by Mr. Tarbell who will leave the platform and, escorted by two marshals, proceed to the stone where the architect will present the trowel and hammer. These implements can be delivered after the ceremony to a marshal who will deposit them in the President's Office. When the stone has been laid, the marshals will escort Mr. Tarbell to his seat on the platform. Mr. Angell will announce that after the cornerstone address the procession will move to the site of Rosenwald Hall and he will introduce Mr. Hale, who will deliver the address.

At the conclusion of the address the band will play. The University Marshal will form the procession to Rosenwald Hall. The procession will move north to North Hall and east to Harper Court and north to site of ROSENWALD HALL.

The marshals will station the band and faculty on the ground just west of the corner stone and facing east. The Trustees and Speakers will be escorted east to the north door of the structure and so to the seats on the first floor of the hall.

Dear Mr. Angell:

The Committee on the Dedication of the Classics Building should before finally disbanding make suggestions as to the list of those to be invited. In the case of Rosenwald the list was made up as follows:

1. Guests of Mr. Rosenwald.
2. Trustees.
3. All members of the Departments immediately concerned.
4. A selected list of the scientific faculties.

May I suggest that a list be made up for the Dedication of the Classics Building as follows:

1. Trustees.
2. All members of the Departments immediately concerned.
3. Doctors of the several Departments.
4. A selected list of the faculties of Arts and Literature.
Dear Mr. Young:

We can send out about two hundred invitations. Probably one hundred people will reply; no more than that can be accommodated in the building. It will become necessary, therefore, closely to limit the tickets assigned. Especially will this close limitation be necessary if we are to spread a luncheon in the two club rooms, for the President will probably wish to invite to the luncheon most of those who accept the invitation to the exercises.

Very truly yours,

Dear James H. Young,

The University of Chicago

Secretary of the University
I should add an invitation of one person each from neighboring universities. Probably not more than two or three would come; but we should have paid our compliments.

My suggestions would be:

Michigan
Ohio (Columbus)
Wisconsin
Indiana
Illinois
Northwestern
Lake Forest

Kelsey, F. W.
Lord, Louis E.
Slaughter, M. S.
Barton, H. J.
Scott, G. A.

Barton and Lord happen also to be respectively president and secretary of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South, that would be an additional reason for asking them.

W. V. Hale

I suggest Bridgeman for the front committee.

 Might we not send to all professors of Greek and Latin at the universities named?
