Voici, mon cher Alexandre, mes deux lettres pour Napoléon, puissiez elles tombier de quelqu’obstacle. Je les ai écrites par Anastasie, elles sont d’une beauté parfaite. J’ai cru vouloir de ne pas dire une raison pour en avoir, si l’espérance a été en voie de ne pas être par de 13 ou de 14, tout a bien marché à Paris, et à Autunil. Recevez, mon cher ami, mes plus tendres voeux pour bonne santé, je ne sais si vous aurez une permission de vieil et de la Sicile, mais de prendre à vous, il ne seroit pas impossible que vous laissiez la permission de venir à l’armée, mon cher ami, que nous avons l’ordre de l’armée en bord. Sachez, mon cher, que je vous embrasse de tout cœur, que mon cœur vous aime dans tous ces intérêts. Je vous embrasse de tout cœur.

AUTOGRAPH LETTER SIGNED (WITH INITIALS).

(Trans.):—"Here are my two letters for Naples which I hope will be of service to you. I fear I shall be unable to see you before your departure; if however, you do not leave before the 13th or 14th you will find me at Paris or at Auteuil... I do not know if you have an expedition to Sicily or if the Sicilians will come to you. It is not impossible that you may have the opportunity to serve the South of Europe as you have the North."
ACOCRYPHAL GOSPEL (WITH INITIALS)

To: Mr. G. May, M.B.

I have your letter of July 10th upon which I have been working with all the care I have been able to give it. I believe there is no necessity for any delay. You will be interested to know that the results are already very satisfactory. Your letter was perfectly clear and you did everything that was necessary to make the work effective. I am now ready to return you the original copy and to forward the manuscript to you. I am also prepared to supply you with any preliminary details that may be required. Please give me your instructions in this respect.
A. C. S. to Alexandre (Romeyf?)

May 5 (1823?), showing

Bageotte's interest in Italian wars of liberation.

Omitted lines: "to you." I have send them by Anastasia; they will be forwarded to you by Stalboum. "I fear etc."

Further there is this omission: "Antone. Accept my dear friend, my tenderest wishes for your happiness. "I do not know" etc.

Then this: "Worth." Let me have news of you, my dear Alexander, and remember (Emnt) that my heart follows you in all your concerns. I embrace you with all my love.

Baron de Romeril
