The XV Century Morality Play
Everyman
Repeated by general request.
"...the attendants at these performances are better men and better women for attending." — Edward Everett Hale.

Wednesday and Thursday Evenings

Shakespeare’s Joyous Comedy
Twelfth Night
First acted January 6, 1601, and now given in the Elizabethan manner

Friday Evening

The only performance here by this company of
As You Like It
This comedy to be given with modern scenic effects

Elizabethan presentation of the 1604 version of the tragical historie of

Hamlet
Prince of Denmark
The performance will begin at 3:00 P. M. After Act III, Scene I, there will be an intermission until 8:15 P. M.
The Company to be assisted by students of the Cumnock School.

The ordinary acting version of "Hamlet," by its excessive abridgement of all speeches but the hero's, its omissions of entire scenes, and its elimination of important characters gives a decided misconception of Shakespeare's drama. That produced on this occasion is an attempt to reconstruct the "Hamlet" played at the Globe Theatre three hundred years ago.

Second Week, beginning Tuesday Evening, January 24th

No performance Monday, the Company that evening presenting "Twelfth Night" at Lowe's Opera House, Pasadena

Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings

A companion picture to Twelfth Night
Much Ado About Nothing
In the Elizabethan manner

Matinee Wednesday at 3:30
(To accommodate Schools)

Thursday and Friday Evenings
Matinee Saturday at 3:00

The Merchant of Venice
In the Elizabethan manner
This comedy acted by this Company was the last play ever given at the Blue Coat School (Christ's Hospital), London, 1902.

When Burbadge played, the stage was bare
Of fount and temple, tower and stair;
Two backswords eked a battle out,
Two supers made a rabble rout;
The Throne of Denmark was a chair!

And yet, no less, the audience there
Thrilled through all changes of Despair,
Hope, Anger, Fear, Delight, and Doubt,
When Burbadge played!

This is the Actor’s gift; to share
All moods, all passions, nor to care
One whit for scene, so he without
Can lead men’s minds the roundabout,
Stirred, as of old those hearers were,
When Burbadge played!

—Austin Dobson.
President Harper University of Chicago

Dear Sir,

I am much obliged for your letter and the encouragement you give me. I am very anxious to give several of our maps at your university, which I believe will not only interest you but help in the study of the English drama. We have appeared at the two universities here last year again this year, and they are so enthusiastic that I dare not think for a moment we can obtain so much of it elsewhere. I shall communicate with you directly. I am in my home in the East. Yours in my best regards.
Dear Mr. [Name],

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to express my interest in the position of [Position] at [Company].

I am currently working as a [Current Position] at [Current Company] and have been with the company for [Number of Years]. During my time there, I have gained valuable experience in [Specific Skills/Responsibilities].

I am particularly interested in the [Specific Aspect of the Position] aspect of your company and believe that my skills and experience make me a strong candidate for the role.

I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my application further and learn more about the position.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
