I value this collection for the Memoir of the Bishop of Meath at 25 Guineas, and if to this were added or made available for copying the documents of Reference in Red Ink the very numerous References in my Antiquarian Dictionary (No. 1) in my Printed Catalogue titles "Archaeological History" and "Medieval literature and Legal" here mentioned; the applicable works in the MSS of E. of Lossie's library; the information on "Laplaces's Reference for the History of the Irish Tribes" (No. 21, 1861); and if research were made in my Bishop's MSS (No. 2, 1861) at the names of the respective Relations as well in the applicable repositories in my Derry papers (Dublin). The total compilation would be priced at but 50 Guineas and enable a competent writer with ordinary diligence of copying without scarcely any other aids to put the whole to press in a few weeks.
