Time of day? I prefer the two lectures from 7-9 o'clock. But that would be impossible for America; that is my time for this term here. I should like them as early in the day as possible; I am fresh then and have time to rest afterward.

If you wish for Palaeography, I suppose you have or will have in your University Library the chief collections of facsimiles.

The Prolegomena questions of my publisher, lead me to ask whether in the event of my publishing anything in English your Press would be in a position to take up the matter or whether you confine yourself to local and personal work?

My dear Dr. Harper:

Thank you very much for your kind letter of the 8th inst. If I were coming I should be glad to do the work desired. Unfortunately I do not now see any possibility of my coming to America this year. My brother seems not to have heard from the "New" sister that we gave up last August the plans for a journey of my wife to America in 1894 (which included the possibility of my going over to bring her home). I hope that a few months may will bring the end of the Prolegomena. If I get some work out of the way it is possible that I shall be able to spend the summer holidays of 1895 in America; leaving here August 6th and reaching here again October 23rd. I am delighted with Beulon's N.T. Moods and Forms and thank you for sending it; if time permits I intend to write a few lines about it.

Yours sincerely,
C. F. Panely Gregory.

My dear Dr. Harper:

Thank you for your letter of the 7th which has just arrived. I will come and I shall try to be in good time: Aug. 15th - Sept. 26th 1894. You say nothing of subjects of lectures. If I remember aright you spoke before of "Text Criticism" and "Polemography" and I suppose you still wish for them. You are very busy; if you have a moment to say a word to your secretary some day about the items on the enclosed slip, very well; if not, very well.

Glad to think of coming, am.

Yours truly,

C. D. Gregory.

Dear Dr. Harper:

Your letter of March 27th came to day and posed me by the question what compensation would be satisfactory & for I have not yet received the definite proposition referred to you in a previous letter. I told you that I could leave here on Aug. 6th returning here by Oct. 20th. Now do you tell me what you wish me to lecture on, where, and when, and what you will pay me. In 1891 you had a somewhat longer time in view and offered me $1000. Of course I should look for payment at that rate and should try to resign myself to any increase of it that your favor might suggest. At that time you spoke of doubling lectures in order to make up for the possible shortening of the time. The sooner you can tell me about it the better and the more precisely you give me details and show the more easily I can arrange for it.* I should finally a stretching of the time be feasible, I should at once tell you; at the moment nothing is often possible that at a distance is totally impossible.

I have just written a card to Prof. Burton at Berlin; I count upon the pleasure of seeing him.

Eble has appointed Semples to fill for two years the place of our second editor who has to spend that time on some special maps.

Yours sincerely,
Caspar Rene Gregory.

*It is a chain; if you go to you that will determine what I read a year from now, and that determines again what I read next winter, and this must soon be sent in for the catalog which then comes out in July.

My dear Dr. Harper:

I should be willing to consider a proposition to lecture from Aug. 15 to Oct. 1st 1875. Thus far the limit seems to be leaving Aug. 6, arriving Oct. 15th; should that change I will tell you. I hope to review Burton, does he send to Prof. Schmielaud of Basle who is editing Wiener?

A Greek who has been here for years, who has his Ph.D., and who has long served as a volunteer in our Univ. Library, and who is of the Greek government, with a view to Athens, desires now of Athens and would make you a good philological teacher, New Greek teacher, Greek press reviser, library assistant. If you can bring him, write to Dr. Eugenios Gomenides, Leipzig, Frankfurterstr. 6. I have known him for years. He is still young, well-read and modest. Send you a copy of his Wickelis, Aeschylus I; I think it comes soon. He knows nothing of this writing, but I should like to see him in America and think he would be glad to go neither for a living salary.

Yours sincerely,
Caspar Renely Gregory,
Please read end of letter before putting it in others' hands; I intended to close on this page. Reg.

14 Nov. 1896,

My dear Dr. Harper:

My friend the bookseller Stauffer has by his extraordinary desire to serve the University of Chicago gotten into trouble. You have no time, but could you not let some one in particular examine the thing and see that the case lies thus:

Dec. 10, 1894: Stauffer told in a P.S. not to send for 1895 unless ordered to.
Dec. 2, 1895: Stauffer writes that if no counter order comes he will send for 1896.

This was your "service". It was not precise following of my postscript. A post card would have remedied the error. No word came.

1896: Stauffer sent the journals, for over 1500 marks were still due him and there were no signs of discontent or of a wish to break off. He also in order to be certain wrote Feb. 13, June 10, Sept. 9, Nov. 10.

He received no word of any kind (and no money) in reply to his letter of Dec. 2, 1895 or the following letters until Nov. 12, 1896, two days after the last named letter of Nov. 10. This letter refers to a cablegram "In the beginning of the year 1896. This never came. If you give date (verified at Chicago sending office), Stauffer will look it up here. The Leipzig Office has guiltily refused to examine the thousands of despatches of the beginning of the year."

I think you will agree with me that the university erred in not sending a registered card in reply to Dec. 2, 1895. Prof. Bauer has Stauffer's suggestions for the settlement of the trouble. The main thing is that you see that Stauffer acted innocently, without the least shadow of trickery (that is not in him), and that you make further use of him as occasion offers.

At this moment it has come into my mind that the Köhler to whom you have transferred everything is not the old Leipzig "Köhler" in anything, but the name. Perhaps two years ago the Antiquarium of "Köhler" was bought by Liebisch here. This Liebisch is a man whom I considered for years a warm Christian and a first-rate man. He has an uncommon knowledge especially of theological books. A few years ago, in connection with the sale of the library of Professor Bauer (can you of your Prof. Bauer, he knows I suppose nothing about it) to Haverford College, this Liebisch told a series of systematic lies to the family in order to hinder the sale, and finally succeeded in cheating them out of 500 M. of the price received. Speaking of it to Buhl one day at that time, he said that he had letters ten years old in which Liebisch had lied to him. I never speak to Liebisch if I can help it. I buy all his shoes only under the most urgent necessity and I am happy to say that this necessity has now no occurred for a long while. This is all you need to know. Hope that whatever you do with Strauffer you will cut loose from Liebisch as fast as possible. Forgive this long letter. I am very tired. Yesterday morning I did not get to bed till 3.30 a.m. because of a meeting of tradesmen and workingmen to hear about the "8 hour day" from a member of our "Sozial- Wiss
I am sure that you will see to it that my account of Mr. O'Brien's lying does not come into wrong hands so as to falsify me.

My dear Doctor Gregory,

I write to propose that you come to us for the second term of the summer quarter of 1895; that you begin work about August 15 and continue six weeks; that during this time you give two courses of lectures, each course to consist of four or five hours a week; that the compensation be for the six weeks six hundred dollars. This is in advance of the rate proposed before. This would allow you nearly four weeks in which to visit and make your return by October 20. Would this not be satisfactory?

Yours very truly,

W. R. Harper
I arrived toPhiladelphia that you come to for the second term of the summer quarter of 1909; that you perform your work without of my constant and course and to complete your First year for bookkeeping in the course five weeks six months' attendance. This would allow you enough for some to start and take a break in your return by October 29. Would you not be best stationed

Yours very truly,

W. F. Palmer
