VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

February 16, 1918.

President Harry Pratt Judson,
University of Chicago,
Chicago, Illinois.

My dear President Judson:

I am making a fight for the retention of Greek as a required subject for the B.A. degree in our Vanderbilt curriculum. The same matter came up three years ago and we were victorious, but the question is again agitated. I am anxious that we keep the firm traditional policy that is preserved at Chicago, Union, Lafayette, Rutgers, Princeton, and Vermont. I ask that you kindly write me a line, if it seems best to you, commending this position and also stating the fundamental reason why your college still adheres to the old standard. All ammunition of this kind will be greatly appreciated and can be used effectively.

I beg to remain

Dear Mr. President,

I am writing to request a position at the University of Chicago in the Department of Mathematics. I have been a member of the mathematics community for several years and have a strong background in mathematics. I believe that my experience and skills would be beneficial to the University of Chicago.

I am enclosing a copy of my résumé for your consideration. I am available for an interview at your convenience.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Dear Professor Tolman:

Your favor of the 16th inst. is received. The University of Chicago has retained Greek as a required subject for the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the first. It seems to us preferable to have different forms of the Bachelor's degree, indicating somewhat the different lines of study, and we have never I think seriously considered changing. Some of our faculty would probably like to have a single degree, but the matter has not been under consideration for a long time.

Dear Professor Tomlin:

I have been at the institute for the last three months. The University of Chicago has something special for me. It seems to me that the reception I received from the first day of the semester seems to have been the result of the reception of any other person. I think certainly congeniality, congeniality. The faculty warmly to me, a single gesture, and the matter has not been where congeniality for a long time.

Dear Sir:

Your favor of the 10th inst. is received. Doctors of Philosophy from other institutions may be guests of the University of Chicago, but if one is to be a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy here that status would hardly apply. A candidate for a degree must be regularly enrolled in the Graduate School. I am not sure that I shall be in Chicago at the time you indicate, but of course shall be glad to see you if I am here. Any further information you can obtain from the Dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Literature, Professor A. W. Small.

Very truly yours,

My Dear Sir:-

In reply to your letter of November 20th, I desire to say that no degree of Doctor of Philosophy has ever been conferred upon any man having the name of T. D. Rhys. I may also add that no degree of any kind has been conferred by the University of Chicago upon a person of this name.

I am very much obliged to you for writing me in reference to the matter, and I wish to assure you that I regard it as a personal favor. The University requirements for degrees are as high as those of any institution in Europe or America. We are very anxious to protect our degrees,- but we feel our inability to cope with statements of people who claim to have received our degrees, unless we are assisted as you have assisted us.

THE CHICAGO DEGREE CEREMONY

Convocation, a term originally intended to apply to the general assemblage of the University of Chicago for any purpose whatever, has come to stand especially for the public University service for the conferring of degrees. Because degrees are regularly conferred at the conclusion of each quarter it happens that since the first Convocation held January 2, 1893, in the Central Music Hall until the occasion described in the present issue of the University Record, and including the special ones, ninety-six have been held.

From the very outset the Convocation program was determined:

I. The Procession
II. The Prayer
III. The Convocation Address
IV. The Award of Honors
V. The Conferring of Degrees
VI. The President's Statement
VII. "Alma Mater"
VIII. The Recession

The order of the procession is as follows:
The Marshal of the University
The Candidates for the Associate's Title and for the Certificate of the College of Education
The Candidates for the Bachelor's Degree
The Candidates for Higher Degrees
The Faculties of the University
The Official Guests of the University
The Trustees of the University
The President of the Board of Trustees and the Convocation Chaplain
The President of the University and the Convocation Orator

The position of each individual in each group is predetermined by the arrangement of the individuals for the degree ceremony. On the main floor candidates in the several groups are arranged alphabetically by marshals and aides: associates are seated at the back; candidates for higher degrees at the front. Upon the stage Trustees, Members of the Faculties, and Guests are seated. In the center of the front row is the President's chair. To his right are seated: the Convocation Orator, the Convocation Chaplain, the President of the Board of Trustees, the Trustees, the Dean of Women. To his left are ranged: the Dean of the Faculties, the Deans of the Graduate Schools, the Dean of the Law School, the Dean of the Divinity School, the Dean of the Senior Colleges, the Dean of the Junior Colleges, the Recorder. Responsibility for these details, upon faithfulness to which depends in large part the ease and dignity of the exercises, rests upon the Marshal of the University, whose symbol is a black, gold-mounted baton. His assistants are the Head Marshal, who carries a mahogany, silver-mounted baton, and the marshals and aides, who wear mortarboards having maroon tassels.

All persons in the procession remain standing in their places until the President and the Convocation Orator reach their seats. When the President removes his cap and takes his seat, all do likewise. Immediately the President says: "Prayer will be offered by the Convocation Chaplain [announcing the name]." At the conclusion of the prayer the President again rises and says: "The Convocation address [announcing the subject] will be delivered by [announcing the name]."

At the conclusion of the Convocation Address, the President, during the musical interlude, seats himself in the Convocation Chair placed at the extreme right of the spectator. When the music is ended he dons his cap, as representing the authority of the University, rises, and says:

Attention is called to the Award of Honors:
Honorable Mention for excellence in the work of the Junior Colleges.
Honorable Mention for excellence in the work leading to the Certificate of the College of Education.
Scholarships in the Senior Colleges for excellence in the work of the Junior Colleges.
The Conferring of the Bachelor's Degree with Honors.
Honors for excellence in particular departments of the Senior Colleges.
Scholarships in the Graduate Schools for excellence in the work of the Senior Colleges.

Election to the Chicago Chapter of the Order of the Coif for high distinction in the professional work of the Law School.
Election to Sigma Xi on nomination of the Departments of Science for evidence of ability in research work in general.
Election to membership in the Beta of Illinois Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on nomination by the University for especial distinction in general scholarship in the University.

Degrees and titles will now be conferred.

The President, still wearing his cap, seats himself in the Convocation Chair.

Candidates for titles and degrees are presented by their Deans in the following order:
Candidates for the title of Associate and for the Certificate of the College of Education by the Dean of the Junior Colleges.
Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Philosophy, or Science by the Dean of the Senior Colleges.
Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws by the Dean of the Law School.
Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts or Science by the Dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Literature or by the Dean of the Ogden Graduate School of Science.
Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity by the Dean of the Divinity School.
Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Law (J.D.) by the Dean of the Law School.
Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy by the Dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Literature or by the Dean of the Ogden Graduate School of Science.

When a Dean rises in his place on the platform, candidates to be presented by him rise in their places and proceed in previously arranged alphabetical order to the platform, escorted by marshals and aides who range the candidates in files facing the President. When all candidates are in place upon the platform the Dean presents the candidates and the President addresses them. The Dean then reads the name of each candidate as he approaches the President to receive from him the diploma which the Recorder passes to the President. In the case of Doctors the hood is placed upon each candidate by the University Marshal before the diploma is presented. The formulae for the Deans and the President are as follows:

The Dean: Mr. President: These students have completed the work of the Junior Colleges and are presented for the title of Associate.

Honorary degrees, the first of which was conferred in 1899 upon William McKinley, President of the United States, are given at a regular Convocation after the conferring of the degrees in course, or at a special Convocation called for the purpose, as in 1899 for President McKinley or in 1903 for President Roosevelt. The candidate is presented by the head or chairman of the appropriate department, and the President in conferring the degree uses a special formula for each candidate. President McKinley was presented by the Professor of International Law and Diplomacy, Head of the Department of Political Science, and Dean of the Faculties of Arts, Literature, and Science, who, escorting the candidate to the Convocation chair, addressed the President of the University.

The President of the University then said:

You, William McKinley—a man endowed with all advantages of education and experience, who, at the time of gravest crisis, when the weal not only of this Republic, but of foreign states, was put in deepest peril, and the path of wisdom lay dark before the people, served each highest interest, and, by your wisdom and your foresight, out of confusion brought a happy ending—the Trustees of the University of Chicago, on nomination by the University Senate, have admitted to the degree of Doctor of Laws now for the first time given by them, and have granted and bestowed upon you all honors, rights, and privileges here or elsewhere pertaining to the same. In testimony whereof, I now present you with the Doctor’s hood of the University of Chicago, which, in virtue of this degree, you have the right to wear, and with the diploma of the University. And may you increase in wisdom and virtue, and, in days to come, as in the past, cherish the Republic and defend her.

The normal form is that used in conferring the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Basil Lanmaneau Gildersleeve, Professor of Greek in Johns Hopkins University:

Professor of Greek in the Johns Hopkins University; founder and editor of the American Journal of Philology; at once lover of letters and student of linguistic science; commentator, in noteworthy editions, upon Pindar and Persius; author of a Latin Grammar based on scientific principles; investigator, and stimulator of the investigations of others; author of a work now appearing in which the results of many years of study of the Syntax of Classical Greek are summarized: for these distinguished services, and especially for the last named, by the authority of the Board of Trustees of the University of Chicago, upon the nomination of the University Senate, I confer upon you the degree of Doctor of Laws of this University, with all the rights and privileges appertaining thereunto.

The President’s Statement generally consists of four parts. He first expresses to the Convocation Orator the thanks of the University. He then refers to the death of any member of the University, if there has been any such since the last Convocation, and requests all to stand in silence in memory of the deceased. When the audience has risen, Pleyel’s Hymn is played on the Alice Freeman Palmer chimes. When the people are again seated, the President reviews the condition of the University and announces gifts or plans, concluding with an invitation to join in the singing of the “Alma Mater,” and with the announcement: “After the benediction the audience is requested to remain seated until after the recessional.”

The Recession is conducted in an order exactly the reverse of the Procession.

In addition, we have had some communications from people in Vienna; so that my appreciation of your effective attention to my recent letter is all the greater. I thank you particularly for your kind expression of interest in the work of the University of Chicago.

Sir:

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 7th ultimo and to state that I showed both it and its enclosure to a representative of the Neue Wiener Tagblatt and requested him to act on your suggestion and publish the letter of Dr. Konzak.

This he did not think wise to do, apparently but printed the enclosed statement which I think should do away effectually in the mind of the leaders of that paper at least with the idea that the University of Chicago issues degrees in absentia. This article will also place the institution which is not over careful in removing an impression...
Legation of the United States of America

"that it is the University of Chicago" in its proper place, both in the eyes of those who have purchased degrees and of any who would avail themselves of such empty honors with the hope of defrauding an unsuspicous public, as does the institution which sells its degrees by the use of the name of another institution, the character and standing of which is known throughout the world.

Please Command me when I can be of service to you or to the institution of which I, as a Chicagoan, am most proud.

Enclosure:
1. Statement as above.
March 7, 1902.

Hon. Robert S. McCormick,
Vienna, Austria.

My dear Sir:—

I enclose to you a letter from Dr. Karl Komzak, in which he makes the claim that he has received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in absentia from the University of Chicago, because education in America is very much disgraced by a so called National University of Chicago, which sells degrees all through the world. Judging from the numerous letters which reach us, this university is not over careful in removing an impression that it is the University of Chicago.

Of course the University of Chicago has never given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in absentia, but requires residence in graduate work of at least three years. We aim to make this our most honored degree, and yet have no doubt that in many quarters the work of the institution is lightly esteemed because of those who, having purchased degrees from the institution mentioned, call themselves Doctors of the University of Chicago.

If, by the publication of this letter from Dr.
I enclose to you a letter from Dr. Keltz Kevorkzian, in which he makes the statement that he has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Education from the University of Chicago, because his dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago. His letter states:

I am pleased to inform you that I have been awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Education from the University of Chicago. My dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago, and I am pleased to inform you of this accomplishment.

Of course, the University of Chicago has never offered the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Education, but I am pleased to inform you that my dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago.

I am pleased to inform you that my dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago, and I am pleased to inform you of this accomplishment.

I am pleased to inform you that my dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago, and I am pleased to inform you of this accomplishment.

I am pleased to inform you that my dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago, and I am pleased to inform you of this accomplishment.

I am pleased to inform you that my dissertation was accepted by the University of Chicago, and I am pleased to inform you of this accomplishment.
R. S. M. #2.

Komxak, or any other way which might seem desirable to you, you could remove any impression which may exist that the University of Chicago does sell degrees in this manner, it would be a great service to us and to the cause of higher education in America.

Yours very truly,

W. R. Harper
I am deeply concerned about the future of the University of Oxford and the wealth of knowledge and understanding it has contributed to society. I am aware that the current economic climate is challenging, but I believe that the University has a unique opportunity to lead the way in creating new ideas and solutions that will benefit us all.

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Herbert

Professor C. Judson Herrick,

Denison University, Granville, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Herrick:

I am interested in your letter of recent date regarding the bachelor's degree at Shepardson College. I think it is a good thing to try to break up the practice of granting a two-year degree, if you can do so.

The title of "Associate" in Arts, Literature or Science, is conferred by the University of Chicago upon those persons who complete with credit the first two years of college work. This title was adopted after much discussion, it being discovered that many persons take only two years of work in college and that it is desirable to give them some certificate of completion of this work. It was also found that the first two years of work is mostly required work, the period of election usually beginning with the third year as at Denison. The completion of the first two years seems to mark the completion of a definite stage in college work.
Professor G. Andrew Hertler

Denton University, Grayville, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hertler,

I am interested in your letter of recent date regarding the problem of a freshmn's degree at Stephen's College. I think it is a good thing to try to gear up the process of granting a two-year degree. If you can go on

The title of "Associate in Arts" is a title which is considered by the university name of Science is, as you know, a name which is,
and the title, that two years of college work.
more significant after much advancement. It points what many because take only two years of courses to college and that it is necessary to take from some courses to complete this work.
It is wise also to count the last two years of work as part of the regular work, the bachelor's degree.
necessary beginning with the third year as at Denison.
The completion of the last two years seems to mark the completion of a genuine stage in college work.
Furthermore, it was found, on the one hand, that some universities offer opportunity for more study than is required for admission to Freshman classes, and on the other hand that some colleges think seriously of giving up the work of the Senior year, because of lack of funds. All of these reasons were influential with the University in the adoption of the title of Associate.

This title is now conferred by Lewis Institute, in the city of Chicago, upon completion of the first two years of work, and by Bradley Polytechnic Institute in Peoria.

The certificate is on parchment. I hoped that I might secure a soiled copy for you, but as that failed I send you a copy of the wording.

Hoping that these facts may be of advantage to you and that you may be able to lead the Trustees to think seriously of the question, I remain

Very truly yours,

N. E.:

I regret that I shall not be able to come to Commencement.

F. W. Shepardson
Secretary to the President.
The certificate is not important to me.

I hope that I may be able to go back to school, but as far as I am concerned I want to be able to go back to school.

I am sure that you will be able to do the same thing and I remain

very truly yours,

W. M. Shephardson
Secretary to the President
May 31, 1902.

My dear Dr. Shepardson,

At the last meeting of the faculty of Denison University, it developed that every member of this faculty is bitterly opposed to the present disreputable practise of Shepardson College in conferring a bachelor's degree for two year's of college work. A recommendation was unanimously passed urging the Board of Trustees of Shepardson College to grant some other form of diploma in recognition of that two year's course than a bachelor's degree.

We are very anxious that this be favorably acted upon by the board, but fear that nothing will come of it unless the board has very definite information and something very specific before them.

Will you therefore kindly have sent to me or to President Hunt a copy of the certificate given by Chicago University upon completion of the Junior College work ("Associate" in Arts, Letters, etc., I believe) and any other information which would be of value in giving our board a knowledge of what is being done in this line in other institutions. For instance, is a similar certificate given by any other institutions under similar conditions, that you know of?

Any information along these lines would, I think, materially assist in a very important reform.

With best regards,

Very sincerely yours,

C. Judson Herick
Aug. 20th, 1902.

My dear Mr. Freund:

I found the trustees yesterday very much opposed to the regulation proposed to allow unclassified students to become candidates for the L.L.B. degree. They were ready to vote it down. I finally got it turned over to a committee of which Mr. Baldwin is chairman. I think it would be a good idea for you to prepare a defence of the position. I have asked him to write you to meet the committee and place before them the consideration which led the faculty to adopt the action.

Dear Sir:

Your letter to President Harper is received during his absence. I do not find his letter to Doctor Lockhart which you mentioned. I cannot think however that he said that the degree of Ph. D. would be conferred after six months residence, since a minimum residence requirement of the University is three quarters or nine months.

The work of the winter quarter will not begin until Monday January 5th.

Dear Mr. Clarke,

Thank you for the Enlarged Master Plan. I go out into the country to explore and mentioned it to Mr. D. W. Wood, and he is considering it. It might be of interest to the United States Government in the future, since a minimum of expenditure is involved.

Dear Dr. Harper,

I had intended to visit you on the 24th of this month to confer with you in reference to the Ph.D. degree in the University of Chicago, but having word from Bros. Anderson that you left Chicago on the 24th for a trip Eastward and that he did not know the date of your return, I have decided to

I know you have written to Dr. Foxhod, which you state you will do.

The consideration of granting the desired degree will require 6 months' residence, work in my part. I accordingly hope to arrange to begin with you Jan. '23.

I trust that it will be unnecessary for me to visit you next week, but the course can be arranged on Monday Jan. 5th, if I can consul with you. Otherwise, or in any case, please write me. Sincerely, W. Stairs.

Mr. D. J. Fleming,

Dear Sir:-

There are two kinds of Master's degrees: The one called the specialist degree and the second the non-specialist. Our edition of the Graduate Circular is now temporarily out of print but I send you a copy of the requirements for this degree.

"The Specialist Degree. (1) At least seven Majors of resident graduate work, all falling in one department (or nine Majors, six in the one department and three in another); (2) the presentation of a satisfactory dissertation on a subject approved by the department; (3) The delivery of five printed or typewritten copies of this dissertation to the University Librarian."

"The Non-Specialist Degree. Nine Majors of resident graduate work distributed among three departments, not more than six Majors falling in any one group of departments. No dissertation is required."

As a minimum residece of nine months is required for the Master's degree no credit is allowed by the University toward this degree for work done in any other institution.
Mr. D. L. Goodnight,
At Kent 80th Street, New York City,

Dear Sir:

There are two kinds of Kent's graduates: the one calling the specific Kent and the second, the non-specific.

I can offer you a copy of the indenture of your presence.

I brought you a copy of the diploma of the achievement.

The specific degree,
(1) At least seven major of residence
Graduate work, at least five in one department (or more majors) and six in the one department and three in another.

(2) The satisfactory classification in any subject of the present degree of the University of

The non-specific degree,
Two majors of residence

Note work satisfactory in major and minor departments, not more than six majors falling in any one branch of department. He gets satisfaction in residence.

At a minimum, residence of nine months is required for the Master's degree and grand as allowed by the University Council.

This degree for work gone in any other institution.
We shall be glad to have you return to the University.

Yours truly,

W. R. Harper
We might be able to persuade you to return to the University.

Yours sincerely,

W.H. Harper
dear sir,

I should like to ask two questions.

(1) I understand all majors are required for the degree of Master of Science. If six of these are in Science and Math, would any majors in philosophy or theology be accepted for the remainder? Limited time, a need for some philosophy, and a desire for the degree of M.S.c., suggest this question.

(2) I have been doing four hours a week graduate work in mathematics at Columbia University
this winter. If this is duly certified, will any credit be given for it at Chicago University?
I do not care to know how much credit, for you could not say, with out more detail, but simply whether it would be recognized in partial fulfillment of requirement for M. So.

Please find a map
enclosed for reply.

Thanking you, I am,
Yours sincerely,

My dear Sir:

I am informed that a bill is pending in the House authorizing the state normal schools to grant degrees. If the bill authorizes the granting of degrees which are purely professional, there is certainly no objection. I should certainly hope that the measure might not be so broad in its scope as to warrant the granting of academic degrees. I hope that careful consideration will be given to the matter from this point of view. No one is a stronger friend of the normal schools than I am. In some states an unfortunate laxity has made the granting of academic degrees possible in such a way as to produce very unfortunate results. Illinois laws are already too loose on this subject in the opinion of most college and university men. It is for this reason that I take the liberty of writing you on this subject.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Rooks:

I do not find any official abbreviation for the title of Associate. We have very little occasion to use the abbreviation of that title. I presume it would be A. Assoc. Ph. Assoc. or S. Assoc. With us B. E. is not used; the closest we come to your abbreviation is Ed. B., which stands for Bachelor of Education. The title of Associate and its establishment, you will find discussed in the President’s Decennial Report, page xciv.

In the President’s annual Report for 1898–9 was first printed this statement concerning the title:

"Upon the recommendation of the Faculty of the Junior Colleges and of the Senate, and upon the approval of the University Congregation, the Trustees have voted to confer the title or degree of Associate upon those students who finish the work of the Junior Colleges. The action in the Faculty of the Junior Colleges and in the Senate was practically unanimous— the action of the Board of Trustees was entirely unanimous."

Mr. Green, Mr. President,

I do not find any official application for the title of Professor. We have very little occasion to me, the application of that title. I remain the same as a "head."

If you do not force the issue, with me. I do not wish to be permanent. We come to your application in Mr. D. which seems to be a permanent. The title of Professor and the entitlement, you will find announced in the President's Discourse Report, page 51. In the President's Annual Report for 1937-8, we have further shown the session concerning the selection:

"Upon the recommendation of the Faculty of the Junior College and of the Senate, and upon the approval of the University Board, the Trustees have voted to confer the title of "head" of the Trustees upon those students who have lived the work of the Junior College. The title is given to the Faculty of the Junior College and to the Trustees in the capacity of the selection of the Board of Trustees, with authority to announce."

10th Century of Greek History: Thucydides

The worlds of ancient Greece and Rome were dominant in the development of Western civilization. The works of ancient authors such as Thucydides, Xenophon, and Polybius provided a foundation for later historians and scholars. Their accounts of the Peloponnesian War and other events of the Age of Sparta were influential in shaping the understanding of ancient history. The study of these texts remains relevant to this day, as they provide insights into the political and social structures of the ancient world.

3rd Century B.C.

The 3rd Century B.C. was a time of great change and transformation in the world of ancient Greece. The Macedonian Empire, led by Philip II and later by Alexander the Great, expanded its influence across the Mediterranean and beyond, creating a new world order.

Philosophy and Science

The 3rd Century B.C. also saw the rise of distinguished philosophers such as Epicurus and Zeno, whose ideas continue to shape modern doctrines of ethics and epistemology.

The Impact of Alexander the Great

Alexander the Great's conquests and expansions had a profound impact on the elementary cultures of the eastern Mediterranean.
By bringing together diverse cultures and peoples, Alexander encouraged a fusion of technologies, languages, and customs, which would later give rise to the Hellenistic world.

The Legacy of Alexander

The legacy of Alexander the Great is dominant in the study of ancient history.
The spread of Greek culture and language,
the introduction of democratic ideals,
and the dynamics of Alexander's personal rule all continue to inform our understanding of the ancient world.

Dear President Judson;

So far as I am aware, nothing has been done looking to the disposition of this matter since the death of Dr. Draper. If I remember correctly, you told me that you expected to be present at the inauguration of President Finley and would personally confer with him about the matter. Meanwhile we asked Mr. Downing to send, as he had expressed willingness to do, a representative of his department to investigate the conditions under which the correspondence study work of the University is done.

Yours very truly,

Dear President Judge,

So far as I know, I cannot remember any contact with any person or organization of the president of this university since the death of Dr. Tupper. I remember contact, not contact, with several persons at the university who may have some connection with the matter of the secretary's appointment. I have not heard from any of these persons, nor have I heard from anyone else who may have any connection with the matter. The secretary's appointment has been made, and I have no further concern with it.

Your favor of the 15th instant is received in the absence of Commissioner Draper, who is confined to his home by illness. As he is hardly able to consider such questions now, I have taken the liberty of holding your letter for his later attention, and have acquainted Dr Downing with its contents, asking that in the meantime he write you explaining more fully the thought of the Regents of the University of the State of New York in relation to registration of baccalaureate degrees.

Mr. Greene, His Secretary

Ithaca, New York
President Harry Pratt Judson
University of Chicago
Chicago,
Ill.

My dear President Judson:

The Secretary to the Commissioner has handed me your letter of the 15th instant together with copy of her acknowledgment and my letter of April 10.

In explanation of my letter of the 10th I have to say that from time to time during the past four years there have come to the Department cases involving the baccalaureate degrees of Chicago University, that is, whether these degrees had been conferred after the completion of a four years' course in residence or whether they had been conferred after a part of the work (at least) had been done in absentia or by correspondence. These questions have come from different officers of the University, and they have been informed that it is not the policy of the Board of Regents to register institutions that confer degrees upon the basis of work done in absentia or by correspondence.

Under date of April 4, 1913, an examiner of the University of Chicago, Mr. Walter A. Payne, raised the question as to why the University of Chicago was not registered under section 401, that is, why it was not accorded the same recognition that is given to Princeton, Yale, Harvard, and other institutions not in this State. Under date of April 10 I wrote him that the reason the institution was not given a higher rating was because of its conferment of degrees for non-resident work. Then with a view to bringing the matter to your attention I wrote the letter of April 10 saying "I am preparing to bring the matter to the attention of the Regents with a view to rescinding the registration of these degrees." I had it in mind to raise the question with you directly rather than to continue the correspondence in the matter with those who were in a position only to discuss the question academically and without authority.
The catalog of Chicago University states that a candidate for the baccalaureate degree may do 18 of the required 36 majors of college work by correspondence, or, in other words, about half of the work required for the degree.

To the best of my knowledge, no institution has been registered by the Regents (save Chicago University) that gives credit for correspondence work towards the B.A. or B.S. degrees, and the registration of Chicago University carries over from a time antedating the reorganization of the Department in 1904.

When the question was raised by Mr. Payne as to why the University was not given a higher rating, in studying the matter the whole question of the registration of the University came up and it was with a view to finding out authoritatively what the facts are in regard to correspondence work that my letter of April 10 was written direct to you.

Since the reorganization of the Department in 1904, the Regents have steadfastly declined to accept for registration institutions which confer the baccalaureate degrees upon the basis of correspondence work, and if the policy is to be changed, I would gladly have the procedure of Chicago University as to correspondence work, clearly outlined in order that the present policy of the Department regarding the recognition of degrees may be justified or modified.

Yours very respectfully,

Augustus S. Downer
First Assistant Commissioner of Education

My dear President Judson:

I enclose herewith the letter from the Assistant Commissioner of Education of the State of New York, which I showed you Saturday morning; also the "Hand Book," in which you will find on page 24 the University of Chicago classified with "schools maintaining lower requirements than those enumerated in Section 401."

I am forwarding this to you for such light as it may throw upon the correspondence which you have received from Mr. Downing.

I know of no other officer of the University who has had correspondence with the Commissioner of Education of New York on this subject; Dean Angell knows nothing about it.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of April 4th regarding the recognition accorded the degrees of the University of Chicago. The degrees of Chicago University in arts and science have not been recommended to the Regents for registration under higher sections than those given in our Handbook, because of their conferment on non-resident work.

We are in correspondence with President Judson regarding the recommendation to the Regents of the rescinding of the registration of the courses under the sections enumerated and the recommendation will probably be referred to the Regents for action at the next meeting of the Board.

Very respectfully yours

ON THE GRANTING OF THE HONORARY DEGREES

To the Senate:

Your Committee is unanimously in favor of the following propositions:

(1) That The University of Chicago shall grant honorary degrees.

Therefore, the following is proposed as a substitute for Article XI, Section 15, Nos. 1 and 2 of the "Regulations":

Dear Mr. Judd:

Herewith I am returning the Downing material. I don't quite understand the situation on this matter in the light of Mr. Downing's letter to me to the effect that our bachelor's degrees are not approved. At all events this matter should hardly be conducted by one branch only of the University, but should rather relate to all degrees. Inasmuch as the Commissioner, Dr. Draper, since this correspondence was initiated has died I suppose that it would be a matter for the University Examiner to continue with Mr. Downing. It might therefore be well if you would refer this matter to him, and he and I can confer on it directly. I am sending this to you so that you may know the situation, and in case you may have any further suggestion.

Dear Mr. Jones:

I am writing to inform you that I have received a report from Mr. Dominion, a former employee of the University. I would like to inform you that Mr. Dominion has been a valuable member of our team and his contributions have been significant. I am concerned about his decision and I would appreciate it if you could assist in finding a suitable replacement for him.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

My dear Mr. Judson:

From one or two different quarters lately I have heard a rumor, or statement, that certain alumni of the Law School, which was founded in 1859, as a part of the old University of Chicago, and which then became the Union College of Law in 1873, and is now the Law School of Northwestern University, were offered a diploma of the degree of Bachelor of Arts, or Bachelor of Laws, by the new Chicago University since the charter of 1891.

I do not understand how a graduate of the old Law School could receive a Bachelor of Arts diploma. In any case, the different rumors have come to me only at third-hand, and I daresay that they are quite confused and different from the reality. However, a recent letter makes it necessary for me to know exactly what may have been done or offered to alumni of the old original Law School of the University of Chicago. Would you be good enough to furnish me with a statement of the facts?

There is no hurry about this, and I await your convenience.

My dear Mr. Robertson:—

You will recall that when I was at your office last, in looking over your stock of early bulletins we came across a copy of a "Revised Edition" of Bulletin No.2, on "The Colleges of the University," and that we compared it in a cursory way with the copy of the original edition of Bulletin No.2 which was in my set, but could seem to find no difference.

You kindly offered me the copy of the revised edition, to bind up with the specimen of the original edition, and I took it along with me.

Since that time I have carefully collated the two editions, and I find that there is one difference between them of an interesting and significant character.

In the original edition, the College of Literature is to grant the A.B. In other words, it provides for but two baccalaureate degrees, - A.B. and S.B.

In the revised edition, however, the College of Literature is advertised to grant the degree of Ph.B., thus making the trinity of baccalaureate degrees which has existed ever since the opening of the University.

I felt sure you would be interested in having this discovery called to your attention. The degree of Ph.B. must have been an idea of very sudden genesis, as the revised edition of the Bulletin was issued in the very same month as that in which the original issue appeared: i.e., April, 1891.

I suppose it was little thought at that time that this degree, apparently created as a mere afterthought, would in twenty-five years become far and away the most popular degree in the undergraduate department of the University.
