

Chicago - April 9th - 66.

Miss Lucy A. Little.

My dear girl:

Your kind and most touching little letter, had been received & believe me, in the middle of my terrible bereavement, your expressions of sympathy, for me <sup>and</sup> my afflicted son, were most welcome. Our Heavenly Father, has afflicted you, in the deprivation of your sight, yet you are surrounded by loving friends, whose lives are passed in contributing to your comfort. My dearly beloved husband, was the light of our eyes - we never felt, notwithstanding our great love for him, so good and great <sup>as he was,</sup> that we could love him sufficiently.

P. S. Remember to your kind friends
M. A.

As you say, truly, in the midst of his happiness & rejoicing, he was called hence, to the "glorious home", prepared for all those, who truly love and serve him. here, on earth. Whilst we weep, so broken hearted, he is "rejoicing before the Throne of God & the Lamb for evermore" - To me, as you may well believe, life is all darkness, the sun is a mockery to me, in my great sorrow - My dear young friend, although unknown to me, I love you, for being able, so thoroughly to appreciate the noble character of my idolized husband - I pray, that your days, may be passed in happiness and peace, whilst I remain always,
your deeply afflicted friend
Frank Lincoln

Free - Mrs. Abraham Lincoln

Miss Lucy A. Little
West Milton
Wisconsin

MRS. LINCOLN, ACCEPTING CONDOLENCE FROM A BLIND GIRL, WRITES:

"MY DEARLY BELOVED HUSBAND WAS THE LIGHT OF OUR EYES . . . WE NEVER FELT, NOTWITHSTANDING OUR GREAT LOVE FOR HIM, SO GOOD AND GREAT AS HE WAS, THAT WE COULD LOVE HIM SUFFICIENTLY."

(APRIL 9TH, 1866)

Free - Mrs Abraham Lincoln

Miss Lucy A. Little
West Milton
Wisconsin

Free - Mrs Abraham. Luern

Miss Lucy A. Little
West Milton
Wisconsin.

Chicago - April 9th - 66.

Miss Lucy A. Little.

My dear girl:

Your kind and most touching little letter, had been received & believe me, in the midst of my terrible bereavement, your expressions of sympathy, for myself & my afflicted son, ~~was~~ <sup>are</sup> most welcome. Our Heavenly Father, has afflicted you, in the deprivation of your sight, yet you are surrounded by loving friends, whose hands are passed in contributing to your comfort. My dearly beloved husband, was the light of our eyes - we never felt, notwithstanding our great love for him, so good and great <sup>as he was,</sup> that we could ~~love~~ love him sufficiently.

As you say, truly, in the midst
of his happiness & rejoicing, he
was called hence, to the "glorious Home", prepared for all those, who
truly love and serve him, here,
on earth. Whilst we weep, so
broken hearted, he is "rejoicing
before the Throne of God & the Lamb for evermore" - To me, as
you may well believe, life is
all darkness, the sun is a
mockery to me, in my great
sorrow - My dear young friend,
although unknown to me, I love
you, for being able, so thoroughly
to appreciate the noble character
of my idolized husband - I
pray, that your days, may
be passed in happiness and
peace, whilst I remain always,
your deeply afflicted friend
Fray Lincoln

P. J. Remondet to your kind remembrance.
M. A.

Chicago - April 9th - 66.

Miss Lucy A. Little.

My dear girl:

Your kind and most touching little letter, had been received & believe me, in the midst of my terrible bereavement, your expressions of sympathy, for ~~myself~~ <sup>me</sup> & my afflicted son, ~~were~~ most welcome. Our Heavenly Father, has afflicted you, in the deprivation of your sight, yet you are surrounded by loving friends, whose lives are passed in contributing to your comfort. My dearly beloved husband, was the light of our lives - we never felt, notwithstanding our great love for him, so good and great <sup>as he was,</sup> that we could love him sufficiently.

As you say, truly, in the midst
of his happiness & rejoicing, he
was called hence, to the "glorious
home", prepared for all those, who
truly love and serve him. here,
on earth. Whilst we weep, so
broken hearted, he is "rejoicing
before the Throne of God & the Lamb for evermore" - To me, as
you may well believe, life is
all darkness, the sun is a
mockery to me, in my great
sorrow. My dear young friend,
although unknown to me, I love
you, for being able, so thoroughly
to appreciate the noble character
of my idolized husband. I
pray, that your days, may
be passed in happiness and
peace, whilst I remain always your deeply affected friend Mary Lincoln

P. J. Remondor to your kind remembrance.
M. A.

