Pres. H.P. Harper,
Dear Sir:—

Will you kindly give your personal attention to this letter? I want to write you about my fellowship. Last summer, last winter, and last spring, we corresponded about my coming to Chicago and about a fellowship. And third for our affection. You did my case error very strongly and that it might confidentially expect one. I felt assured of your personal interest in me, and met it the absolute trust. You once said I had so far

I have had much more than the quarterly offers and am going to quit my entire tenure to your line of work. The above work was done as accurately as I studied Hebrew under you, and I gladly refer you to Prof. Hill to Harvard or to Prof. Harris who will tell you of me as to my daily transactions. I have had much to discourage me this summer, but I proceed my best work. I am coming to Chicago any way whether you grant the favor I ask or not, but I want to concer... with a lighter heart. Still feeling your personal interest in me, I earnestly ask if you cannot give me an appointment among The Senior Fellows. Don't you think you can?

Very sincerely,

Mr. Lincoln Hulley,

Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania.

My dear Mr. Hulley:

Mr. Capps informs me that he has not yet received from you the bibliographical material for the Decennial volume for which he asked you some time ago. It is very desirable that the Semitic department should exhibit a good record in this respect; hence I wish to emphasize the necessity of as prompt a response as possible on your part to the request of the Editor, Mr. Capps.

The material required from you is (1) the title of your thesis, together with a brief abstract of its contents, and date and place of publication if it has been published; (2) the titles of any other scientific articles you may have published during your connection with the University. These facts should be communicated to Mr. Capps at the earliest possible moment, since further delay will greatly embarrass the progress of the volume in question.

Very truly yours,

W. R. Harper

My dear Mr. Hulley:

Mr. Capps, the Editor of the Decennial Contributions, is growing desperate over his failure to receive bibliographical reports from a few of the graduates and graduate students of the University. I find your name among the number. May I not urge upon you once more the importance of sending in your report and thus making the record of our department complete? All that is necessary is a very brief statement, not more than two hundred words at most, containing the title and a brief survey of the contents of any scientific work you may have published since you became a student of the University, and, in particular, of your thesis, whether published or unpublished as yet. Will you not favor us by sending in your "Copy" at a very early date?

My dear Mr. Hulley:

I have your letter of May 20th. I think that perhaps you are a little hard on Mr. Price, but in any case, I am returning the thesis and am glad to know that you will take hold. We must get the thesis published, and I am sure that you are as much interested in this as am I. I appreciate your willingness, and assure you that we will co-operate to the fullest extent. In case you publish it yourself, the form should be in accordance with the regulations.

Dear Mr. Henry:

I have your letter of May 8th. I think that perhaps you and Mr. Price put in any case, we must not let this idea and may I say that you will take pride in this respect. Your willingness and necessity you will have a large portion to the letter extent. In case you require it you will wait until your work is finished with the letter. My dear sir,

Yours very truly,

The simple fact is that I joined the thesis, by several hors of hard work, so that it might be published - that as soon as need in 1895.
But the editor and his faculty decided that it was not such material as was wanted for our journals - even recast as it was. I think you should talk him just. The reason why it is not published. I put no slight whatever on him, and I should be told to go plainly. I spent days with him and the thesis to make it passable for a degree. I hereby hand you the thesis that you may see what I did, and that you may have it sent him directly.

My dear President Harper:

Replying to your favor of the 18th, I will say that I have felt for several years that a slight has been put upon me with respect to the thesis, not by you, but by Prof. Price, to whom the revised copy was given by your order, to be printed. The technical facts in Hebrecia, and the rest in several articles in the Biblical World. I have always wanted to please you. I esteem you as one of my greatest teacher
and owe you much.
If you will have Prof.
Price send me the text.
I will either (1) prepare it for publication and publish it myself, which
I reserve as my option,
or I will do as you
suggest which will be an easier thing to do,
use it as the basis for
a twenty-five page
article in the queer jour-

I will take good care

Cardially yours,

P.S. Kindly send the fence at once. I shall go to work on it at once, but cannot promise to complete it till fall. My summer work begins soon, and every day of the summer included is engaged for lectures including much travel in Pa., Ohio, N. Y., Conn., Maryland, and N. J.

My dear Mr. Hulley:-

What are we going to do about the publication of your Ph.D. thesis? Something must be done. I take it that your paper is now too old to be published. Why would it not be a good thing for you to get up a new paper- a short one - twenty-four or twenty-five pages- an article for the American Journal of Theology, which we could call your thesis and have the thing settled up? Will you not think about this?

Yours very truly,

W. R. Harper

My dear Mr. Harper:

What are we going to do about the proposition of your P.R. people? Something must be done. I see that your paper is now too old to be printed. With money it will be a good thing for you to get up a new paper—say twenty-one or twenty-five, which we could begin as an article for the American Journal of Theology if you would call your friends and have the thing started. I wish you not to think about this, but about other things.

Your very truly,

My dear Mr. Hulley:

I am glad to get your letter of June ninth and hope that you will have an article ready in the autumn. Make it as scholarly as you can. Be sure, above all things, that you are in touch with the latest literature, and make reference to the same to give evidence of this fact.

I am very sorry that you and Mrs. Hulley cannot be with us at the Convocation exercises. We are going to have a great time this year. The alumni are coming back in larger numbers than ever before.

I am glad to hear you are at home and will have a chance to reach the summit. I make it as easy as you can, and hope you will have a chance to see the scene to the edge of the top with the entire electric light and more views of the same to give evidence of the fact.

I am very sorry that you and Mr. Hunter cannot be with me at the Conception. We are going to have a great time there.

The storm is coming back in favor, I hope, and I shall be here

Dear President Harper:

The thesis is in hand and I have decided that it will be too technical for me to print so I will prepare the article of twenty-five pages for the Journal of Theology as you suggested. It will not be possible for me to have it ready before some time in the fall, owing to heavy engagements now forming.

Yours cordially,

My dear Mr. Hulley:

I am glad to get your letter of June twentieth and to know that you are at work upon the thesis. My only difficulty is that I am afraid that you do not have access to a library. A good deal has been published since 1894 in criticism of the pentateuch. Some very important works have come out since Wellhausen's. These, of course, do not affect the general theory, but do affect details.

I could not determine the question of publishing the thesis as an appendix to the Journal of Theology, even on the generous terms you propose, until I see the article. I think that it will be necessary for you, after preparing the article, at least to consult recent books. Go ahead and see what you can do, for we must get it into shape.

Very truly yours,

W. R. Harper
Mr. Mcnaught

Funkett Univeristy, Leamington, Banburyshire.

My dear Mr. Mcnaught,

I am glad to get your letter of the twenty-seventh and to know that you are at work upon the system of Mr. Childs at Fort St. Andre.

The fact is, Mr. Childs has been more than that I have seen in criticism of the apparatus. Some very important works have come out since my last letter, and of course, we have gone over some of these with interest.

I cannot not determine the direction of the beam of light through the tube as an apparatus for the transmission of the ideas, even on the condition that you observe it until I see the article. I think that it will be necessary for you to peruse the article, transfer to convenient recent books, and perhaps see what you can do for me. I must get it into shape.

Very truly yours,

W.R. Harper

W. R. Harper,
The University of Chicago.

Dear President Harper:

On June 18 I cancelled all my engagements for two weeks, and shall devote the time to the thesis. I have been reading steadily for two days recent critical literature bearing on Old Testament criticism in order to carry out your wish.

Today I went over the thesis itself. It has 245 pages of typewritten text and 15 more pages of bibliography. The argu-most of the first pages is so kit that I cannot condense. Evidently Professor Price could not. It would ruin the proof, if we were to try to do it.

I have calculated that these 225 pages would take about 125 pages of the Journal of Theology. That would evidently be too much for you?

Now I want to please you about this thesis. But what can I do? You might throw out what I do. I spent four weeks reading and reviewing...
Print the thesis as it is, as an appendix to the October number of the Journal of Theology, just as Mr. Moore-Arnalts' Bibliography is printed in the April number.

If you will do that, and give me 100 copies apart from the Journal, bound in paper as I asked for, I will pay $100 to you for the printing. I repudiate the changes made in pencil on the third, and decline to allow my name to stand over them. I shall await your answer anxiously, because I have cut out two weeks to see what I can do.

My dear Mr. Hulley:

Your letter of June twenty-eighth to Mr. Price and the thesis have reached me. I had already written you, but you had not, I suppose, received my letter. It would be impossible for us to publish the thesis as an appendix to the Journal of Theology. This journal cannot be used for the publication of theses. There is a large amount of the matter which ought not to be published at all. It seems to me that it would be better, under all the circumstances, for you to take some phase of the subject and prepare a sixteen or twenty-four page article which we might use in one of the journals. This, while it would cost a deal deal of labor, would be something which, I am sure, you would enjoy doing. I see no way of using the thesis in its present form, and I certainly would not recommend its publication to you. It is impossible that in seven years there is nothing new to be said on this

Dear Mr. Miller,

Your letter of June twenty-third was delivered to me in Pueblo and the facts have reached me. I had already written you, but you had not, I suppose, received my letter. It would be imperative for us to get in touch as soon as possible to the matter of the control, the control cannot be needed for the work on the dam.

There is a large amount of instruction of these. There is not to be anything of this. This matter might not to be published if at all.

It seems to me that it would be better, under all the circumstances, for you to take some phase of the subject and prepare a detailed or twenty-year plan.

I write this to save a great deal of paper.

The winter is coming, and I certainly would not recommend that you make a large number of trips to do this. I see no way of using the present in the present. It is impossible that in the near future there to make the necessary or the necessary trips on this.

Dear Prof. Price:

Early this morning I resolved my Thurs. to you just as it came to me. I have made no changes, but I have gone over it carefully to see, if I could condense it. I am unable to see how I can condense it, and if it is not printed as it is, it would have to be rewritten, a labor of months.
