A MAP MADE BY LINCOLN OF A PIECE OF ROAD IN HENARD COUNTY, ILLINOIS—FIRST PUBLISHED IN MCLURE'S EARLY LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Photographed from the original for MCLURE'S EARLY LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN. This map, which, as here reproduced, is about one-half the size of the original, accompanied Lincoln's report of the survey of a part of the road between Athens and Sangamon towns. For making this map, Lincoln received fifty cents. The road evidently was located "on good ground," and was "necessary and proper," as the report says, for it is still the main travelled highway leading into the country south of Athens, Menard County.

REPORT OF A ROAD SURVEY BY LINCOLN—FIRST PUBLISHED IN MCLURE'S EARLY LIFE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Photographed from the original, now on file in the County Clerk's office, Springfield, Illinois. The survey here reported was made in pursuance of an order of the County Commissioners' Court, September 7, 1834, in which Lincoln was designated as the surveyor.
