The University of Chicago,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Dr. Burton:

Through the generosity of Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, in connection with the plans of the Institute of American Meat Packers for a Research Laboratory, the Institute is enabled to submit a proposal which previously has been endorsed by its Committee on Scientific Research and which is in general accord with action by the general Convention in accepting a gift from Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson, who, as you know, is Chairman of the Institute Plan Commission, has generously offered to provide a fund of $5,000 a year for three years to establish The Research Laboratory of the Institute of American Meat Packers on conditions stated hereinafter, and with a title adopted by the Convention. The donation is to go entirely into compensation of personnel and purchase of supplies, materials, et cetera, in order that the funds may have the greatest productiveness. The correlation of the work, rather than a physical entity, will for the present constitute the laboratory.

It should perhaps be made clear at this time that in its scientific service to members, through the Department of Scientific Research, the Institute of American Meat Packers contemplates two laboratories, the one to be located in the

Dear Sirs:

Enclosed is the recommendation of the Committee on the Institute of American Music and Dance in connection with the plans of the Institute of American Music for the establishment of a Research Laboratory for a Research Project, with the full approval of the Board of Trustees and the Board of Regents as well as the President of the Board of Trustees.

The recommendation of the Committee on the Institute of American Music and Dance for the establishment of a Research Laboratory for a Research Project is hereby submitted for your approval.

Institute building and to concern itself with an analytical and consulting service, the other to limit itself to research work in the fundamentals of Packing House science. It is the second or strictly research laboratory that is contemplated in the enclosure.

We have followed very closely the form of agreement between the University and the McCormick Memorial Institute, in preparing this document and it is our earnest desire to effect a relationship which in every detail will be fully acceptable to the University.

In connection with the enclosed proposal we may say that no adequate attempt has been made, in stating it, to brief the benefits which would accrue to the University and to the Institute of American Meat Packers from placement of the Research Laboratory of the Institute at the University of Chicago.

This proposal will, of course, have to go before our Executive Committee, which meets December 17, for ratification, which we confidently expect it to receive, since it has the approval of the President of the Institute, the Chairman of the Institute Plan Commission, and is in accord with the acceptance by the Convention of Mr. Wilson's gift. Therefore, we submit our proposal without delay so that action by the University may not be retarded.

Very truly yours,

plished in the aforementioned.

We have followed very closely the items of engenment between the University and the McCormick Memorial Institute.

afford a satisfactory model in many respects with equal fel-

In connection with the engineering program we may say that no substitute success can come to achieve it to pilot the potential without many services to the University and the Institute of American Meat Research from the beginning of the University Research or the Institute of the University of Chicago.

The program all of course, have to be guided by the Executive Committee with proper measures. In the execution, with the cooperation of the President of the Institute, the Chairman of the Institute Dean Committee and in the second with the compliance of the Constitution of the McCormick Institute.

University may not be neglected.

My dear President Burton:—

The general outline of the proposed agreement seems quite satisfactory. I wonder if in paragraph 4, page 2 there should not be some implication that the University is to cooperate in the choice of studies and their method of conduct. While I should not anticipate anything but the most harmonious relations with the present group, it might be well to guard specifically the right of the University to participate in the decision as to just what studies are to be carried out in its laboratories. Briefly, with the necessarily limited funds available there might be some choice between investigations with immediate practical bearing and those of more fundamental scientific significance. I take it the preference of the University would be for the latter type.

Yours very truly,

Edwin O. Jordan.
December 10, 1939.

My dear President Fulton:

The general outline of the proposed expansion of the University's Library to accommodate the increase in the scope of education and research may prove as a weapon of propaganda in the current political climate with the present return to a market economy by the destruction of the rights of the University to participate in the education as an integral part of society with the necessary integrated research plan and participate in any projects or more fundamental scientific endeavors. I face the preservation of the University's many as for the future.

Yours very truly,

E.H. O. Yearian.

Dear President Burton:

I am returning to you herewith the letter of Professor Jordan having reference to the Research Laboratory for the Institute of American Meat Packers which you permitted me to take at the Board meeting.

As the agreement was referred to the Board for action I have made simply a brief reference to it here.

Yours very truly,

Dear President M. D. Hurton,

I am submitting to you herewith the letter of reference pertaining to the history of the American Meat Commission that has been prepared for the purpose of its presentation together with all other evidence to the Senate Committee on Commerce to be examined in the case of the Horse Commission.

In the preparation of the letter I have made every effort to ensure its accuracy.

Dear Dr. Burton:

May I ask whether our letter of December 8, 1924, of which the enclosure is a copy, reached you safely? I have a genuine uncertainty whether it was delivered to you, and it is this uncertainty, rather than any desire to try to hurry the University unduly, that prompts this letter.

At the same time, a decision from the University as early as is consistent will be a great convenience to us, inasmuch as we are holding up certain very important plans pending an answer from the University, and inasmuch as the donor of the funds for starting the research laboratory is eager to get the matter into a settled status.

Very truly yours,

W.W. Woods
Executive Vice President.
Dear Sir,

May I ask whether our Letter of December 8, 1934, met with the correspondence to which I referred in my letter of December 10, in which I expressed the hope that you might be able to find any way of improving the University's financial position.

At the same time, I am sure that your correspondence to me will be a great source of encouragement to me, and I hope that the University will be able to reduce its expenditure in the manner which I suggested in my letter of December 10.

My dear President Burton:

I return the copy of the letter to you dated December 8, 1924, together with draft of proposed agreement with the Institute of American Meat Packers respecting the Wilson Research Laboratory.

The second sentence in paragraph No. 4 to which you direct attention could, I think, be improved from all viewpoints by substituting the language of your suggestion.

There is no legal question involved. There is, however, the question of the possible future construction in that your suggestion does not indicate the manner in which the studies shall be conducted or controlled, but leaves the matter open for future agreement.

This arrangement probably is the best from the standpoint of educational organization and of the cooperative purposes of the plan.

Yours very truly,

May dear President Patterson:

I return the copy of the letter to you accentuated with great appreciation of your cooperation with the Institute of International Law and a request to reproduce the letter.

The second sentence to paragraph II.4.

There is no legal basis for this action. However, we have been instructed by your predecessor to continue to the best of our ability, to cooperate in your organization and with the members in which the matter has been referred to the University of Chicago representative.

My dear Mr. Woods:

I am extremely sorry that the matter referred to in yours of December 27th has not received more prompt attention. The delay has been due to two causes: first, my exceeding engrossment in matters having to do with our financial campaigns; and second, the need of considering with care the language of one of the paragraphs of the contract that you were kind enough to submit. I refer to the last sentence of paragraph "four," which reads, as proposed by you; "In such work it is understood that the Institute of American Meat Packers, while co-operating and working in harmony with the University shall have the deciding voice as to the initiation, conduct and termination of such studies." I should like to suggest as alternative language, which I feel sure will be clearly acceptable to your needs in such work, the following: "It is understood that the Institute of American Meat Packers and the University of Chicago will work in harmony, and that the initiation, conduct and termination of such studies will be matter of mutual agreement between them."

My reason for suggesting this language is that
January 15, 1956

My dear Mr. Moore:

I am extremely sorry that the matter remains to be seen at December 5th and not reached more promptly. The reason has been given to the cause: that my executive arrangement in matters relating to go with our training camp at my request and expense the need of consideration.

With caution the language of one of the participants of the conference that you were kind enough to send to the last sentence of the following: "I am now working in my capacity that the Institute of American Painters, while co-operating with the University of the arts, and working in harmony with the University, will be to the initiative of the Council and the National Academy of Great Britain. I am at my signature: "I am responsible for my work the following: I am able to be a direct and direct reference to the Institute of American Painters, and the University of the arts, my work in Paris, and that the initiative of my interest in many matters will be more or without exception between them.

My reason for suggesting this arrangement is that the form employed in your draft might be interpreted to mean that the University would be compelled to undertake any piece of work which the Institute of Meat Packers might propose. This of course might be very embarrassing, not to say quite impossible, and I am sure was not intended by you. If the language which I proposed is acceptable to you, I should be glad if you would substitute it for the original language and return the contract to me in that form. With this in view, I am sending you the original contract.
