Life Notice.

Union Assurance Office Cornhill.

FIRE LIVES, AND ANNUITIES.

The Annual Premium for £1000 assured by your Policy No. 2509 on the Life of Geo. Berman Mattox amounting to £23. 10. 10 becomes due the 30 of Dec. 1826

I am

Your obedient and humble servant,

THOMAS LEWIS,
Secretary.

This Notice is sent in order that you may not lose the benefit of your Policy, by omitting to pay the Premium;—although the sending such Notice is not obligatory on the Company, nor can the want thereof be accepted as an excuse for non-payment.

The Policy will continue in force for Fifteen Days after it becomes due, and payment will be received during that period; but should the same remain unpaid longer than the said fifteen days, your interest therein will cease; but if, within three calendar months after the time so stipulated (the person on whose life the Assurance was made being then alive, and in good health) you shall pay the said premium, together with the additional sum of ten shillings upon every £100 assured by such Policy, then such Policy is revived, and continues in force.

No Receipts are to be taken for any Premiums of Life Insurance, but such as are printed and issued from the Office, signed by two Trustees.

Annexed are Tables for ordinary Assurances on Lives and Survivorships, for the guidance of those desirous of insuring with the Union Company.

The distinguishing principle of the UNION LIFE OFFICE is, that every Assurance made for the whole continuance of life, will participate in the profits, without the insured incurring any responsibility, or being liable for the losses of others; it being declared in the Deed of Settlement, "That a division of Profits shall be paid with the sum assured, by Policies made for the whole continuance of life, in force when such division shall be declared." This division to be calculated not from the profits of the year only in which the death may happen, but from the whole number of years each Policy has been effected, and in force when that event takes place.

The Rates for one or seven years are considerably lower (in many cases twenty per cent) than those required by other offices; and are, in every instance, of the most moderate description.

No Entrance Money, or Admission Fees, are required.

Thus important benefits, both immediate and remote, will result to persons assuring with the UNION SOCIETY, and the Directors are determined, that in all its transactions, every accommodation, consistent with security, shall be afforded.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE LEADING TRANSACTIONS TO WHICH LIFE ASSURANCE IS APPLICABLE.

It affords to the provident Husband or Father the most certain means of securing to his wife, children, or others whom he may wish to assist, such a provision, upon his death, as may save them from want and misery, which that event might otherwise occasion. Thus the great end of every honest man's solicitude (a provision for his family) is at once and easily accomplished: by appropriating a part of his yearly income to the Assurance of his Life, that desirable end is firmly secured, which years of painful anxiety—of exertion—of speculation, too often ruinous—and of privation of rational comforts, might prove insufficient to attain.

A person having a Life Income, and assigning the Policy as a collateral security, may be enabled to borrow money, who cannot raise it otherwise.

It may be serviceable in various commercial and legal transactions, particularly where large sums are lent for short periods; by assured the Life of the Debtor, for three, six, or nine months, the principal sum is permanently secured, in the event of his dying before it is paid, at a very trifling premium.

Capital advanced in the purchase of Annuities and Post-Obit Bonds, may be secured.—Fines for the renewal of leases, determinable on a life or lives, are provided for by this salutary precaution.

A Debtor who is unable immediately to satisfy the demands of his creditors, but who may have the means of liquidating the amount in a certain time, should be so long live, may, by the aid of a temporary Assurance on his Life, offer a satisfactory arrangement; or should his views fail of discharging his debts in the given time, and he or his creditors continue the Assurance, the amount will, by that means, be realized at his decease.

But to recapitulate all the instances in which Life Assurance is eligible, would be so much beyond these limits, that the following case only is added, as being worthy of peculiar attention from persons in trade, who are about to enter into the marriage state.—Suppose the lady's fortune to be £2000, which her parents or guardians wish to have settled upon her. In this case, if invested in the funds, the husband can derive no benefit from the fortune, except its annual interest. Now if the gentleman be not more than twenty-eight years of age, the premium for the assurance of £2000 on his life, will be under £50 per annum:—of course, if one half of the fortune be invested in the funds, in the names of trustees, on behalf of the lady, the interest thereon (at only five per cent.) will be sufficient to pay the yearly premium on the £2000, and thus the remaining half, may be safely left at the husband's disposal. On the event of his death, the family receive the whole amount of the lady's fortune, with whatever may have arisen upon it, and have also the £1000 which was invested as a security for the premium, independent of whatever the husband may have made of the moiety he received.—If the husband be younger, a greater proportion may be left at his disposal; if older, it must be less.

IN FIRE INSURANCE, THE PRACTICE OF THIS COMPANY HAS BEEN FOR UPWARDS OF A CENTURY, TO RETURN THE PROFITS ON POLICIES EFFECTED FOR SEVEN YEARS.

* * Annuities are granted and purchased on equitable Terms
