Mr. H. Herbert
Hewitt Trust and Savings Bank
Office.
September 1, 1916.

Dear President Judson:—

I am sending to you, under separate cover, a copy of the pamphlet which we have prepared regarding The Chicago Community Trust, a fund for local charity established by resolution of the Board of Directors of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank May 12, 1915. The members of the Committee referred to on page 12 are:—

Judge C. S. Cutting
Clifford W. Barnes
Abel Davis
C. H. Markham
B. A. Eckhart

Mr. Albert W. Harris, President of this Bank, has contributed the sum of $100,000 to this Trust and the late Mr. N. W. Harris the sum of $75,000, and Mrs. N. W. Harris the sum of $25,000, and I may say in confidence that it is quite likely that about half a million dollars more will be turned into this fund very soon by the Harris family. You see, therefore, that the Trust has already made quite a respectable beginning.

It has been our thought that it would be advantageous to employ a secretary on full time to further the interests of this Foundation. The thought is that we should have a man of broad experience, of ability, and of pleasing personality, who would be able to interest others in giving or leaving funds to this Trust, and who would be able to develop the work along the lines indicated.
September 1st, 1966

Dear President Jackson:

I am sending to you, which separate cover, a copy of the paper which we have prepared regarding the Chicago Community Trust's request for local assistance to be allocated by the Association of the Board of Directors of the Illinois Trust.

and Savings Bank May 15, 1966. The members of the Committee were able to see page 16 and

Judge C. A. Garrett

Affidavit W. Stans

C. N. Martin

R. A. Garrett

Mr. A. Garret, President of the Bank, and some of the men of 100,000 to 150,000. Mr. W. Stans was the first man to write the report and the letters. Mr. W. Stans was the same man who in May 1966 was in China writing a letter to President Jackson. You can see very soon why this letter was written.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. A. Garrett

During the period of July

15th to the date of this letter, we have not heard any word of the above.

Yours truly,

in the pamphlet which I am sending to you. Such a Secretary, of course, should be a man who would feel called to this work for the sake of the work itself rather than for financial considerations, although as to the latter, it is the intention to suitably remunerate the right person.

It has occurred to me that you might possibly know of one or two men who might desire such a position and who are qualified to make a success of the work. Any information that you might be willing to give us regarding a candidate will be accepted in confidence and we will investigate the applicant ourselves.

If you can be of any assistance to us in this matter, we will be greatly indebted.

Yours very truly,

in the department of science and engineering, I am endeavoring to study a textbook of commerce. I know you may wonder if you will ever feel sufficiently satisfied to find the value of the work helpful for your own interest. It is the intention of myself to satisfy the interest to be the right person.

Remunerate the right person.

If you can accommodate me that you might possibly find it one of two men who might be interested in a position now and the situation of a position now might be suitable for me. I am willing to consider the possibility of it. We will transact the matter.

Please an answer.

Yours very truly,
