W. Williams
This year I told you twenty-five dollars that I asked Mr. Taylor eighty; but Mr. Sinclair said it would be a good school for me and I agreed to take Mr. Taylor’s offer of seventy-five dollars but it was not enough and if Mr. Taylor had lived I thought he would have given me eighty. Do you then asked me if I would be satisfied with eighty dollars and I told you yes thinking you meant the present year, for I had an idea of remaining the next year unless wages were raised. You know yourself that I will not more than paid me clothing and if I should be sick and have a doctor’s bill to pay it would bring me in debt and if I am not worth more than my victual and clothes you had better buy without me. You will hear from other times shortly.

We are harvesting oat barley but very indifferent.

Yours Respectfully, John Lemp.
I purpose to give and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Margaret Hannwood, during her natural life, the plantation wherein I now live and also a choosing of all my Negroes & personal estate; but until my daughter Elizabeth, either of them come of age or be married, I desire that the estate of every kind be kept together for the main use, & the use of my beloved wife & children, except what shall be choose or be otherwise disposed of.

Item, I give unto my beloved wife my Chariot, four horses, also the two drums, Frank & Wall, during her natural life & the use of fifty acres before described for a supply of timber to be ordered.

Item, I give unto my daughter Agnes after the death of my wife, the plantation wherein she now lives, & the hereditaments, house, farm, but in case my daughter Agnes should die before she arrives to lawful age or marry, then I give this land to my next surviving daughter, she giving up her part of land after bequeathed to her to the youngest child alive.

From all my children Agnes, Nancy, and Peggy, on fourth part of all my Negroes' personal estate at their coming of age or many except what is otherwise disposed of. Those of my children that do not come under age in part, I desire may be kept together with the remaining estate for the education and maintenance of my wife, and children, as before directed, hoping my dear wife may endure. To bring them up in apt and suitable to the character of ladies, applying them to music, dancing, &c.

Then I give unto my daughters, after the death of my wife, an equal part of the Negroes' personal estate which she last bequeathed unto me, my desire is that, if any of my daughters die before marriage or coming of age, the personal estate given her may be divided amongst the survivors, my daughters Agnes excepted, she having a greater share than either of the others, but she die before marriage or coming of age than her part of personal property being equally divided between Nancy and Peggy as the survivor.

Then desire that my three children may cast lottery upon executors or either of them, for the payment of my debts. Item, I desire may choose out any part of my personal or personal estate. She can best pay for sale in case what is so made directed to the executor, not being sufficient to discharge my just debts.

Item desire that if any money should be remaining in the executors' hands after payment of my debts, that it may be laid out to interest for the support of my daughters Nancy and Peggy. Item, desire my wife may have the guardianship of my daughters until they come to the age of fourteen years, my executors, and they able to manage their own affairs.

The letter to lumber and smoke does not
Bring danger, and fear, and the like.
A slight wrap, a boat, and good sea room give me,
And tent to a little jill strike,
Should smite.
Though the tempest to gallant masts, smash smooth
And shiver each flinter of wood,
Tight.
Clear the wreck, stow the yards, and huzza, everything
And under reef'd foremast, aAtlanta.
And now don't think me a milk-up or upt
To be taken for trifles afoot.
For they say there is a providence, sits up a loft,
To keep watch for the life of poor Jack.

Why I heard the good chaplain, palaver one day
About soul, heaven, mercy, and such,
And my limbs, what time, kept cool and cold,
Why it was just all done as high Dutch.
But he said how a farrago can't foundeer, by ye see,
Without orders that came down below,
And many fine things that proved clearly to me
That providence takes us in tow;
For says, he, do you mind me, let storms ever so oft
Take the top sails of mizzen back.
There's a sweet little cherub, that sits up aloft,
To keep watch for the life of poor Jack.

I said to Jack, for you see, she would cry,
When last we weighed anchor for sea,
What angelic minstrels and singing your eye,
Why what a damned fool you must be!
Canst you see the world wide, and there's room for all,
Both for seamen and lubbers' shore,
And if to old D.ua I should go, friend Bill,
Why you never will hear of me more:
What then all sea hazard, come don't be so soft,
Perhaps I may laugh it come back,
To dyoe see these is a chum in smiling aloft,
To keep watch for the life of poor Jack.

Dye mind me a sailor should be every inch
All as one as a piece of the ship,
And with her brave the world without offering to flounce
From the moment the anchor is a trip:
As for me, in all weather, all times, sea, and wind,
Naught is a trouble from duty, that springs,
For my heart is my Belle's, and my spine my friends,
And as for my life, 'tis the king's;
Even when my time comes, no believe me a soft
So much grief to be taken awake,
That some little chum that sits up aloft
Will look out a good birth for poor Jack.
