CROSS REFERENCE SHEET

Name or Subject  Charles R. Crane

Regarding

Date

SEE

Name or Subject

Harper 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903
Russian Language and Literature
Gifts

File No.
When last seen Milyonkoff was headed for Harvard, I believe in search of the North Pole, but in charge of a Jewish compatriot, is it possible that Kisheniff has been avenged.

Crane, 842 PM
SEND the following message subject to the terms
on back hereof, which are hereby agreed to.

Mr. Charles R. Crane,

2559 Michigan Ave., Chicago.

Congratulate you on becoming fashionable. Misery likes company.

Join me at hospital next Wednesday.

Prepay and charge to President Harper

READ THE NOTICE AND AGREEMENT ON BACK.

February 26th, 1904.
ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the regular rate is charged in addition. It is agreed between the sender of the following message and this Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery of any UNREPEATED message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery of any REPEATED message, beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, unless specially insured, nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines, or for errors in cipher or obscure messages. And this Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward any message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

Correctness in the transmission of a message to any point on the lines of this Company can be INSURED by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon, at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeated messages, viz, one per cent, for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent, for any greater distance. No employee of the Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

No responsibility regarding messages attaches to this Company until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company’s messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance, a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

The Company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the Company for transmission.

ROBERT C. CLOWRY, President and General Manager.
July 15th, 1904.

Mrs. Charles R. Crane,
Fine Arts Building, Chicago.

My dear Mr. Crane—

I am wondering whether you would allow me to send to you a stenographer who would take down from your lips a few expressions in reference to Russia and the Russian situation, the same to be carefully revised by yourself and published in "The World To-day"? I am having a copy of the "World To-day" sent to you with this. I would regard it as a great personal favor.

We are trying to make "The World To-day" a strong Chicago magazine, representing Chicago and Chicago interests, literary and otherwise. Will you not help?

Yours very truly,
My dear Mr. Greene,

My name is William Murphy, and I am writing to request your assistance in obtaining a copy of the manuscript of the novel "The Man Who Cried." I am a student at Northwestern University and have been researching the history of American literature for my thesis.

I understand that you have a copy of the manuscript, and I am eager to examine it for my research. If it is possible, I would greatly appreciate it if you could provide me with a copy, or if you could advise me on how to obtain one.

I am confident that this scholarly work will contribute significantly to our understanding of American literature. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

[Initials]
Chicago, March 2, 1917

My dear Mr. Crane:

Dr. Billings is just going to California for a much needed change. He has had a serious attack of pneumonia, but has rallied, and is slowly getting his strength. Yesterday he handed me this letter from your brother, which will explain itself. $150,000 will carry us out of the woods.

I remember with great pleasure my visit to your apartment. I have just had a visit from Mr. Dutton, asking me to become a member of the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief. I am very much interested in the matter, and should like to join with those who are carrying on this excellent work. As I am a member of the Rockefeller Foundation, however, I thought it best not to join in various beneficent activities to which subscriptions are made by the Foundation. Please give my cordial regards to the good lady, and believe me,

Very truly yours,

E.P.J. - L.

Mr. Charles R. Crane
30 West Twelfth St., New York City
Chicago, March 8, 1914

My dear Mr. Crane:

I am going to California for a short leave of absence. He has had a severe attack of breathing, but he is better and in fairly good health, with the exception of kidney trouble. He would very much like to join with those who are interested in this excellent work. I am very much interested in the Rockefeller Foundation, however, I have not yet to join in any foundation activities to which contributions can be made by the Foundation. Please give my respects to the good lady and beloved wife.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Mr. Charles E. Crane
30 West Twelfth St. New York City
Peking
April 16 1921

Dear President Jordan,

This is a little note of greeting to you and the pretty lady. Before it arrives you will probably see Mrs. Clare and get all your gossip. I am writing particularly now to suggest that you bear in mind our former ambassador to England,
John W. Davis, for some of your larger functions— I doubt if there is a finer speaker in the English language and that was the estimate Herbert G. Fisher made of him to me last year after hearing him and seeing him at the first banquet given him on his arrival in England. I understand also that his address at Oxford on the United States as a Treaty-making Power was fine. He is a man of rare distinction and should be carried along. Affectionate family greetings.

Charles R. Crane
My dear Mr. Crane:

I am writing to send best wishes at the moment of your sailing from our shores. Your undertaking is a large one, of course, but must be one of absorbing interest to anyone who has given any amount of attention to the situation in the far East. Nothing, to me, in the history of the world has been more thrilling than this age-long contest between the ideas of Asia and the ideas of Europe. For many years it was a question of commerce, a question of political and social development, and a question of physical force. At times it seemed as if the military power of Asia would dominate Europe, at times it seemed as if the military power of Europe would dominate Asia. Japan has found a wise solution of the struggle in the adoption of the best ideas from both the Orient and the Occident.

On the same line would lie the wisest future for China. If she can hold fast the best that has been taught by her ancient and splendid culture, and at the same time avail herself of the best that can be learned from the progressive culture of Europe and America, she will not merely restore the ancient splendor of her empire, but, far more than that, will become once more a source of light to all the world.

I wish you, as an exponent of the best which America has to offer to the East, every possible success; and personally, yourself and family
With copyright goes action

Mark every name.

John

Roy·O·Bartlo

Sau·F.·Lan·q·e·c·e·t·c·t·

San Francisco, Calif.