Honorable William H. Taft,
Secretary of War, Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Taft:-

I am in receipt of your kind letter of Aug. 3rd. I certainly appreciate the many duties resting upon you. We are, however, so anxious to have you give this address that we are willing to adjust the date of the dedication to a time which will suit you. The campaign will be over by the middle of November. Would you be willing to come about Tuesday, December 20th? I can assure you that you will have a most cordial welcome, and we can promise you an excellent time.

Sincerely hoping that this will be convenient to you, I remain

My dear Mr. Bruce:

To-morrow at one o'clock Mr. John Morley, the Liberal leader in Great Britain and one of the greatest statesmen of his day, will visit the University and take lunch at the Quadrangle Club. In view of Mr. Morley's reputation, it has struck President Harper and me that it would be a fine thing to give him a student demonstration at 1:30. We are therefore asking all students of the University to assemble on the tennis courts south of the Club to serenade him. We hope to have the band present and make the occasion a notable one. Will you kindly help us by inducing the Senior College Council to cooperate in bringing out a large attendance?

Professor C.J. Lagergren,
Morgan Park, Illinois.

My dear Mr. Lagergren:

The University is to be honored by the visit of a very prominent Swedish Bishop or Ecclesiastic, Dr. Waldenstrom. It is quite important that he be received cordially and strongly in view of a former visit when he did not receive what was considered a proper reception.

I am asking you to serve on the committee to meet him at the President's office where he will come Monday afternoon at three o'clock and to conduct him through the University. The committee consists of the following: Mr. Moncrief, Mr. Franklin Johnson, Professor Olaf Hedeen, Mr. Mathews, Dr. Hulbert, Dr. Hektoen and Professor C.J. Lagergren.

Professor J. P. Hall,

My dear Mr. Hall:-

I am writing to you as Vice President of the Congregation. Two years ago, at the end of March, we had a most successful dinner with six or seven hundred people present. Barker was the Vice President of the Congregation and presided. This year thousands of dollars were raised on the part of many to repeat this dinner. Everybody agrees that it was one of the most important events in the history of the University. A. W. Moore is the Chairman of the Dinner Committee. I have asked him to talk with you. I should like to sit down with you and him as soon as I return from the east and explain some of the things which I have had in mind in connection with the dinner.

We are to have at least two distinguished guests, the Librarian of Congress, Mr. Putnam, and President Fauns & Brown University. I think we can get another, possibly two. Dr. Barker will give you a good many pointers from the other dinner.

Looking forward to the pleasure of taking it up with you in detail,

My Dear Doctor Judson:

I take the earliest opportunity upon my return home to thank you, the Faculty and students of Chicago University, for your most generous hospitality. I greatly enjoyed my visit with you and shall always hold it in very pleasant memory.

You are doing a great and splendid work and I most heartily congratulate you upon it. No one can fully realize what you have been doing without seeing for himself. Your University has certainly not only a great present but is assured of a splendid future.

I trust that you will accept for yourself and your associates my most cordial thanks for your kindness and all good wishes.

My dear Mr. Fairbanks:

I was pleased to receive your favor of the 21st inst. Your visit here was a gratification to the faculty and the students alike. We felt it an honor to entertain the Vice-President and a privilege to entertain Mr. Fairbanks. Our only regret was that the visit could not be longer and the entertainment larger in its character.

I thank you for your appreciative words as to the work of the University. Our universities and colleges, I think, are building up the future of the republic. We shall look forward with interest to your continued friendship towards us.

President H. P. Judson,

The University of Chicago.

My dear President Judson:

Professor J. C. Branner, Vice-President of Stanford University, has just visited us. He is a good deal of a South American, and has just returned from a year in Brazil. He suggests that some of the leading universities ask the Brazilian Ambassador, Sr. Joaquin Nabuco, to lecture on some subject or subjects of interest to university communities. He feels confident that Sr. Nabuco would be glad to give his lectures without charge, beyond expenses for the trip. He says that the Ambassador is well known to him, that he is a fine type of man, an able diplomat, and one of the ripest scholars Brazil ever produced. His father was an imperial Senator before him, and one of the men who gave form and weight to the Empire, while the Ambassador himself was the leader of the anti-slavery movement in Congress. He was the Brazilian representative in the boundary contest with British Guiana. Later he was Brazilian Minister to St. James, and from that position was promoted to the ambassadorship at Washington.

Branner says that he is an eloquent man, that his speeches in the Brazilian Congress are the finest ever delivered in that body, that he has done much in Washington to foster friendly relations between Brazil and the United States. He also says that he knows more of the inside history of the end of the Empire of Brazil than any other man. He states also that he has a lecture on Camoens--the Shakespeare of Portugal. He is said to speak English well.
Yours very truly,

an important and that perhaps he would speak more than once.
Professor Bramer's letter that the President would feel honored by forwarding the Geophysical and Metastatic topics. I judge from the lecture referred to would be perhaps a pleasant variety to try to get him. He could probably talk to us about Brazi, and "the all looks very attractive and couldn't it be a good thing and to be a man of fine presence and attractive personality.
The first few lines of text are difficult to read due to the handwriting. However, it appears to be a letter discussing a recent event or visit, mentioning the writer's reactions and thoughts. The text continues, but without clearer handwriting, specific content is not discernible.

My dear President Judson,

I am in possession of your kind letter of the 10th instant. Madame Nabuco thanks you and Mrs Laing for your hospitality, so cordially offered, but unfortunately she will be unable to accompany me to Chicago. She does not seem to be comfortable at a distance from our younger children. I go with my son, a young man of 18. It is very good indeed of you to wish to have me as your guest, but my state of health obliges me to ask you you to consent that I go with my Son, and my Valet, to an hotel. I hope you will understand the true spirit in which this request is made and how grateful I feel for your invitation.

I am waiting for the Convocation Addresses. I hope they were not sent to Washington, as I could not have them in time.

I am looking forward with great pleasure to my visit to you.

Pray believe me ever, with high regard,

Dear President Judson,

Returning home I think I ought again to take a minute of your time to renew the expression of my deep obligation for your generous and kindly hospitality, every detail of which will remain in my memory.

Nothing could have been more gratifying to me than my visit to Chicago. If you keep a souvenir of it half as pleasant as my own I will have had good luck indeed.

The words of Prof. Branner, of Stanford University, to me about Prof. Chamberlin were exactly the following: "the profoundest geological thinker now living in any part of the world". I like that expression "geological thinker". It may mean a great deal more than Geology was supposed to embrace.

Believe me, dear President Judson, with high personal regard,

Yours very truly

My dear Mr. Ambassador:

Your kind favor of the 31st of August is at hand. I appreciated very much your visit to us, which we all enjoyed greatly. I have heard many expressions of interest in your address, and all who met you felt it a pleasure to make your personal acquaintance. I only regret that the time turned out to be so brief that we could not have you meet a number of other people who would have regarded it as a pleasure and an honor. I thank you for Professor Brunner's words with regard to Professor Chamberlin. In my opinion they are well warranted.

Mrs. Judson will be distressed at my negligence in not securing your autograph for her guest book. I am taking the liberty of enclosing a little slip, and if it will not be too much trouble for you to put on it your autograph she will put it in her guest book by way of repairing the omission. I beg to thank you for your extremely interesting lecture on Camoens, which I have read in part, and shall read wholly with profit as well as delight.
Thinking you very much for what you did for us, and with sincere regards, I am,

Very truly yours,

Senhor Joaquim Nabuco,
Hamilton, Massachusetts.
September 10, 1908

My dear Mr. Ambassador:—

Your kind favor of the 5th inst. enclosing the requested autograph is at hand. Mrs. Judson will be gratified with the name, as well as with the kind thought in the letter.

I am much interested in what you say about the Argentine matter. It is my custom always to discount so-called news in the daily press, and I am especially glad in this case to have my surmise confirmed. The three great countries of Brazil, Argentina, and Chile should never be in danger of hostile collision, and I cannot believe that statesmanship would be so lacking in any one of them as to make such a disaster possible, in our time at least.

With cordial best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

Senhor Joaquim Nabuco,
Hamilton, Massachusetts.

March 7th, 1908.

My dear Mr. Hubbard—

The next convocation exercises will occur on Tuesday, March 17th, at 3 P.M. in Mandel Hall. The address will be given by Mr. Andrew S. Draper, Commissioner of Education of the State of New York, formerly President of the University of Illinois. He and Mrs. Draper will be the guests of honor at the reception on Monday evening the 16th, and I shall have a little dinner for them preceding. I am hoping that you will be able to be present officially at the Convocation, and Mrs. Judson and I also hope that we may count on yourself and Mrs. MacLeish for the dinner and for the reception. My dear Dr.

Replying to your letter of the 18th, I see no reason at present why I should not come to Chicago in December 18th. But it is a good way off, and could you not leave it open for the present? My health is not very robust, and I hesitate to make practice engagements so long in advance.

I will make a note of the date, and probably
You will write me later in the year about it.

JOHN W. FOSTER

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY

DIPLOMATIC MEMOIRS

MR. FOSTER’S diplomatic career began in 1873, when he was appointed Minister to Mexico, and his service there covered the period of the first administration of President Diaz. In 1880 he was transferred to the Russian Court, not long before the assassination of Alexander II. The next field of his diplomatic work was Spain, where he was Minister from 1883 to 1885. In 1891 he was engaged as special agent by President Harrison and Mr. Blaine in negotiating various reciprocity treaties, and on Mr. Blaine’s resignation Mr. Foster succeeded him as Secretary of State. He was the agent of the United States in the Behring Sea Arbitration of 1893 at Paris; legal adviser to the Chinese government in the peace negotiations with Japan, in 1895; member of the Anglo-American Joint High Commission on the disputes with Canada, in 1898; on the commission at London for settling the Alaskan Boundary, in 1903; and representative of China in the Hague Peace Conference of 1907.

In these two handsome volumes he not only recounts a great many events of public importance, but also writes most entertainingly about social life in the several countries where he lived, and tells of his extensive travels in other countries, especially in the Orient.

Sixteen interesting and rare portraits of distinguished statesmen of the author’s acquaintance form an attractive feature of the book.

In two volumes, buckram, gilt top. Illustrated. 8vo, $6.00 net. Postage 40 cents.

Hotel Mercy

I am in receipt of your kind letter of January 5. We will be very glad to go to the hotel neighboring the University, in which the University shall entertain us. If you will, I hope, let me know which is the name and the address of your hotel.
So soon as I will decide what train we will take, I shall send you a word.

If on Saturday, January 23rd, there are no University events, I see myself obliged to decline your kind invitation to attend the lecture to be delivered in the University. I am obliged to leave Chicago in the evening of Saturday 23rd, as I must take the steamer for Europe on the 28th. I must keep Thursday free, as I have to deliver on that day an address in the 20th Century Club.

Looking forward to the pleasure of making your acquaintance,

Dear Sir,

I shall arrive at Chicago on Monday January 18th morning, coming from Newberg. Would it be possible to fix the following dates for the lectures?

18th January - Antony and Cleopatra
19th - The development of Saul
20th - Nero
22nd - Roman History
23 January. The social development of the Roman Empire.

I hope there will not be difficulty in fixing these dates; and awaiting the pleasure of making your personal acquaintance, I am, dear Mr., your truly,

Dear Sir:—

Your favor of the 31st of December was received. I note that you will arrive Monday morning, January 18th, coming from Pittsburgh. That will bring you into Chicago on the Pennsylvania Road, and you should check your baggage to Englewood, Illinois, leaving the train at that station. If you will kindly send me word as to the train which you will take, and the time of its arrival at Englewood, (Englewood is a suburban station not far from the University), I will see that you are met at that place by my secretary.

The dates which you suggest are satisfactory with one exception. The last one you indicate, January 25th, will be on Saturday. On that day there are no University exercises, and it would be difficult to get a proper audience. I assume of course that you omit Thursday the 21st advisedly. The hour that would be best would probably be a little after four in the afternoon. Perhaps you will kindly write me your suggestion as to the disposal of the Saturday date, and as to whether it is necessary to keep Thursday free. I understand that you are to give one address before the Century Club on the evening of the 21st.

Mrs. Judson has written to Sra. Ferrero as to various social matters. I regret that I shall probably not be in the city during a part of the week of your stay here. When Mr. Laughlin went away he told me the date had not been fixed, but he expected you about the 11th. Of course the time is immaterial so far as the lectures are concerned. I shall look forward, in any event, to seeing you and Sra. Ferrero and to having a hand in your proper reception in the city. Owing to the probability of our being away we have been reluctantly obliged to suggest that the University should entertain you at one of the neighboring hotels, for which all arrangements will be made.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. President:

I should like to confer with you at your convenience about the advisability of inviting Dr. Nitobe of Tokyo to be the Convocation orator of the University on some occasion. He is a member of the Imperial Board of Education of Japan, Professor in the Imperial University, and Principal of the chief Government College of Japan. He is perhaps the most eminent member of the Christian community of Japan, the author of a small but famous book on the old Japanese morals, called Bushido. He is a most attractive man personally. Whether we could also give him a degree is a question perhaps worthy of consideration.

I am very glad to learn that you are to be in this country the coming autumn. I write on behalf of the University of Chicago to ask if you could not deliver the Convocation oration at the autumn Convocation of the University, December 19th next. You are perhaps aware that in place of the annual commencement of American universities in general the University of Chicago holds a quarterly convocation, at which degrees are conferred and an address by some distinguished scholar or statesman delivered. It is this address at the autumn Convocation which I am asking you to deliver. The customary honorarium ($100) is not regarded as compensation for the service rendered, but as a contribution toward expenses. Personally and on behalf of the University I shall be very glad if you find it possible to accept our invitation.

One feature of our efforts to improve the educational opportunities for young people in Western Australia is the establishment of a LEADER TOURS program. These programs provide young people with the opportunity to experience different aspects of life and to develop leadership skills. The tours are designed to be interactive and engaging, offering a variety of activities and experiences that help young people to develop confidence, teamwork, and problem-solving skills. LEADER TOURS is a unique opportunity for young people to explore different facets of society and to gain valuable insights into the world around them. We are grateful to the many organizations and individuals who support LEADER TOURS and who contribute to its success. We hope that young people will participate in these tours and benefit from the experiences they offer.

Dear Mr Morris,

President Judson directs me to say that he is very happy that the foreign delegates to the International Conference in connection with the proposed celebration of the One Hundredth Anniversary of Peace between English speaking peoples will visit the University of Chicago Friday, May 16. The free morning period at the University is from 10.15 to 10.45. If the delegates could be brought to the Reynolds Club at the corner of 57th Street and Lexington Avenue at 10 o'clock we should then be able to form a procession and enter Mandel Hall promptly at 10.15. The students can assemble only between 10.15 and 10.45. A visit to the University buildings would follow at 11 o'clock and occupy as much time as the Committee can afford until the hour for reaching the Union League Club. Will you let me know the pleasure of your Committee so that I can make the necessary announcements at the University. President Judson is in New York until Sunday. Our weekly calendar in which the announcement should be made goes to press Thursdays. If I may have your decision before Thursday morning I shall be glad to notify the editor of the weekly calendar.

Sincerely yours

Secretary to the President.

My dear Mr. Robertson,

The members of the Executive Committee of the Local Biennial Board are deeply grateful for the co-operative spirit and untiring efforts shown by you in the success of the Biennial and wish me to express to you their warmest thanks and appreciation.

Your gracious hospitality in entertaining the delegates at luncheons added effectively to their enjoyment and was most gratifying and encouraging to the Board.

With sincere thanks,

Yours truly

His Excellency V. K. Wellington Koo
Chinese Legation, Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Koo:

We are looking forward with interest to your visit to Chicago on the occasion of our December Convocation. The exercises at which your address will be made occur on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 19.

On the evening of Monday preceding there will be a reception in your honor at the University. Preceding the reception I should wish to have a little dinner for you at my house.

Mr. Abbott, of the Continental and Commercial Bank, desires to have a luncheon for you either on Monday or Tuesday, at your convenience. Neither one would conflict with the University engagements. The exercises on Tuesday afternoon will occur at three-thirty. If the luncheon should occur on that day of course it would be desirable to have it close quite promptly.
DEAR SIR:

This will serve to introduce to you Mr. [Name],

the Principal of the Imperial Medical School of Tokyo Medical School. The rector recently recommended Dr. [Name] to me as a department of medicine of the Imperial University, and in addition to the appointments made in Tokyo, now commences to take up his position at the Imperial Medical School of Tokyo University.

If you would kindly give him any facilities for conversation for the translation, your generous will be highly appreciated at the Medico-Literary Society.

I regret very much that another engagement, already made and which we cannot avoid, will prevent Mrs. Aldis and myself from attending the reception which you and Mrs. Judson are giving to meet His Excellency Vi Kyuin Wellington Koo, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Chinese Republic. I thank you very much for the invitation and wish that we could come.

My mind is rather fixed on China at present as Mrs. Aldis and I sail, along with the McBirneys and Howard Shaw, towards the end of January for Hongkong, from whence we are going after a 10 days stop to Shanghai, up the Yangste River, to Pekin and ultimately across to Japan. One of the last times that I crossed the Atlantic you were on your way to China by the longer route. If you should by chance have a free luncheon down town either at the University Club or at the Cliff Dwellers and are willing to give me suggestions and advice for our trip, I shall feel deeply grateful to you. And for this reason I regret even more than usual not having the pleasure of meeting His Excellency The Ambassador.

Extremely regretful, I am unable to accept the invitation and wish that we could come.

My mind is better fitted to do things at present as the Aida and I shall be alone with the home, and how we shall manage after a busy life in Japan for Honolulu, from whence we are going after a few weeks to Shanghai, and then to Hong Kong, so that I can still write you from time to time. If you should not write me now about the changing of the President of the University, and come to the offer, I shall feel grateful for your and to your kind offer. I am writing, to you, to answer the pleasure

Dear Mr. Judson:

I have received your letter of the 13th inst. stating that Sir George Adam Smith is booked to speak at the Auditorium Sunday forenoon, June 9, following his talk to the City Club the previous evening. I will take occasion to remind him of this, and do everything possible to see that he gets away in time. He can catch a train almost every hour and can leave here as early as 7 o'clock. Thank you for the pleasure you express over the fact that Sir George is going to speak in Milwaukee. We are mighty glad to have him. He will speak here in the evening only, as I understand it, and will be through in plenty of time to get to bed early and have a good night's rest, no matter how early he takes a train Saturday morning.

My dear President Judson:

I beg leave to report that the Chinese Commission was entertained during its stay here as follows:

After visiting your office on Wednesday morning they went through the buildings of the School of Education and raised a good many general questions. They were given a luncheon at University Commons on Wednesday noon. Wednesday evening they had dinner at the Quadrangle Club. To this dinner the following members of the University staff were invited: L. C. Marshall, T. C. Chamberlin, J. M. Coulter, E. D. Burton, A. W. Small, R. D. Salisbury, W. S. Gray, H. C. Morrison, H. G. Gale, R. M. Lovett, Shailer Mathews, Dr. Dodson, J. F. Bobbitt, Nathaniel Butler, J. S. Dickerson, J. P. Hall, Walter A. Payne, Walter Sargent, W. D. MacClintock, and F. N. Freeman. Only a few of these gentlemen were able actually to attend; many of them had previous engagements. The dinner finally included, therefore, of our own officers the following people: R. D. Salisbury, W. S. Gray, H. C. Morrison, H. G. Gale, Dr. Dodson, J. F. Bobbitt, Nathaniel Butler, J. S. Dickerson, and F. N. Freeman.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Snyder showed them around the High School. On Thursday morning they were shown
