MY CHILD - MY CHURCH - MY COUNTRY

Secularize education and you paganize the nation!

What the children of today are taught the men and women of to-morrow believe. If we would perpetuate our Christian homes, our Christian churches, our Christian nation, we should send our children to a Christian school. For the sake of our children, our church and our country let us join hands with the historically evangelical, non-denominational, school movement known as The Christian Schools of America, Mark Fakkema, Gen. THE TOWN of CICERO
STATE OF ILLINOIS

In the year 1857 Cicero was a vast tract of level prairies, six miles in length from North to South, six miles in width from East to West. The eastern boundary, naturally the western limit of the City of Chicago, was known even at that early date by the name it bears today, Western Avenue; the northern boundary, North Avenue, the southern boundary Thirty-ninth Street, and the western boundary a wagon road bearing no name in 1857, but now known as Harlem Avenue.

Three roads, the South-west Plank road (the present Ogden Avenue) beginning at the fictitious land-mark called "The Bulls Head," present corner of Ogden Avenue and Randolph Street, extending in a southwesterly direction to Hinsdale; the Sand Ridge road beginning at the present corner of Riverside Drive and Twenty-second Street, running north-east to Twelfth Street and Austin Boulevard; and Pennsylvania Avenue, now Lake Street, by far the most important of all, running in a northwesterly direction to Elgin, at the time a thriving village; these were the only means of travel in Cicero in 1857.

Two railroads entered Township Thirty-nine in the year 1857, the Chicago and Galena Railroad, predecessor of the Chicago and North-western on the North and the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis, changed later to the Chicago and Alton, on the extreme south.

Early in the year 1857 pursuant to a petition of the enterprising citizens of Township Thirty-nine, the County Clerk of Cook County posted a notice within the township requesting the people of that locality to organize a government.

By an unanimous vote a town government was organized co-extensive with the territorial boundaries of Township Thirty-nine to be known as the Town of Cicero, the name having been suggested by one of the electors. Officers for the ensuing year were also elected at that meeting.
