The weather is getting to turn up. There are not so many clear days now. I was out walking over the country this morning and I saw a good deal of snow on the lower ground. The sun is shining brightly and there is a strong wind blowing from the northwest. It feels very cold and the wind is sharp. I have been inside most of the morning and have been writing letters to various people. I have written to the mayor of the town to thank him for the letter he sent me. I have also written to my friend in the city to ask him how things are going in the city. He tells me that things are improving and that business is better than it has been for some time. I hope that things will continue to improve.

I have also been writing to a friend in the country. He has been very kind to me and has written several letters to me. I am grateful to him for his help and I hope that he will continue to support me. I have also written to my brother in the city to ask him how things are going there. He tells me that business is good and that the city is growing. I am pleased to hear that things are going well.
