want to hear preachers as well as to preach myself.

The honorarium you name $1200 is ample and sufficient.

Any further details about my visit can be matters of future correspondence. Meanwhile,

Yours

A. B. Bruce

Dear President Harper,

Yours very sincerely,

A. B. Bruce

Dear President Harper,

I feel I must respond to your earnest request to go to Chicago next year.

If spared I will do my part, as my early father used to say. And I think I can make a tour in the visit. Last year I was burdened with a big task in prospect which was to occupy me for two years. I feared not to mention the thought of a visit of America. Since then the task is not only lessen but steadily advancing so I can calculate just what...
Time it will require and the burden is well off my mind. I am always miserable before I begin any new big job. I can give you six weeks beginning all middle of Aug., going on to 1st of October. I must have as soon thereafter as possible, as our College session thereafter is to open 2 weeks sooner than heart's fire all middle of October. It will probably be my turn to give the opening address. I have two courses of lectures that I think desirable for you, one of 5 lectures in Agnosticism, another of 7 lectures on the Historical Foundations of the Faith, their trustworthiness or their permanent religious value. The latter course I am now delivering to a class of ministers in Glasgow (50 or thereby) by request. The course has just been completed this autumn. There is no report on the papers, so they will be quite fresh. I shall be happy to preach in Chicago. It will be prudent to keep preaching engagements to one or any one Sunday, especially in your climate. One sermon does not take it only one, two rather does. I think My dear Prof. Bruce:-

I come to you once more. We should like to have you come to the University from the middle of August to the first of October and spend with us six weeks. We should be pleased if you could consent to give a course of lectures during this period, four hours a week. My idea would be that you would take two days to each of the twelve subjects which you suggested in our recent correspondence, treating them quite informally. If you prefer, we should be glad to make an arrangement for you to come three weeks and carry out the programme that was proposed in the spring. I should like to have the arrangement include a few Sundays preaching in the pulpits of some of our largest churches, for our friends are very anxious to hear you. If you could spend the six weeks with us I think you would have a very pleasant time indeed. We shall be glad to make whatever financial arrangement would be satisfactory to you shall I say $1200.?

Sincerely hoping that you will consent to this arrangement and allow me to announce it at once,

I remain

Yours very truly,

W. R. Harper
I want to say good bye and tell you how much I enjoyed meeting you and hope to see you again soon.

I need to return to the University from the Middle of October and stay with my family until the first of October so I must postpone my visit for a time. I hope you will be able to come and see me at some time during your stay in Cairo. If you are coming, I would be very pleased to see you.

I hope to write you personally and give you all the details about my trip and how I enjoyed meeting you. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

April 21, 1935.
My dear Sir:

May I beg leave to call your attention to the fact that the University of Chicago offers among its regular courses of lectures for the Summer Quarter of 1895, two courses by Professor Alexander Balmain Bruce, D.D. of Free Church College, Glasgow, and two courses by Professor Caspar Rene Gregory Ph.D., Theol. D., L L.D. of the University of Leipzig.

The titles and dates of these courses are as follows:

Professor Bruce.

Professor Gregory.

Neither of these scholars needs any introduction to the theological teachers of this country. Prof. Bruce's valuable contributions to modern theological literature have made his name widely known and as widely honored on both sides of the water. Professor Gregory is a scholar of whom all Americans are proud because of the distinguished honor which his scholarship has won for him in Europe.

The above courses are open for registration by regularly matriculated students of the University either in the Divinity School or the Graduate Divinity School. Any theological instructor whose engagements do not permit him to pursue the em course regularly in this way will be welcome to attend the lectures for a few days.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Sir,

N.B. If you desire a Circular of Information of the Divinity School, a programme of the Biblical departments, or a special circular of the courses for the Summer Quarter, please write to the University examiner, referring to this letter.
