The Cosmopolitan Club
University of Chicago

Feb. 24, 1901

Dear Member:

There will be an important business meeting of the Club Saturday evening, March 4th, at 7:30 p.m., in the Club rooms at 8800 Jackson Ave. Your presence is earnestly requested. There will be a social hour after the business. A large attendance is very desirable. Among other affairs, these will be discussed:

1. Financial reports, local and national
2. Club programs and policies for next quarter and next year
3. Disposition of delinquent members.
4. Closer and more formal organization of the Club.

Your attention is called to the following paragraphs:

Some remarks have been made derogatory to the policy of this Club. You probably have not made any; but if you do not attend and take active part in meetings of the Club, or in some way materially assist in its work, not only are you losing your voice in its affairs but you are a hindrance to progress; not only as concerns the immediate development of the Club, but as concerns what is far more important i.e., the ultimate object of the whole world-wide Cosmopolitan movement.

Ask yourself these questions — "Do I really know anything about the aims and work of Cosmopolitanism?" "Do I know its scope or history?" Answer them honestly, and then put your shoulder down and boost the movement. Interest grows with active work. No one is too busy to do a little.

A blue mark opposite this indicates that the Treasurer's book shows that you are behind one quarter in your dues. Two marks mean that you owe one dollar.

A mark here shows that you have been at meetings so seldom and have lent so little support to the Club that you are specially requested to think matters over and try to reach the conclusion that you should give a part of your energy to Cosmopolitanism instead of to some of the more fugitive affairs which may now engross you; that you owe a serious duty to your fellowmen: and, having reached this conclusion, you are specially invited to act upon it.

Until further notice, every Friday night is "open house" at the Club rooms. You are losing some good times if you do not attend some of these evenings.

Please read carefully, and do your utmost to give assistance suggested in — the enclosed printed APPEAL issued from the national headquarters.

Come to the Club rooms in your leisure moments and assist in the preparation and issue of the "Maroon Cosmopolite," a news and funny sheet for local Cosmopolitans.

Fraternally yours,
C. J. Primm

Corresp. Sec'y.

Article I. Name.
Section 1. The name of this society shall be The Cosmopolitan Club of the University of Chicago.
Sec. 2. The official language of this Club shall be English.

Article II. Object.
Sec. 1. The objects of this Club shall be the following:
   a. To promote a better understanding of all human interests of all countries;
   b. To cultivate social intercourse among the students of different nationalities at the University of Chicago, and thereby foster the spirit of universal brotherhood;
   c. To assist foreign students who come to the University of Chicago;
   d. To aid and assist the national Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs in its objects as expressed in Article II of its Constitution.*
Sec. 2. This Club shall be non-partisan and non-sectarian.

Article III. Membership.
Sec. 1. There shall be four classes of members: a. Active Members; b. Members in Absentia; c. Associate Members; d. Honorary Members.
Sec. 2. Active Members. All foreign born members of the University of Chicago, students and faculty, and a certain number of American born, not to exceed one-third (1/3) of the entire membership shall be eligible to active membership. Only active members have the right to vote and to hold office.
Sec. 3. Members in Absentia. Former active members who have left Chicago shall become Members in Absentia, and shall be entitled to all privileges of the Club, except the right to vote and to hold office.

*Article II. of A. C. C.: "The objects of the Association shall be to unite and strengthen the existing chapters, to promote the organization of chapters in other colleges and universities, to cultivate the arts of peace, to establish strong international friendships, and to carry out the motto of the Association, 'Above all Nations is Humanity.'"
Section 4. Duties of the Corresponding Secretary. The Corresponding Secretary shall attend to all the correspondence of the Club, and shall keep a record of all the members of the Club, and shall hold office as long as he shall be a member of the Club.

Section 5. Duties of the Treasurer. The Treasurer shall have charge of all the funds of the Club, and shall keep a record of all the receipts and expenditures, and shall make a full report of the same at each annual meeting of the Club.

Section 6. Duties of the Directors. The Directors shall have charge of the business of the Club, and shall adopt and execute such By-Laws as may be necessary for the good government of the Club.

Section 7. The Constitution of the Club shall be amended by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Club, and at least ten days notice thereof shall be given in writing to each member.

Section 8. Any member who shall fail to attend three regular meetings of the Club in any one year, shall be deemed to have resigned.

Section 9. No person shall be eligible to be a member of the Club, who shall not have been a member of the University for at least one year.

Section 10. The By-Laws of the Club shall be subject to the approval of the University, and shall be adopted by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Club.
By-Laws.

Article I  Meetings.

Sec. 1. Regular meetings shall be held at least once a quarter at such time and place as may be designated by the Executive Board.

Sec. 2. One-third of the active membership shall constitute a quorum. Robert's Rules of Order shall be the official guide except where it conflicts with the constitution.

Sec. 3. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President, the Board of Directors, or at the request of ten members.

Sec. 4. All business meetings shall be called by written notices mailed to members not more than three days in advance of the meeting. Where a meeting is called primarily for a special purpose such as the amendment of the constitution or the election of officers such purpose shall be stated in the notice.

Article II. Proposal for Membership.

Proposals for membership shall be submitted in writing to the Executive Board, signed by two active members. The Executive Board shall act on the application, and forward it with its recommendation to the Board of Directors. If approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, the applicant shall become a member of the Club.

Article III. Expulsion of Members

A petition signed by ten members, to the Board of Directors shall be sufficient to initiate an investigation towards expelling a member. The Board of Directors, upon the completion of the investigation shall have the power by four-fifths vote to take final action.

Article IV. Dues.

The dues for active and associate members shall be fifty cents per quarter, to be paid within the first three weeks of the quarter, except newly elected members, who shall pay their dues within one week after their election. Failure to comply with this provision will cause the suspension of the member.

Article V. Amendments.

These By-laws may be amended in the same way as the Constitution; and may not be suspended at any meeting except by a seven-eighths vote of the members present.
Mr. David A. Robertson,
Secretary to the President,
University of Chicago.

Dear Mr. Robertson:

Your letter of resignation from the Cosmopolitan Club reached me on the 3d instant. As should have been apparent from the form of the circular letter sent out to all members of the Club, dated February 24th, that letter was meant to be, if I understand it, an urgent appeal to all members to get together as far as possible and make their several memberships amount to something larger than heretofore. Many members responded nobly, so that the meeting held last Saturday evening was the best and most fruitful of the year. The officers of the Club are extremely sorry if the letter appeared to you to be an invitation to resign. It was anything but that, especially in your own case where it is well known among the members of the Club that both the many demands upon your time and attention and the peculiar position which you hold in the University community preclude your devoting personally much time to the routine affairs of an organization of students.

In view of the above considerations, the officers of the Cosmopolitan Club ask that you reconsider your resignation, and regard your membership as absolutely no encumbrance to the Club. If you so desire, it is possible to carry your name as an Associate instead of as an Active member -- the difference being that in the latter position a member is never expected to help make up a quorum in business meeting.

Whatever you desire to do in this matter, please be assured that the Club holds in warm appreciation your encouraging co-operation in the past, and continues you in its esteem.

Very truly yours,

E. J. Priem
Corresponding Secretary
Cosmopolitan Club.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY, (incorporated) transmits and delivers the within message subject to the following TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the regular rate is charged in addition. It is agreed between the sender of the message written on the face hereof and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any unRepeated message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any REPEATED message beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, unless specially insured, nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines, or for errors in cipher or obscure messages. And this Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward any message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

Correctness in the transmission of messages to any point on the lines of the Company can be insured by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon, at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeated messages, viz: one per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

No responsibility regarding messages attaches to this Company until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of this Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

This Company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the Company for transmission.

This is an UNREPEATED Message and is delivered by request of the sender under the conditions named above. Errors can be guarded against only by repeating a message back to the sending station for comparison.

No employee of this Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

filling in the blanks on the last page of this letter, returning at your early convenience. There is no charge for this service. Commissions are not acceptable.

If it is logical to believe magazine readers will answer our Educational Club advertisement requesting information on different kinds of schools or colleges, would they not much prefer writing direct to an institution, which would meet their requirements, provided its advertisement appeared in the same magazine?

I will highly appreciate your usual prompt courtesy in supplying the applicants wants.

President Harry Pratt Judson,

Dear Sir:—

On Friday night, November 15, at eight o'clock, the Cosmopolitan club of the University of Chicago will hold its annual Chinese night, when Chinese members of the organization will provide the entertainment. Would it be possible for you to be guest of honor at this meeting and make a short speech to the club? In view of the fact that you have just returned from a tour in China, it would make your presence very appropriate.

If it is impossible for you to be present at the Chinese meeting, we should welcome you at either of the following gatherings on November 27, or December 11. We hope that you will be able to attend one of these sessions.

Very sincerely yours,

Harry R. Swanson

Chairman of the program committee.

Dear Sir:

On August 10th, 1926, the Chinese Students' Association in the University of Chicago met and elected the following Chinese students as members of the association: W.-K. Liao, C.-K. Li, R.-K. Li, and R.-K. Li. It was agreed that these students will receive the students at the airport and will arrange for their accommodation. It is hoped that you will be able to attend one of the lectures arranged.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. President:

The President's Committee on Foreign Students, having seen a copy of Mr. Marshall's letter to the Cosmopolitan Club conveying your authorization for the reorganization of the Cosmopolitan Club, has asked me, as chairman of your committee, to obtain from you a ruling upon the relation of the Committee on Foreign Students to the Cosmopolitan Club, with particular reference to the responsibility of the Committee for the determination and enforcement of conditions of active and associate membership.

The particular reason for making this request is the desire clearly to distinguish our functions from those of the Board of Student Organizations and the special committee of that Board on the affairs of the Cosmopolitan Club, which was appointed last June.

As they may possibly not be before you, I am enclosing a copy of the Resolutions of the Cosmopolitan Club of October 14, 1919, and a copy of Mr. Marshall's letter to Mr. Wiking of October 28, 1919, referring to the same.

Very truly yours,

President H. P. Judson,

The University of Chicago.
Mr. President:

The President’s Committee on Foreign Policy is pleased to see a copy of the letter to the Committee, and has already discussed the matter with the President of the University and the Committee.

The President’s Committee has been asked to express the opinions of the Committee on the question of the new Department of the Committee, and to suggest any changes that may be necessary.

The President’s Committee has been given the matter for consideration, and it is hoped that the matter will be settled as soon as possible.

President, University of Chicago
Resolutions adopted by an informal meeting of former members of the Cosmopolitan Club; Oct. 14, 1919.

Cosmopolitanism stands for the principle of humanity above all nations. Since it is the policy of the Club, in conformity with provisions in the constitution of the local and national organizations never to take a position on partisan questions, the application of this principle is left to the deliberation and judgment of each individual member.

Cosmopolitanism stands for free speech, but not for propaganda. Free speech involves the representation of conflicting viewpoints. It is limited only by considerations of tact, good taste, and the appropriateness of the situation. For the Club to engage in propaganda would be a limitation upon free speech.

Cosmopolitanism stands for tolerance and respect for the conviction, ideals, and personality of all its members.

The Cosmopolitan Club stands for loyalty to the University and adherence to its regulations governing student organizations.

My dear Mr. Wiking:

I have conferred with President Judson, and it is his judgment that the Cosmopolitan Club may proceed with its reorganization, bearing in mind the following points:

I. The Club should be organized on a perfectly definite basis. Presumably this is already covered by your old constitution, and by the resolution adopted by an informal meeting held October 14, 1919.

II. The Club should have a definite membership. Matters should be so conducted that there can be no question concerning who are, and who are not members.

III. The Club ought to have definite procedure with respect to the acceptance of new members. This is, of course, really a corollary of the second point.

Yours very sincerely,

Dean
My dear Mr. Wilkie:

I have been in touch with President Johnson and Mr. E. W. Gehring, the Dean of the College of Commerce and Administration, regarding the possibility of your accepting a position in the following field:

I. The field of political economy and related economic activities. I have in mind a position in a research center or similar institution where you could work on the economic aspects of your research.

II. The field of public finance, with a focus on its international aspects.

III. The field of economic development, with attention to developing countries.

I am aware of your interest in these areas and I feel that you would be well suited for these positions.

Yours truly,
