My dear Mr. Henry,

I have received your letter of the 9th inst. and am glad to hear from you. The Whiskey which you sent me is of excellent quality and I am very much obliged to you for it.

I shall endeavor to send you some more of the same kind at the earliest opportunity. I have also a small quantity of the new spirit which I am now experimenting with. It is said to have many valuable uses and I shall be pleased to hear your opinion of it.

The wagons which you ordered are now on their way to you. They will arrive here next week. I shall forward them to you as soon as they arrive. I have also ordered some more supplies which will be sent with them.

I hope this brief note finds you in good health. Please write me soon and let me know how you are getting along.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

P.S. I have also ordered some more supplies which will be sent with them. I hope this brief note finds you in good health. Please write me soon and let me know how you are getting along.

April 22, 1839

Dear Sir,

Mr. W. H. Christian, Esq., in answer to your letter of the 18th inst.

Please to order five bank shares of the $500 value, to sell them at the very day at three hundred dollars & fifty cents, and pay me thirty three hundred and fifty dollars & fifty cents. My wife and daughter write with me in affectionate regards for your kind letter to daughter and children, and with great respect for yourself.

Yr. obedient servant,

[Signature]

P.S. A letter from Mr. Redler, Philadelphia, says 27th March, 1297. By Post Office, received the 1st.
Mr. Lewis paid for documents done upon the clock note in the Bank of Virginia in the name of Robert Overtop. One hundred and thirty-three dollars and twenty-five cents interest due to this day.

He also agreed to pay on the 15th instant eighty-six dollars to satisfy one cent, the amount wanted to take up a note for $1000. due on that day.

Given under my hand this 15th day of April 1829.

A. Taylor, one of the Book Keepers in the Bank of Virginia.
