Pittsburgh, Penna. M.S. April 14th 1862.

P. Prof. La Harpe,
General, Indy.

My dear Sir,

The chief cities of the United States are devoting their energies resources... to improve the sanitary condition of our armies in our national struggle with Rebellion.

For this end a Series of great Sanitary Fairs has been undertaken to raise the necessary funds. These fair with marvellous success.

The Citizens of Pittsburgh are now engaged in such an enterprise to relieve the sick, soldiers in the Camp and in the Hospital, by timely and suitable supplies, the cause so magnificently considered for humanity, of humanity.

Our population in this industrial City is largely composed of Europeans and the soldiers for whom we would provide by this, and many of them, natives of Britain and the Continent. Who as our adopted citizens, are fighting for the salvation of our Country.

Appreciate from your home expression of your sympathy. Now we so well known among us. Even a few words of cheer would be greatly valued. And if in addition you will please to send to me any of your published volumes, or copies of your letters, with autographs. The favor will be held in

The Fair will be held early in June.
