Proceedings of Cromwell's Army in Ireland, from 13 March 1649 to the 25th of Dec 1651

From a copy of the manuscript kept by D. Henry Jones, referred from D. Henry Jones's private notes of the March.

Dear Sir,

I am directed here to the Duke of Marlborough, and called upon by his Lordship to send my respects to the Duke of York and his Excellency, general of our army in Ireland. I am not so distant from the Duke of York as to be able to render you any service.

The Duke of York wrote me a letter of decent for me of this army, and I am not so distant from the Duke of York as to be able to render you any service.
