2 During the first day after you had taken possession of this body as Coroner, who was the highest officer present in the prison?

A The Deputy Warden.

Q I will ask you as this action in regard to this matter?

A When I first saw him in the hospital over two he did not seem to know much about the case. He did not know that the man had been gagged according to this statement. He said he did not know that he had been gagged, and when I told him that I thought he had been gagged, from the looks of his mouth, he said that he did not say whether he had been or not. He did not say that he had

I, before the warden and myself came to the prison, did you see anything to indicate that the Deputy warden was hiding anything anything more than to defer definite action until he came or did I demand say that he was trying to hide anything. I can say this: I don’t know but what I would have been thrown off my guard a little from the note had he not added the last clause to the note. That is what brought me to the prison in the morning. Well, that together with what Dr. Keene tells me. Dr. Keene brought the note. Dr. Kepple brought it to my house, and Dr.

Here was outside in a buggy, and I went out where they were, and if it was not been for the last clause in the note—I what it said—what the note said and what Dr. Keise said, I shone not probably have come up the next morning, but the Deputy Warden said I had better come up the next morning, in his note, anyway.

'After the Warden and myself came to the prison, and during that entire investigation, have you any reason to believe that the Deputy Warden was not as consent as the balance that the whole investigation should be full and complete?'

'After you came I think he was: yes, sir.'
to the present physician Dr. Heidé, and his assistant Dr. Dropp, as other in regard to the investigation—as to whether they deemed anxious as the rest, in their capacity, that this investigation should be full and complete.

day, do, I said Dr. Heidé. He came to my office, and he was anxious that it should be thorough.

Eleven years.

Has your practice been quite extensive as a physician?

Yes, sir.

Have you served on the Common Jury within the last year, and if so, when?

Yes, sir, the 9th and 10th of May—the present month.

In what capacity?

Foreman of the jury.

Have you ever served in any post mortem examination as a physician during the last year in this prison?

I have.

I state when or about the time and the description of the body—as color.

The 9th of May, 1878, at half past twelve, P.M.

I made an examination of the body of a colored convict, Hyas Reid, in what is called the School room.
of the Illinois State Penitentiary. I stripped the body and made an examination and external inspection.

2. Who was present at that post mortem examination? Dr. McBride and Dr. Henders. There were some others in the school room at the time but I did not consider them present. They were not taking part in the examination.

3. Did you see any marks or bruises on the body of that convict? I do, state their appearance?

Well, I saw a number. They were superficial. There were two bruises at the angles of the mouth and lower lip. I think there were some excoriations on the back, just above the hips. There was a slight excoriation on the left inner thigh. There was, a mark across the right leg. That mark was evidence. I think that was about all the marks. Some of those marks I considered to have been made before death. The majority of them were evidently made after death.

2. These marks on the back, this mark on the inside of the left thigh, and the one that you particularly described in your opinion as a physician, were they made before or after death? I think the excoriation on the inner left thigh was made before death. The one on the right thigh I considered was made after death.

2. This particular mark which you describe?

eyes. Yes, that or the right side was about an inch
