why there should be a distinction since all the seats were on a level and in common. The conductor said they would find out later. When they came to the foot of one of the steep hills surrounding Sheffield the conductor called out 'First class passengers keep their seats, second class passengers get out and walk, third class passengers get out and push'. Now among the thrifty Yorkshiremen only one took a first class ticket.

In the omnibus of the world at the foot of an insurmountable hill of difficulties Uncle Sam has played the part of the first class passenger, but, in the light of the hopes attending the Washington Conference and the spirit of the American Universities, I feel assured that, in a little time, Uncle Sam will also put his shoulder to the wheel and never rest until the omnibus comes to the top of the hill.

I find a pledge for the future in the Memorials, bearing their Rolls of Honour, which are being unveiled in the College halls of all our lands. Adapting the words of the King 'The College youth who have been comrades in arms will be comrades in peace'. The glory of the peace of death is reflected on the tablets. The hope of the peace of the world will be in the living companions of the dead.

To-night is All Saints' Night when, in the Breton villages, the bell ringers go about at mid night announcing the re-awakening of the dead. I cannot forget that to-night the United States'
Unknown Warrior is on his voyage and almost home, and that M.
Margenot, the Cabinet Minister, as the body left Havre said

Conferences and the spirit of the unusual universality. I feel an empty seat, in a little time these cars will also put the answer to the seat and never last until the anchor came to the goal of the hill.

I find a pledge for the future in the memorials, sensing pain

If our dead do not re-awaken this night let us re-awaken in renewed loyalty to the four great Republics, the crowned Republic of Britain, the Republique Francaise, the great Republic of the West and that greatest Republic of all, which knows no national boundaries and is as infinite as humanity and the universe, the Republic of Letters."

My dear President Judson:

I am glad to have your letter of October 31. Mr. Thompson is coming here next week to attend the Marshal Foch Convocation as a delegate representing the Union. I shall be glad to discuss with him the main question raised by your letter. To me it has always seemed that the real question of the permanence of the Union rested on financial support. If we can secure the annual donation from the Carnegie Corporation we shall be practically on an independent basis. The only thing that would force a merger with the Institute of International Education would be the lack of financial resources sufficient to maintain our own existence. I feel, therefore, that we should go ahead at once to meet the offer of the City of Paris. I suppose that it is improbable that you will be here for the Marshal Foch Convocation, but it would of course be the greatest pleasure to have you with us at that time.

Faithfully yours,

Dear Mr. Thompson,

Regarding the enclosed bill for membership of the University of Maine in the American University Union in Europe for the year 1921-22, I am sorry to be obliged to report that on account of financial embarrassment the University of Maine Treasury Department does not feel able to continue membership for the coming year.

I took this matter up with our Treasurer and also with the Executive Committee of our Board of Trustees and they have directed me to write as above.

I am writing to inform you of the recent developments regarding the American University in Europe. The university has decided to expand its academic programs and facilities in order to meet the increasing demand for higher education in this region. The expansion includes the establishment of a new campus in Paris, which will be completed by the end of the year. The campus will provide state-of-the-art facilities for students, including modern classrooms, libraries, and dormitories. A new faculty will be recruited to teach a variety of subjects, ranging from law to economics.

I hope that the expansion of the university will continue to meet the needs of its students and contribute to the intellectual growth of the region. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

To the President of the American University Union: November 8th, 1934

I write this letter to express my concern regarding the recent developments at our university. I have been apprised of the situation through various sources, and I feel it is necessary to bring this matter to your attention. As a student, I am deeply concerned with the integrity and progress of our institution.

I have noticed a decline in the quality of the courses being offered. The workload has increased significantly, and the faculty members are not providing adequate support. Students are finding it difficult to keep up with the pace, and the overall atmosphere is becoming stressful.

Moreover, there have been reports of administrative inefficiencies and financial mismanagement. The university has incurred substantial debts, and the budget is strained. This situation affects not only the financial stability of the institution but also the quality of education offered.

I urge you to take immediate action to address these issues. It is crucial that we ensure the academic and financial well-being of our university. I am willing to support any measures that will help in this regard.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I look forward to hearing your response.

Sincerely,

Dear President Judson,

Your question about M. Greber is a very natural one, but it is not an easy one to answer. With a site given by the French Government and ten million francs offered by a private donor, the scheme is pretty certain to come to something some time, but it is at present in a nebulous and distracted state, owing to conflicting interests in Paris, which are not yet reconciled. M. Greber came to this country

(1) To get information about American dormitories;

(2) To feel the way towards financial support from this country;

(3) To get moral and argumentative support for his own view.

He made a good deal of progress (1), and some with (3), but so far as I know none with (2), except some vague promises. He has gone back to France, and hopes to return here in the Spring with a more definite scheme.
Letter to President Judson from J.W.C.
November 30, 1921

Nettleton, Thompson and I gave him all the information we could about dormitories and our relations were most amicable. Obviously it would not do for us to show any hostility to the scheme, which will not, in the opinion of our Paris offices, interfere in any way with the work of the Union. But it makes it more than ever desirable that we should get on with our effort to procure increased financial support without further delay. I hope therefore that, if you still feel any embarrassment about asking for subscriptions for endowment, you will not hesitate about asking for them for a term of years, say three or five. By that time the position of the Union will be definitely assured.

I have heard nothing of any meeting of the Trustees of the Carnegie Corporation. Professor Nettleton is, however, keeping in touch with President Angell, and I am sure that our interests will not be overlooked. It may be that things are being held up owing to Mr. Root's absence in Washington.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Professor Nettleton and to the other members of the Administrative Board.

My dear Professor Cunliffe:-

Yours of the 30th of November at hand.

Thank you for the information about M. Greber.

I hardly see how we can take up anything definite in regard to the support of the Union until we hear from the Carnegie Corporation.

It seems to me quite likely that while Mr. Root is in Washington the Trustees will hardly care to take any important actions.

My dear Professor Babcock,

Mrs. Maclean and I have enjoyed your good letter of November 7th.

I am delighted to hear that you have been appointed the representative of New York University on the Board of Trustees of the Union. Your services will be invaluable. May I ask you if the Resolutions adopted at the last meeting of the Board in which "co-operation" with the Institute and so forth is used means more or less than what is used by the British Division on their letterheads "representing the American Council and the Institute". Perhaps I am unduly concerned with reference to the Union's future. While the work might be carried on by other agencies in view of the prestige of the Union in France, England and Italy, in view of its truly representative character and the confusion that even a change of name would bring and the possibilities of ultimately unifying the Universities and Colleges at home I trust you will help to get to a happy solution of the question of co-ordination which all of us are now urging. In full sympathy with the world-wide and important work of the Institute and of the Women's Federation I cannot see that it would be otherwise than to their gain and to the gain of the great purpose we all have in mind to make use of the Union in the three countries where it is established. The unique position of the Union in Britain in being in a house maintained by the British Government and the British Universities and making under one roof an International Clearing House and the very full recognition of the Union by the French Government make it seem to me perilous and with the possibility even of
November, 1937

My dear Professor Pope:

I am delighted to hear that you have been appointed as the representative of New York University on the Board of Trustees of the Union. I say I am delighted because I have been a long-time admirer of the Union, and I am certain that your appointment will be a great gain for the Union.

I hope that you will be able to make a positive contribution to the Union's affairs. Your experience and knowledge of the Institute will undoubtedly be an asset to the Board. I believe that you will be able to work closely with the Institute and make a valuable contribution to its development.

I would like to express my hope that the Union will continue to grow and prosper. I am sure that with your leadership, it will.

political misunderstanding if the Union should disappear even in a happy merger. The position of Mr. Hill of the British Universities Bureau has been that only agencies directly organized and recognized by Universities should be in this house. He is, of course, friendly to agencies allied to University causes, but not official University agencies. This principle is one feature in his not admitting the International Federation of University Women. His argument is that there are so many voluntary and friendly agencies outside the official ones that it would be difficult to discriminate, and as a matter of fact he has not house room to accommodate the prospective official agencies.

I am glad to hear that Vibbart is to marry. Mrs. MacLean thinks it is just what he needs.

Can you give us the name of Professor Hazen's nephew? The office has never been able to secure it though we have had two cables from Duggan and your letter and much correspondence. We only know that Pembroke College, Cambridge, could not take him. If I can know his name I shall be able to say whether he is at Cambridge or not.

Mrs. MacLean and I are gratified that your Mother has passed through her operation successfully and that you are hopeful that her strength will come back. Let me emphasize to you and her the need of taking at least a year for absolute rest in order to recover from the nervous shock of the operation. I speak from experience.

With kindest regards to you all,

Poltergust McWeanergast's letter to Professor P. P. Procopock, 3rd November, 19XX.

Dear Professor Procopock,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent changes in the university's policy on student conduct. The recent incident involving the unauthorized entry into the dormitory has raised serious questions about the security and safety of our students.

As you know, the university prides itself on providing a safe and secure environment for its students. However, recent events suggest that this may not be the case. The unauthorized entry into the dormitory raises concerns about the effectiveness of our security measures.

I urge you to take immediate action to ensure the safety and security of our students. I recommend that additional security measures be implemented, such as increased patrols and the installation of surveillance cameras.

Total in corporate and department reports for the year 1929.
II. Round Table Conference.

A Round Table Conference was held on December 9th and attended by some sixty professors and students and led by Dr. P.S. Boas, a member of the Government Committee, of which Sir Henry Newbolt was Chairman, on The Teaching of English. Sir Israel Gollancz, Professor Stoll, and the Director joined in the discussion of this epochal making report which would put on a level with the old humanism the new humanism with English as its core. The Conference was a great success and Mr. Holme for "The New York Times" sent a report of it as a special article for the Sunday edition.

III. The Interchange Committee.

A meeting of the Interchange Committee was held on December 16th.

The following reports were laid before the Committee: Dr. Capen's report on scholarships, the report of the British Federation of University Women on their successful matinees which raised about five hundred pounds and which enables them to offer a three hundred pounds scholarship for the ensuing year and the first annual report of the Commission for the Relief in Belgium Scholarship Fund. Twenty two Americans were in Belgium last year on this foundation and free ocean passage had been secured for them. The Commission, upon the request of M. Sand, agreed that Belgians might come to England as well as to America and three Belgians are now in Great Britain, two in the Physiological Laboratory, University of London and one from the Ecole Polytechnique accepted by the Commission. A scheme has been adopted by which professors from Belgium may be transported to England and their fees paid.

The Interchange Committee advised the Universities Bureau to continue printing lists of foreign students in the Islands as was done last year. Last year there were some four thousand nine hundred such students and this year the number will exceed five thousand.

The case of Mr. N. Glanville, the South African student who was deported by the Immigration authorities when he was returning to his College at Springfield, Mass., was referred to and the correspondence upon this subject laid before the Committee. They expressed the hope that the practice of sending British professors and students for a certificate from the office of the Union which certificates thus far have been recognized by the immigration authorities might continue until the proper amendments are made to the immigration laws or an interpretation that students would come under the clause "persons visiting the United States for business or pleasure".

The Universities Bureau reported steps that were being taken to co-ordinate pensions schemes overseas and in the United States and correspondence with the Carnegie Foundation.

The discussion was vigorously renewed upon the topic taken up at the last meeting: How to make the Interchange Committee more effective. The subject was referred to the meeting of the Vice-Chancellors and the Bureau was authorized to enter into correspondence with reference to the reconstruction of the Committee and to make it more effective.

In an interview, after the meeting of the Interchange Committee, with Dr. A.N. Walker, the representative of the University of Oxford and a member of the Pembroke Council, the Director learned that the Council was considering the appointment of someone at Oxford with functions somewhat similar to those performed by Sir Geoffrey Butler at Cambridge, an agent to deal with the Colleges with reference to student applicants for admission and to follow up with advice the applicants introduced through this office.

IV. AFFILIATION OF AMERICAN COLLEGES AT CAMBRIDGE.

Last year eleven American Colleges, through the mediation of this office, secured the privilege of affiliation at Cambridge. The President of Dartmouth College has made application, through this office, for the extension of affiliation to that College. Action is still pending, but favourable action is looked for.

V. THE PROPOSED ANGLO-AMERICAN CONFERENCE OF TEACHERS OF ENGLISH AT COLUMBIA, 1925.

Sir Sidney Lee, as Chairman of the English Committee appointed by the Anglo-American Conference of Professors of English at the University of London in 1920, asked the Director to sit with their Committee, they being much gratified with the communication from President Butler that the Committee on the American side were ready to go forward with the plans.
VI. THE BRITISH COUNCIL ON THE INTERCHANGE OF PREACHERS AND SPEAKERS.

This Council, of which the Director is a member as representing the English-Speaking Union, now meets at this office. The Council, in correspondence with Dr. Henry Atkinson, the General Secretary of the Church Peace Union, has perfected plans for the exchange for seven weeks of the Rev. Dr. Jefferson of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, and the Rev. F. F. Norwood of the City Temple, London, to begin on May 7th. The Union has no official relations except that the Director is a member of the Council and helps to coordinate this work by relating the University men like Dr. Jefferson, a member of the corporation of Yale, to some of the British Universities.

VII. THE VISIT OF MR. ALBERT KANSBRIDGE TO THE U.S.A.

Mr. Kansbridge has counselled with the Director as regards the Lowell lectures on the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge and his desire to give some other lectures has been conveyed with details to the Institute of International Education.

VIII. MEDICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

The Director has been re-elected a member of the Council of the Fellowship of Medicine and Post-Graduate Medical Association. The enquiries from American physicians for post-graduate work are increasing and are handled satisfactorily by the close co-operation of the Fellowship with this office.

Medical Reciprocity Effectuated.

In 1919 a specially appointed Committee of the National Board of Medical Examiners in the United States sought advice from the office of the Union and were introduced to the proper authorities in England with the purpose of securing reciprocity between the Medical Boards in England and in the United States. At an Annual Meeting of the National Board of Medical Examiners in Boston, June 13th, 1921, a resolution was passed (see enclosure) as a result of this visit. The Circular of Information, Bulletin, No. 3, September 1st, 1921, of the National Board of Medical Examiners of the United States reports as follows:

"During the past five years the Board has made such progress that it is now quite generally recognized, not only throughout this country, but also in Europe. At the present time its certificate is accepted by the United States Army, Navy and Public Services, as a qualification for admission to the Medical Corps of each of these services; the State Boards of Medical Examiners of twenty states are accepting its findings in lieu of their own examinations, and the Conjoint Examining Board of England, as well as the Triple Qualification Board of Scotland, admit licentiates of the National Board to their final or clinical examinations. In eleven other states the Board's certificate will be accepted as soon as certain legal technicalities can be removed."

IX. PUBLIC FUNCTIONS.

1. The distinguished professor and man of letters M. Emile Cammaerts of the Anglo-Belgian Union gave a lecture on "Literature in Internationalism" before the Royal Society of Arts with Baron Monceur, the Belgian Ambassador, in the Chair. The Director was invited to lead the discussion.

2. The Director represented the Union at a Luncheon given by the American Luncheon Club in London to the Lord Chancellor, Lord Birkenhead, at which the American Ambassador presided.

3. The Director and Mrs. Maclean were invited to be the host and hostess at an English-Speaking Union Christmas Dance given to the University men and women of the Union.

4. Dr. Henry Van Dyke was a guest at a luncheon at the American Club given by Mr. Tweedy, as Chairman of the Advisory Council, and the Director.

X. OFFICE.

The office enjoyed the all too brief visit from Miss Bernice Sanborn of the International Relations' Clubs of the Institute who was introduced to the Royal Colonial Institute.

Miss Edwards left on December 31st, but has consented to return on February 1st to serve until June. Miss Agnes Magner, B.Sc. of the University of London, is taking Miss Kellersh's place while Miss Kellersh takes Miss Edwards' place. It is desirable that before June some permanent
The situation arising out of the recent changes in the country's economic status has led to a re-evaluation of the existing educational system. It has been decided to introduce a new curriculum that will focus on practical, hands-on training in various fields. This will ensure a better preparation of the youth for the challenges they will face in the future. The curriculum will be implemented in all educational institutions, starting from the primary level. It is hoped that this initiative will help in producing a workforce that is better equipped to meet the needs of the country.

BRIEF FOR THE BUDGET
OF 1921-22

I. REDUCTIONS AND INCREASES IN THE LIGHT OF EXPERIENCE.

The Comparative Table of the Budgets for the two years will show, as the result of experience, reductions in four items and a requested increase in four other items. The total increase is due to the increased cost in prices of stamps, printing, telephone, gas and electricity, but principally to the development of the demands made upon the office. The chief increase is in the pay roll for added help.

15. SEVERABILITY

If any provision of this contract is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

16. SIGNATURES

This contract is signed by the authorized representatives of both parties.
It will be noted that the correspondence has increased 50%. The nearly 30% increase of cases handled which might be reckoned the most difficult and valuable tangible service of the office is encouraging and accounts for much time and correspondence.

III. GROWTH IN OFFICE WORK.

The work of the office at the beginning of the year 1920-21 was classified in eleven departments, which were:

1. Reception of and Interview with Callers.
2. Registration.
3. Library.
4. Post and Telephone.
5. Treasurer and Accounts.
6. Purchasing.
7. Teas.
8. Lodging and Boarding House List.
9. Correspondence.
10. Filing and Office Routine.
11. Handling Cases.

The demands made upon all these departments, as indicated in the figures under II, might alone justify the increase asked. To illustrate under 4 a hundred pieces of second class mail were handled for one individual alone.

In addition to the eleven heads enumerated the following practically new activities have been organized:

12. Hospitality Scheme. Many appreciations have been received of the Hospitality Scheme under which the Women's Advisory Committee has opened British homes. In the Christmas vacation the final list of acceptances totalled one hundred Professors and students, and at least twenty-two hosts and hostesses sent out invitations. About 150 acts of hospitality were reported to this office, and further invitations, not reported, which followed the first visits, would increase this total considerably. At Christmas time an especial effort was made to find hospitality and entertainment for every student who was not otherwise provided for, and, as far as we know, no student spent a cheerless Christmas. In the Easter vacation there were thirty-six invitations for a week-end or longer. In a few cases the arrangements fell through owing to change of plans. The ladies are now negotiating plans by which the Ladies' Committee on Hospitality of the English-Speaking Union, the Reunion of British War Missions to the United States, which offers hospitality, the Hospitality Committee of the American Club at Oxford and the Young Wives' Fellowship will be co-ordinated. This entails a great amount of work in the office. The Director asked the Advisory Council if this new work might be cut off in order to decrease the demands of the Budget. The Council set such a value upon this work that they unanimously urged its continuance and enlargement.

14. Reading Tickets for the British Museum. Although casually from the beginning Reading Tickets, by the courtesy of Sir Frederic Kenyon, the Director of the British Museum, had been issued upon the recommendation of the office it became necessary, through a misadventure upon the part of one of our members, to instruct applicants as to the regulations of the Reading Room and to have them register for it. Since November 30th, 1920, we have recommended thirty seven persons to be given Reading Tickets for the British Museum.

15. Secretarial Work for Committee Meetings.

16. Arrangements for Monthly Round Table Conferences.
    One of the most important of the new activities this year was the organization of the 'London Scholars' Group of the Union and the conduct of Monthly Round Table Conferences led by such men as Lord Bryce, Sir Gregory Foster, Principal Barker, Mr. Davis, the Ambassador, and Dr. John Finley and one pending to be led by Lord Grey of Fallodon.

IV. NO DEFICITS IN PAST BUDGETS.

It will be observed that with great scrupulosity in the past the office has never made any deficits in the actual Budgets. This has been due not only to the care in making the Budgets but to the determination to cut our garments according to our cloth.
In accordance with the above principal the present Budget has been made and can only be reduced by cutting off some sections of the work and thus impairing the efficiency of all.

V. JUSTIFICATION OF THE INCREASE IN THE PAY ROLL.

Last year the Director and the Advisory Council asked for £1,000 additional to the pay roll of the previous year in order to have a part time American Academic Secretary in the office and to have an amount which might be named a scholarship for some American teacher or student at Oxford to be the agent of the office there. The Trustees felt obliged to deny this request. The increase in the work of the office mentioned above and the increase in the number of American students, not Rhodes scholars, at Oxford and the need of an agent at Oxford to which Professor Lee of Oxford, former Dean of the Law School at MacGill University has drawn the attention of the Director and to which reference has been made in the Director’s Monthly Report of February have confirmed the correctness of the request made last year and increased the demand for the granting of it this year. Miss Edwards and Miss Mellersh, who have been devoted to the work of the office and have not spared themselves as to overtime, cannot be asked to do more. They must have a helper, either an expert on part time or a young clerk. If this help is not given it will be imperative to cut off some branches of our present services like hospitality. To meet the above necessities as they seem to the Advisory Council and me the estimated Budget requests £1,360 addition to the pay roll. As much as we hope to have a surplus of about £400 on this year's Budget, which might be applied toward this increase, the actual addition would be £960. The items are:

1. Advance from September 1st of £2 per month to Miss Edwards and to Miss Mellersh respectively, and
2. The remainder for the three assistants just mentioned.

VI. WORK POSTPONED.

In the Monthly Reports the Director has queried the Secretary and the Administrative Board if they approved his suggestion of sending circular letters to the Deans and Heads of Departments especially interested in the opportunities for graduate study in the British Isles—e.g., Departments of English, History, Medicine and so forth. The Board was also asked if some special services ought not to be rendered to the subscribing members of the Union in the way of brief reports of educational news, somewhat after the fashion of consular reports.
In accordance with the above provisions the management of the firm, after careful study of the financial position and the future prospects of the enterprise, are of opinion that the proposed course of action is justified and advisable. The firm believes that this course of action will lead to the stabilization of the company and to the realization of its full potential.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]
The Director was asked by one or two publications like the American-Canadian to send accounts of the work of the Union and the Advisory Council strongly urged that such accounts be sent to the Alumni and Student Publications of the subscribing Universities.

Despite the Director's desire to do these things his time and that of the Force have not yet permitted him to do them.

VII. CONCLUSION.

In conclusion the increasing number of American Professors doing research work and of graduate students registered in the Universities in the British Isles indicate that the British Division has to meet growing demands, not only to satisfy the American University constituency and to meet the British Universities in the facilities they are augmenting for Americans, but to further the English-Speaking Union of the two peoples. At the present moment there are approximately 350 to 370 American students registered in the Universities of the British Isles and about twenty to twenty-five professors and graduate students doing research work in London especially.

No mention has been made of the general recognition of the office as the American University centre by which it is called up by telephone and communicated with by letter from all sorts of educational interests. What might be denominated the diplomatic correspondence in questions referred to it by the British Board of Education and other agencies require investigation and deliberation.

The calls upon the office as a quasi American University Embassy and Consulate cause me to desire the opinion of the Board as to how far we are to go in serving incidentally as a Teachers' Bureau, a Lecture Bureau, an Employment Bureau for College people as teachers for families, in business posts and secretarial positions—Also how far should we go in the service of the Institute of International Education which covers the whole field of Education outside the University sphere?

IV. THE DIRECTOR'S VISIT TO THE PARIS OFFICE.

In view of the engagements already made for the Director up to the end of July there seemed to be no better clear time for the annual visit of the Director to the Paris office than the Easter holidays. The Director therefore went to Paris on the day before Good Friday and returned on the 30th of March. Dr. Beecock was absent on a tour among the Southern French Universities, but Dr. Krans, the Assistant Director of the French Office, had satisfactory conferences with the Director among others with reference to the following subjects:

1. Interchange of students.
2. Congress of the Universities of the Empire.
3. Registration Blanks.
4. Cards of Introduction.
5. Equivalence of Degrees.
6. Membership Cards.
7. Special privileges for members.

The Director was presented with copies of the communications of the Paris Office of February 26th to the Presidents of the subscribing Universities, the report of the Continental Division to member institutions, February 26th, and copies of letters from American Professors to the Secretary of the Trustees regarding the Continental Division. The Director of the British Division wishes to express his cordial agreement with the sentiments expressed in the sheaf of letters from American Professors to the Secretary. The work of the Paris Office is of great and increasing importance.

The Director called upon the Acting Librarian, Mr. Carleton, of the American Library Association. Mr. Carleton was formerly of the John Crerà Library at Chicago and a professor at Trinity College, Hartford. Mr. Carleton commended the work of the Continental Division and desired the closest possible co-operation between the Library and the Union. Since the Library is now in the hands of a corporation in Paris, who wish the Library to be of general use and therefore situated, for the convenience of the public, in the centre of the city rather than across the river in the Latin Quarter, he thought this would militate against the original proposal to have the Library housed in the Union's building, which certainly ought to be on the plot offered by the Municipality to the Union. He intimated that it would be well if the patrons of American and Franco-American enterprises in Paris should know of the great need for the co-ordination, if not amalgamation, of the various enterprises in Paris now appealing for funds to their patrons in the States.

The Director did not call at the office of the College des Etats Unis, which is now housed on the third story of the same building with the Library of the American Library Association. The students at Oxford are still circularized by this College and report that a guinea's registration fee is required and hospitality in French homes is found. The British Board of Education has recently made an enquiry of this office concerning the College des Etats Unis, saying that Indian students were inquiring about it who had been informed it was the agency through which to seek privileges in French institutions.

V. PUBLIC FUNCTIONS.

A group of farewell functions to the popular retiring American Ambassador and Mrs. John W. Davis succeeded the Farewell Tea given by the Union and reported last month. Among those attended by the Director were:

1. The English-Speaking Union's Farewell Luncheon at the Hyde Park Hotel.
2. The Luncheon by the American Luncheon Club at the Savoy.
3. A brilliant reception attended by some five hundred of the most distinguished people in London and representatives from Oxford and Cambridge given by Lady Astor.

Other functions attended and worthy of note were:

1. A Meeting of the National Peace Council and the British Council on the Interchange of Preachers and Speakers to meet and hear Dr. Atkinson of the American Church Peace Union.
2. A Luncheon given by the American Luncheon Club at the Savoy to Lord Robert Cecil and Mr. Fred H. Smith of New York, a delegate from the Federal Council of Churches on his way to the general council at Geneva.
3. A Meeting presided over by the Bishop of London at the Church House and an address by Mr. Smith.
4. A dinner given by the University of London, under the auspices of the Vice-Chancellor, the Principal and Dean.
in order to maintain its efficiency and effectiveness. It is essential that the College's administration and faculty work together to ensure that the College's academic programs are of the highest quality. The College's Board of Trustees, faculty, and administration must work in harmony to achieve this goal.

V. COLLEGE GOVERNANCE

A. Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees is the governing body of the College. It is composed of representatives from the College's constituent groups, including students, faculty, and alumni. The Board's primary responsibilities include:

1. Setting and reviewing the College's budget and financial policies
2. Approving the College's academic programs and curricula
3. Overseeing the College's administrative operations
4. Selecting the College's president and other senior administrators
5. Ensuring the College's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements

The Board meets regularly throughout the year to discuss and approve important decisions affecting the College's operations. It is the responsibility of the Board to ensure that the College is meeting its educational goals and providing a quality education to its students.

2. Another address was given before the Whitefriars Club, where the Public Orator of Cambridge, Dr. Glover, and the Director were guests of honour, upon the subject of "Democracy: Athenian or American".

VII. LECTURES BY AMERICAN PROFESSORS IN BRITISH COLLEGES.

Professor W. A. Morris of the University of California has completed, with success, a course of six research lectures at King's College in the University of London on the Angevin Kings and Officers of the Court and King John.

He also gave three lectures on the following subjects at Westfield College:

1. The Work of the Sheriff in the Middle Ages.
2. The Development of the King's Peace.
3. The Significance of Magna Carta.

VIII. RECOMMENDATIONS.

1. The Secretary is requested to bring to the attention of the Trustees of the Administrative Board the recommendations of the Advisory Council (see Section II 2).

2. The Secretary is asked to note the points in the interview with Miss Burrows, the new Principal of the Society of Oxford Home Students, reported in the covering letter and that only in exceptional circumstances hereafter can cases of candidates for admission this year to the Society of Home Students be considered.

3. The period for the consideration of candidates, men and women, for the Colleges at Oxford and Cambridge is expiring. The confidential reservations made by the Colleges cannot be kept beyond the end of June.

IX. BRITISH STUDENTS FOR U.S.A.

The success of the experiment of the Imperial College of Science and Technology with the four scholars, sent through the Union this year to the U.S., has persuaded a leader in industry to make a donation to the College to enable another four graduates to spend a year in post-graduate study at American Universities or in works.

X. ROYAL COLLEGES OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS AND THE NATIONAL BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS OF THE U.S.A.

Previous reports have referred to the services of the Union in introducing a delegation of Americans who, representing the National Board of Medical Examiners, came to Great Britain to secure some degree of reciprocity and the return visit of a British delegation to the States. I now have the following official communication from the Secretary, Mr. Frederic G. Hallatt, O.B.E., of the Examination Hall of the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons.

"I write to inform you that the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons have now adopted the following resolution with regard to the National Board of Medical Examiners of the United States of America, namely - 'That the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons will accept the certificate of the National Board of Medical Examiners of the United States of America as entitling a candidate to be admitted to the Final Examination of the Board, provided that he produces satisfactory evidence that the whole of his professional studies have been taken in the Medical Department of Institutions recognized by the Royal Colleges.'"

XI. OFFICE.

1. The increasing number of American and British candidates for interchange is consuming the time of the Director.

2. Dr. J.H. Finley has prolonged his visit in London and has made some use of the office.

3. Professor Schuyler of Columbia University has arrived with his family and is being introduced preparatory to his lectures at the London School of Economics and in Cambridge.
The success of the experiment at the Imperial College of Science and Technology with the plan of training a teacher in the Union field leads us to make a generous offer to the College to enable professors to make a greater number of American Universities to support the National College of Physics and Engineering.

Net increase: £1305
Notes on Financial Statement and Estimated Budget (1921-22)

1. All amounts have been calculated at the normal rate of exchange, viz., £1 equals $5.

2. Experience indicates that, with care, decreases in the gable items of $25, the Entertainment Fund of $75, the Office Fees of $10 and Travelling Expenses of $100 (total $210) may be made.

3. In the light of experience and increased business and prices, the increases asked are as follows:
   Incidental $30: Pay Roll - i.e. increase of Assistant Secretary’s pay from £18 per month to £20 and the Clerk’s pay from £15 to £16. Advances well earned and in accordance with the British custom of an annual advance where there is complete satisfaction. The additional sum of $1120 is asked for additional necessary help (see Brief of Budget V.). To the total for the Staff (with the additional helpers) of $3300 is to be added the $3000 for the Director, which hardly makes good his out-of-pocket expenses, and would be, in his opinion, inadequate for a person not circumspect as he is. The last sentence is not meant to imply that the Director desires any increase in his salary, for what he needs is additional help.

4. The continuation of $100 appropriation for Office Equipment is necessary because of our outgrown files and need of pigeon-holes and so forth.
