The Recent Change

In June, 1913, after a full discussion by all the Alumni and the active Chapter present at the convention held in that month, it was determined that the Society was not accomplishing what it might if certain changes should be made in its customs. It had received a good deal of criticism that seemed to be just, but which went only to the forms rather than to the spirit and ideals of the organization. It was therefore determined to be best to abolish the secrecy of the organization, to publish its membership and to make known its ideals and purposes, and the results of the past year have amply justified the course taken. For the reasons given above the following statement was published in the Daily Maroon in June of 1913, signed by all the living members of the Society:

"The Society of Owl and Serpent of the University of Chicago was organized in 1896 by nine men of the Senior Class with a purpose, as follows:

'To furnish an organization, election to which shall be deemed an honorary recognition of a man's ability and loyalty as shown throughout his university career; to promote in the best manner the student interests in the university; to furnish a means for strengthening the bonds of fellowship among the leading men of the undergraduate body, and to maintain these bonds throughout life.'

Through the seventeen years since its beginning the aim of the Society has been to serve the whole university in the best possible way. Its members have no interest as individuals which are not subordinated to the general good of the University and the student body. It has always endeavored to include in its active membership a number of men of the Senior Class who have been notably loyal and successful in scholarship or in the several forms of student activities during their university career, in the belief that by cooperation of the men of high standards of the Senior Class, men who have attained this standing by several years of creditable university life, much may be accomplished for the University.

The Society has always believed that election to its membership is not so much a recognition of what a man has done as an opportunity for increased loyalty and service. In its elections all considerations of any affiliations of those elected or of any qualification other than those of the individual himself have been avoided. Its roll of membership is its warrant of good faith.

The time has come when the Society may make this statement of its purposes and ideals without presumption and the secrecy which has been practiced from the beginning as to its aims and membership is therefore now abandoned. To the end of making these things known to all the members of the University this statement is made and signed by all the members of the Society of the Owl and Serpent now living."

For the reasons given above the following statement was published in the Daily Monitor in June of 1913, signed by all the living members of the Society:

The Society of Old and Young of the University of Chicago was organized in 1895 by nine men of the Senior Class with a purpose to furnish an organization, elective which shall be devoted to the study of the history, literature and life of the University, to furnish a means for strengthening the bonds of fellowship among the leading men of the undergraduate body, and to maintain these bonds throughout the life.

Through the seventeen years since its beginning the aim of the Society has been to serve the whole University in the best possible way. The time has come when the Society may make this statement of its purposes and ideals without recognition and the secrecy which has been exercised from its beginning as to its aims and membership a thing for the past. The end of making these things known to all the members of the University, this statement is made and signed by all the members of the Society of the Old and Young now living.

From

November 24, 1915.

My dear President Judson:

Some time since you appointed a committee consisting of Dean Marshall, Professor Robertson and myself, with the request that we make a recommendation regarding the desire of the senior men's society for a permanent University room.

Your committee has conferred and decided to recommend that this request be refused on the ground that the University cannot with propriety accord special privileges to small exclusive groups of students, that such action would be prejudicial to the reasonable interests of other students not members of such organizations, and that in the interests of a thoroughly democratic administration of our facilities such a course is inadvisable.

Although outside its specific jurisdiction, the committee begs leave also to recommend to your favorable consideration the issuing of notice to such houses as Washington House, Lincoln House, and Spellman House, that after a certain date (perhaps October 1st, 1917) the University will expect them to find permanent quarters outside its buildings. These houses were originally established as luncheon clubs and were supposed to furnish students living in the city with facilities similar in character to those offered by the dormitories for students living on our grounds. In point of fact, so far as the committee can discover, these organizations have now become almost purely social clubs, substantially exclusive in character, and therefore in the judgment of the committee ought not to be permanently housed in University buildings.

Yours very truly,

Mr. Harry Pratt Judson, President,

Dear Sir:

The Senior Society of the "Owl and Serpent" of The University of Chicago was organized for the purpose of serving the best interests of the University of Chicago.

The Society has been maintained and supported by its alumni since its inception for that reason and for no other.

The members of the Senior Society feel and always have felt that the Society can best serve this purpose by having a permanent, private meeting place upon the Campus. Through the courtesy of the President of the University, this desire has at different times been gratified, although there is no such arrangement at the present time.

The Society feels that it has been of real service to the University and that most of the actions emanating from the student body for the welfare of the University have been the result either of public or private action of this Society.

The Society, therefore, feels justified in asking that the University make some provision for its housing. Experience in the past would show that the second floor of Mitchell Tower would be an entirely appropriate place.

The following undersigned members of the Society, therefore, request the President of the University, and if he considers advisable, through him petition ^{the} Board of Trustees to grant them the permanent, private use of this room as soon as practicable; and until same is practicable the use of some other place to be agreed upon.

The Society, therefore, feels justified in asking that the University make some provision for its housing. Experience in the past would show that the second floor of Mitchell Tower would be an entirely appropriate place. The following undersigned members of the Society, therefore, request the President of the University, and if he considers advisable, through his petition to the Board of Trustees to grant them the permanent, private use of this room as soon as

We consider our request of utmost importance for the fullest efficiency of the Society, which principle has been discussed and fully recognized by its members throughout the whole history of the Society. The following available members herewith attach their names as representative of the enthusiastic desire of the entire body. We also append herewith a complete list of our alumni enrollment.

Dear Dr. Judson:-

The University of Chicago Senior Society - "The Owl and Serpent", is very anxious to obtain a permanent meeting place on the campus.

As chairman of a committee for selecting such a meeting place, I am sending enclosed an application from the society, for the room on the second floor of Mitchell Tower, which we hope will receive your favorable consideration.

We would greatly appreciate an appointment with you during the next few weeks, either downtown or on the campus - at your convenience, to discuss this matter further.

We are certain that if you are made acquainted with the purpose of our society and its service to the University you will be glad to cooperate with us.

Very truly yours

Dr Harry Pratt Judson - President
The University of Chicago

Dear Mr. Quantrell:-

Your note of the 8th inst. with enclosed petition is received. Of course I shall be glad to do anything I can for the Society. At the same time you know the difficulties. The main difficulty seems to be the question as to the advisability of assigning quarters to one society, not public in character, being a privilege which cannot be extended to others. The matter, however, will receive careful attention.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Quantrell:-

The request from the Senior Society of the "Owl and Serpent" signed by yourself and other members has been duly received. I wish that we could see our way to help you. The room to which you refer, however, it would hardly do to set aside in this way, for a variety of reasons. I have met also in attempts to find a suitable place for the Society always the objection that to assign one of the University rooms to an organization of limited membership would be regarded as unduly granting favors to one such organization while we cannot grant such favors to others. I wish we had larger facilities for student organizations of various kinds, and I fully appreciate the character and purposes of the particular organization in question. After careful consideration and consultation with others, however, I regret that I cannot see my way to helping you just now.

With best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Quantrell:-

This is by way simply of a preliminary report in the matter which we discussed the other day at the Union League Club. I have been over the grandstand personally, and find that there is nothing there practicable. The room which I had in mind is altogether too small for your purposes, besides its being of an awkward shape. The question of heat and light need not give any difficulty, but I am sure that the other matters make it impracticable to use it. The rooms in the Mitchell Tower are in full use, and it would not be expedient for the University to turn out any who are there. I infer that the alumni are not likely to take over the house which I suggested. If they should it seems to me not at all impracticable for your society to make an arrangement there. Dear Dr. Judson:

I wish to thank you for your letter of April 24th relative to the matter of obtaining permanent quarters for the "Owl and Serpent" on the Campus. Regarding the room in the tower of the grand stand, do you think we could have any assurance of obtaining this location provided we found it practical? It might be that we could make use of that room but before we have any estimate made as to the cost of finishing it we would like to know whether or not we could obtain this location for a period of ten years or so.

Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of a reply, I am

Dear Mr. Quantrell:-

Your favor of the 26th inst. is received. I am just leaving this morning for Washington, and when I return early next week will take up with the University Council the question of the possibility of a long tenure. What may be practicable in the way of a specific lease I hardly know, but on the other hand I have not the slightest doubt that your tenure could be arranged to your satisfaction. The room struck me as rather small, to say nothing of the shape.

Dear Doctor Judson:

Since writing you last relative to a permanent room for the "Owl & Serpent", a new location has been suggested. What would be the chances of our obtaining the third floor of Mitchell Tower?

At present, according to my understanding, this room is used entirely for ringing the chimes and no other purpose. Could not some arrangement be made by which the bell cords could be extended down either to the band-room or Mr. Stevens' room so the chimes could be rung from there, thus giving us exclusive use of these quarters.

Thanking you in advance for any attention you may give this suggestion, I am

Yours of the 9th inst. is received. The room to which you refer I looked at some time ago when I was examining other rooms. It does not seem practicable to use the chimes room for any other purpose than that to which it is at present devoted. I studied that out, as I say, before.

Dear Mr. Quantrell:-

Your favor of the 26th inst. was duly received. If you will kindly consult with Mr. Heckman in the Board Rooms, 1204 Corn Exchange Bank Building, he will arrange with you as to the room in the south tower of the grandstand. I understand that it is on the third story. In order to avoid any possibility of a question it would be desirable to put the arrangement in the form of a lease. It might take the shape of a scholarship or something of that sort, as in accordance with Mr. Bond's suggestion. Of course you understand that we are not working for a financial return from the room, but simply to regularize the matter as a piece of business.
