a police officer approached me and told me to come along with him.

We did so, and in the immediate vicinity of N. 10th Ave. we again met Florence. After the officer questioned us and the woman we were then taken to the Central Police Station, where we were again questioned by the lieutenant and charged, and were turned over to the 1st Precinct.

In no respect did we reveal our identity, nor have looked any charges.

Deeming it expedient to visit a house of ill-fame.

We were admitted into a dancing room by a woman who we knew as Thaddes Schilling, the operator of this house.

While there, this woman solicited both of us to a "bolger's act," better known as a "promenade," or in other words, "the French way." And mentioned the price of $300.

And D. assumed my place, against the door.

Furthermore, on 2/3/99.

This woman formerly operated a house of this sort at 940-2 12th Street, 3rd Floor.

The from which place we erected her.
Come to be starting on a disorderly plot.

After we had taken some in coffee, 2
women came in with a male escort.

The men soon left and the women came over to our table, and said their names were "Ruth" and "Helo."

After being served with drinks, both of these women solicited us to prostitution.
Ruth mentioned the price to be $300
for their service, and $10 extra for room rent.

We said "no" twice, and we knew it.

Then went to different tables.

Then turned to be a hangout for prostitutes and other they harbored their trades and also known as the Seven Brooms.
