On board R.M.S. "ADRIATIC."

May 10, 1910

My dear Mr. Jordan:

The transatlantic from you and your Jordan was our last message from home. It was delivered the first day out when we were feeling a bit lonely and cheered us immensely. Thank you most heartily. This is a fine
To Miss Wilson, belatedly, very sincerely,

In answer to Tchaikovsky's Chicago

On board the "Carnegie," the Bellingham Steers et al. have given distinction to the voyage. The steers are ready for the inside of the latest affair etc.

We expect to reach Cherbourg before noon on Thursday.
May 31, 1910

Professor George E. Vincent,
"Crédit Lyonnais", Boulevard des Italiens,
Paris, France.

My dear Mr. Vincent:—

Your favor of the 10th inst. came duly to hand. I was glad to know that you had a prosperous voyage notwithstanding the stormy seas. You are welcome to all the stormy seas and all the steamboats. I trust that you enjoyed numerous conferences with Mr. Carnegie and with "Maria". Doubtless also you were interested in Mr. McCormick's account of the bribery situation. The bribery pot is bubbling just now. It looks very much as if the officers of the law had gotten hold of something substantial. I hope, however, before it ends that various other matters will be ventilated. All combined may clear up the exceedingly rotten politics of this state. There is no faction and there is no party in my judgment which is not involved.

Everything is proceeding quietly here. I hope to be able to spend a good part of the summer away from Chicago. With cordial regards and best wishes for your enjoyment, I am,

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson
May 31, 1910

Professor George A. Vroomen,
Chairman of the Committee on the Annual Address
27th Annual Address

My dear Mr. Vroomen:

Your letter of the 10th inst. came only to hand. I was glad to know that you had been unable to not attend the meeting. You are welcome to all the sense and I am aware of the sentiments. I trust that you enjoyed your conference with Mr. Cameron and with "Java." I am glad to see you more interested in the Museum's account at the present situation. The problem has proved much more and much as it the alternative of the St. Paul Cotton of some other important. I hope, however, to see you at the next meeting matters will be submitted. All comments may open up the excess try the motion, petition of the matter. There to to reason and prove

It is necessary to my judgment that at not transgressing your principles to proceed with dispatch to begin a book to this moment with the Chicago. With every present and your notice to your envelope, I am

very truly yours,

H. T. Leland
May 11, 1900

Hon. Harry P. Judson,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:

Would you kindly inform me how I can obtain a copy of the address, publication, or interview from which the quotation attached at the foot of this letter was taken?

I am, Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

Lyndon A. Smith.
May 14, 1910

Dear Sir:

Your favor of the 11th inst. received. I have ordered sent to you a copy of a paper containing the address in question.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Hon. Lyndon A. Smith,
Assistant Attorney General,
St. Paul, Minnesota.
May 14, 1910

Dear Sir:

Yours ever at the 11th post received. I have attached here to you a copy of a paper containing the address in very much kindness.

Yours truly in haste,

Ref. June 20

Hon. Frank A. Gaffey
Secretary, Adjutant General,
State Prison, Indiana.
May 31, 1910

Mr. Edwin A. Smith,
Editor, "The Spokesman-Review",
Spokane, Washington.

Dear Sir:-

Your favor of the 20th inst. is received. The question to which you call attention is a very large one, and I do not anticipate that it is going to be answered in any one way, or in any short time. The movement to the cities I suppose results from the fact, in the first place, that city life is supposed to afford larger opportunities than rural life; and, in the second place, that it is more interesting. It cannot be expected therefore that the tide will be checked, and least of all turned in the opposite direction, unless these conditions are radically altered. So far as the church is concerned it can, I fancy, do little to affect the economic conditions. It may, however, do much towards making life more interesting. A rural institutional church, organised by one who understands how to do it, can be of large influence it seems to me in improving rural conditions. This, however, will require a high order of intelligence and ripe experience on the part of the pastor.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson
The time has arrived when the church must take a larger leadership, both as an institution and through its pastors, in the social reorganization of rural life.

The rural church must be more completely than now a social center.

The country church of the future is to be held responsible for the great ideals of community life as well as of personal character.

The country pastor must be a community leader. He must know the rural problems. He must have sympathy with rural ideals and aspirations.

Consequently, the rural pastor must have special training for his work.--Excerpts from Report of Country Life Commission.

Harry Pratt Judson, LL. D.,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:

The Country Life movement inaugurated by President Roosevelt in the appointment of the Country Life Commission has developed into three great subdivisions.

2. More profitable marketing of farm crops.
3. More satisfactory social conditions in the open country.

The Country Life Commission itself believes that the church has a much larger part than it has hitherto taken in the social reorganization of rural life, which shall not only check the tide of farm boys and girls to the cities, but shall make it more attractive to the men and women now on the farms.

The Twice-a-Week Spokesman-Review begs to intrude upon your time for some light on this feature of the Country Life problem.

Very truly yours,

Editor of The Twice-a-Week
The Snoxelian Review

The County Life Commissioner's report to the President of the Pennsylvania State Department of Agriculture, November 20, 1920

DEAR SIR:

The County Life Movement has been of great importance in the development of the County Life Commissioner. It has provided:

1. Better methods of crop protection
2. More profitable enterprises of land
3. More satisfactory social conditions in the new county

The counties have been made perfectly
The President of the

The two-week program of the

Yours truly,

Editor of the Twenty-Week
June 3, 1910

Dear Mr. Mann:-

Yours of the 2d inst. with enclosure received.

I have already had a copy of the document in question. It seems to me that matters in the west are rather beyond their status in the east.

Very truly yours,

Mr. C. R. Mann,
The University of Chicago.
June 3, 1920

Dear Mr. Mann:

Yours of the 21st post. with enclosed received.

I have already had a copy of the government in question. It seems to me that matter is now more than paying. Your reference to the seal.

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

Mr. C. R. Mann
The University of Chicago
Chicago June 2, 1910

My dear Mr. Judson:

The enclosed circular shows clearly the attitude of the best of the eastern high school men toward the question of college entrance. I believe the western secondary school men are rapidly coming to the same opinion. Since this document is significant, in that the ideas that it expresses are herein for the first time explicitly stated by the high school men themselves, I thought that it would be of interest to the members of the board of admissions and of the curriculum committee. I am therefore taking the liberty of calling your attention to it.

Yours very truly,

[Signature]

R. Mann
The encroachment upon junior high school of college entrance I believe the junior college school we are relishing coming to the same opinion. Despite the movement to the interest in that the idea that if expressed were received for the three time explicit help of the high school new career
I thought that it would be of interest to the members of the power of amendment and of the amending committee I am here take earliest the liberty of calling your attention to it.

Yours ever -
The High School Teachers Association of New York City at its annual meeting May 7th, 1910, approved the following statement regarding the present articulation of high school and college. They instructed the Committee on Conference with the Colleges to submit this statement to the colleges, to invite correspondence upon the matters involved, and to furnish any subsequent details that may seem desirable.

Clarence D. Kingsley,
Chairman of the Committee.

Arthur L. Janes,
President of the Association.

ARTICULATION OF HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE
THE REORGANIZATION OF SECONDARY EDUCATION

We believe that the interests of the forty thousand boys and girls who annually attend the nineteen high schools of this city cannot be wisely and fully served under the present college entrance requirements. Our experience seems to prove the existence of a wide discrepancy between "preparation for life" and "preparation for college" as defined by college entrance requirements.

So long as this discrepancy exists, both the child and society suffer, for the following two reasons:

First: Every attempt to divide high school students into two classes and to prepare one class for college and the other class for life is unsatisfactory. Many of those being "prepared for college" drop out of school without proper education for citizenship and without the industrial or commercial efficiency which society rightly demands the tax-supported high school should develop. Those being “prepared for life” include many who, later in their course, would go to college if the work already done were recognized by the colleges.

Second:—The attempt to prepare the student for college under the present requirements and at the same time to teach him such other subjects as are needed for life is unsatisfactory. Under these conditions the student often has too much to do. The quality of all his work is likely to suffer. The additional subjects are slighted because they do not count for admission to college. In such a course it is impossible for the student to give these subjects as much time and energy as social conditions demand.

For these reasons we desire to call your attention to the entrance requirements of Clark College. This college accepts the graduates of any New England public high school or of any other high school with equivalent standard. They report that the results are satisfactory to the college. May we ask what, in your opinion, would be the objections, if any, to the acceptance by your college, of the graduates of the high schools of New York City? Such a definition of entrance requirements would secure to the college a four years’ preparatory course and would enable the high school to perform its function as a tax-supported institution. Under the present method of defining entrance requirements, students who have not completed our courses of study repeatedly gain admission to college, often to the weakening of both college and high school.

If this departure seems too radical, may we call your attention to the following statements and recommend the modifications in present entrance requirements which seem to us most urgent? There are seven distinct lines of work which we believe essential to a well-rounded high school course; to wit, language, mathematics, history and civics, science, music, drawing, and manual training. Girls must be taught household science and art. Moreover, we believe that the twentieth century demands that the high schools should not cast all students in the same mold; that the amount of science and manual training which is sufficient for one student is utterly inadequate for another; and that a training for business may be given in the high school which will be as cultural and as respectable as any other course. To enable the high schools to adapt secondary education to the varying needs of different students in such a manner as to meet the diverse demands of the professions, of industry, and of commerce, progress seems to us to require

(a) the reduction in the number of so-called “required” subjects, together with
(b) the recognition of all standard subjects, as electives.

The specified entrance requirement of two foreign languages, the meager electives in science, and the absence of recognition for drawing, music, household science and art, shopwork, commercial branches, and civics and economics, constitute the chief difficulty.
We should like to see it possible for a student upon entering the high school to choose Latin or German or French; to confine his work in foreign language, during his high school course, to one such language in case the remainder of his time is required for other subjects; and to find at the end of his high school course that he has met the foreign language requirements of whatever college he may choose to enter. We should like to see no discrimination against Latin for the course leading to the B. S. degree, so that students choosing any language may enter the B. S. course.

We should like to see the following subjects recognized by college entrance credits:

Music, 1 unit; mechanical and freehand drawing, each ½ to 1 unit; joinery, pattern making, forging, machine shop practice, each ½ to 1 unit; household chemistry, botany, zoology, physiography, applied physics, and advanced chemistry, each 1 unit; modern history, 1 unit; civics and economics, each ½ to 1 unit; household science and art, 2 units; and commercial geography, commercial law, stenography and typewriting, elementary bookkeeping, advanced bookkeeping, and accounting, each ½ to 1 unit.

A recent study of entrance requirements shows that many colleges are already requiring only one foreign language for admission, and that many of the above subjects have received recognition.
The attempt to restrict the student to certain academic courses in the earlier years of college life was in general an unfortunate bias in our educational system. To the same extent he who confined himself to the study of one or two subjects was likely to suffer. The quality of all his work was likely to suffer. The additional subjects were important because they gave breadth of mental development; but the students were often compelled to give up some subjects because of the pressure of time and the necessity of doing other work. The result was that students who were trained in one subject were often weak in others. It is true that some students were successful in one subject, but they were often weak in others.

The entrance examination requirements of college are now much more severe than formerly. A student who enters college without having completed a four-years' preparatory course and a two-years' college course would not be admitted to the sophomore class. Students who have not completed our courses of study repeatedly gain admission to college by some means, often to the weakening of both college and high school.

If this departure seems too radical, may we call your attention to the following statements and recommend the modifications in present entrance requirements which seem to us most urgent? There are several distinct lines of work which we believe essential to a well-rounded high school education. The following courses are prescribed:

- English
- Mathematics
- Science
- History
- Civics
- Art
- Music
- Industrial and commercial work
- Fine arts
- Agriculture
- Manual training

Girls must be taught household science and art. Moreover, we believe that the teacher's occupation demands that the high schools should get out all students in the same mould; that the system of science and manual training which is essential for one student is utterly inadequate for another. To enable the high schools to adopt secondary education to the varying needs of different students in such a manner as to meet the diverse demands of the various occupations, of industry, and of commerce, progress seems to us to require:

(a) the reduction in the number of so-called "required" subjects, transfer with the student, the recognition of all standard subjects, as electives.

- The specified entrance requirement of two foreign languages, the moe and the absence of recognition for drawing, music, household science and art, shopwork, manual training, civics and economics, constitute the chief difficulty.
President David Starr Jordan,

Hollenden Hotel, Cleveland, Ohio.

My dear President Jordan:-

Your favor of the 2d inst. was received. I was very sorry not to see you while you were in Chicago, and am much interested in the trip you now have in view.

As to the gentleman to whom you refer, you of course know his strong points. I have always found him personally very agreeable. When he had a head of the department with whom to be answerable there were many causes of difference between the two.

I don't know who was responsible; I suspect they were both responsible. Possibly he has some intellectual splinters. However, this is sometimes no more than is to be expected with the investigative temperament. As you know, there are some learned men who have to be handled with gloves unless an electric shock is to be obtained. He is an able man.

With cordial best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson
Hon. Shelby M. Cullom,
United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Cullom:-

As one of your constituents I am writing to express the very earnest hope that the Senate Committee on Elections will make a thorough investigation into the status of the last election to the Senate by the General Assembly of Illinois. It has been notorious for years past that certain influences in both houses of the General Assembly were thoroughly venal. At the same time, while this has been a matter of common belief, yet evidence has not been in the possession of citizens who would use it to secure justice. While not pretending to prejudge the case which is before the courts, at the same time I am bound to say that the character of the evidence thus far adduced is such as in itself to disgrace the state of Illinois. Every influence should be brought to bear to ascertain the truth first of all, and if the truth turns out to be as it seems to be, to bring about a revolution in Illinois politics in the direction of common honesty.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson
June 6, 1910

Mr. Chairman

United States Senate
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

As one of your constituents I am writing to express the very earnest hope that the Senate Committee on the Joint Resolution to the Senate by the General Assembly of Illinois will make a thorough investigation into the matter of the receipt of the General Assembly war appropriation money. We have been notified that your Senate Finance Committee has taken some time, while the House has passed a matter of common policy, not opposed to the passage of the bill, but not favorable. This, we feel, is a matter of common policy, and the sooner the matter is disposed of the better.

We feel that the appropriation of the General Assembly war appropriation money is an urgent matter and we hope that the Joint Resolution will be passed as soon as possible to protect the rights of all and to prevent a third Stair case to be presented in the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois.

Yours truly,

Very truly yours,

[Signature]
Chicago, 17 Van Buren Street.
June 6, 1910.

Mr. Harry Pratt Judson,
1148 E. 50th St.,
Chicago.

Dear Sir:—

The utter ineffectiveness of the state legislature of Illinois has for many years been well known to you. The recent disclosures seem to make this preeminently a fit time to arouse the people of the state to take this situation under consideration and to seek ways of bettering this condition. A provisional committee, consisting of men from various parts of the state, is of the opinion that a conference, at which there may be frank discussion of the situation in all its phases, is an essential preliminary to effecting any remedy. This committee, knowing your keen appreciation of the disgrace and the handicap under which the state labors, desires your co-operation in sending out a call for such a conference. I hope that you can see your way clear to sign the call, that you will return the paper to me with your signature, that you will book the dates on your memorandum, and that you will, if possible, be present on one or both days of the conference.

Chicago has failed repeatedly in securing legislation to which it is properly entitled, and which is of the utmost importance to its well being; and this failure is bound to continue so long as the calibre and character of the state legislature is as it is, and so long as there is the present unfortunate jealousy between the representatives from the city and those from down state. It is the hope of those who are inaugurating this movement that betterment may be accomplished in both directions as a result of this conference.

Respectfully yours,

Allen O. Ford
June 3, 1910

Mr. Harry P. Judson
110 E. 54th St.
Chicago

Dear Sirs:

The recent initiative of the State Legislature of Illinois has for many years been well known to you. The recent developments seem to make thisootiously a fit time to advance the people of the state in the field of education. A permanent committee, consisting of men from various parts of the state, to act on the initiative and a conference of the committee, is an essential preliminary to affecting any remedy. The committee knowing your keen appreciation of the gravity of the problem and the importance of the state, hopes you will meet in conference on the above subject and the important matter

Chairman

Chicago, June 3, 1910

Respectfully yours,

[Signature]
June 6, 1910

Dear Mr. Pond:

Yours of the 6th inst. received. I quite sympathize with the purpose and I presume should be likely moreover to sign the call; the paper in question, however, was not enclosed. I have little faith in any sort of change in the laws with the view of securing a better situation in the legislature. Laws may hinder; they rarely help. Nothing can take the place of an intelligent, aroused public sentiment. A change in the federal constitution permitting the direct election of senators would free the state legislatures from their federal entanglements and thereby leave the people more free to select on local grounds rather than on national grounds. A change in our Illinois constitution abolishing the cumbersome process of electing members to the lower house would also be a great improvement.
June 1, 1940

Dear Mr. Pope:

Your offer of the position is greatly appreciated. I accept.

You may be aware that I have been working with the British and I am very anxious to return to the field where I have spent most of my career. I have little faith in any sort of change in the present system with the view of securing a better position. The field in which I have been working for the past years has been one where there is an urgent need for an expert to make practical and effective recommendations. It is now time to test the constitution permitting the direct election of members of the legislature. Many of the experts have given evidence to support the proposition that the people were more likely to select those candidates who would represent their principles and policies in the legislature. If so, the present system is not working as it should.

Respectfully yours,

[Signature]
Otherwise I have little faith in anything excepting the active interest of the people in the various districts in securing the election of men of standing and character who are not owned by anybody but themselves.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson

Mr. Allen B. Pond,
1109 Steinway Hall, Chicago.
I have taken little part in anything connected with the various efforts to secure the interest of the people in the various activities of society and the election of men of ability and character who can work for

Very truly yours,

[Signature]

[Date]

Mr. Allen E. Park

3100 Sherman Hall, Chicago RECEIVED AT

10 CH IFF
18 Collect,

Saratoga N Y July 20-1910

E A Robertson,

Presidents office

University of Chgo

Suggestion Ponds Convocation excellent ask him immediately tell Arnett Mathews and Judd can Verify summer Payrole

H P Judson

8;22a
Domestic and Foreign Money Orders by Telegraph and Cable

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY
INCORPORATED

THE LARGEST TELEGRAPHIC SYSTEM IN THE WORLD.
OVER ONE MILLION MILES OF WIRE IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

It has over 25,000 Telegraph Offices, Including Branch Offices.

It has also Direct Connection by Telegraph or Telephone with many more remote and smaller stations, making a total list of 60,000 in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and this number is rapidly Increasing.

SEVEN ATLANTIC CABLES
Connecting North America with all points in Europe and beyond, including Two Cables of the American Telegraph and Cable Company, Four Cables of the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, and One Cable of the Direct United States Cable Co.

Direct Wires to Galveston, Texas, connecting at that place with the Cables of the Mexican, the Central and South American Telegraph Companies for all points in Mexico and Central and South America.

Direct Wires and Cables to Havana,
Cuba, connecting at that place with the Cuba Submarine and West India and Panama Telegraph Companies for all points in the West Indies.

Connects at San Francisco with Pacific
Cables to the Sandwich Islands, Honolulu,
Guam, the Philippines, China, Japan, etc., and at Victoria, B. C., with Pacific Cable to Australia and New Zealand.

Connects at Seattle, Wash.,
with U. S. Government Lines and Cables to and in Alaska.

Exclusive connection with the Great North-Western Telegraph Co. of Canada.
June 14, 1910

Dear Sir:—

Your favor of the 8th inst. received. You are quite correct in assuming that I am engaged in teaching political science, as I have been head of that department in the University for some eighteen years past. The "Short Ballot" is in my judgment far more vital to our political system than any of the other matters which interest political reformers. For that same reason it is correspondingly difficult to get the adhesion of the ordinary politician. I remember very well in urging the short ballot principle some dozen years ago upon a body of politicians that all without exception were opposed at once, for reasons which are obvious. I will transmit the blank to one of our faculty in the department who is especially concerned.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson

Mr. Fred V. Greene, Jr.,
363 Fourth Ave., New York.
June 4, 1910

Dear Sir:—

Yours is the 4th that I have received. You are quite correct in assuming that I am one of those who are opposed to translating the University for some other reason than the "short fallacy" to which you refer. I have been on the faculty of the University for some time, and I understand it to be my duty to do my best to advance the interests of the University. I am therefore opposed to any measure that would in any way impair the interests of the University.

Mr. James, who is one of the most influential professors in the University, has been a strong advocate of the plan to move the University to New York. I have been associated with him in many of the important questions that have arisen.

With warmest congratulations,

[Signature]

H.P. Johnson

H. P. Johnson

357 Broadway, New York
President Harry P. Judson,

Chicago, Ill.

My dear Mr. Judson:

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the permanent National Committee on the 1814 Peace Celebration between Great Britain and the United States, at the Hotel Astor on June 26th, an informal discussion took place regarding certain features which might either singly or in combination fittingly commemorate the events of the Centennial. The following suggestions were made:

That a free memorial bridge of stone construction should be built at Niagara, forever connecting the two countries at the point where many of the struggles of the war of 1812 took place.

That an International Peace Congress on a great scale, and preparatory to the Hague Conference of the next year, should be held at the same time and place as the dedication of the bridge; the United States and Great Britain acting as hosts.

That the anniversary of the signing of the Treaty of Ghent (Dec. 24, 1814) be celebrated in London.

That the occasion should be seized for the signing of an arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain in which agreement should be made to arbitrate all possible questions of difference between the two countries; and thus an era of inclusive arbitration treaties be inaugurated.

That a permanent Joint High Commission should be established to promote Intercourse and friendly relations between Canada and the United States.

That an exposition should be held in which the progress during the century of the arts of peace should be shown.

The Secretary was requested to inform the absent members of the Committee of the suggestions made, and to invite an expression of opinion from them on the subject. We shall be most happy to hear from you regarding this.

Very respectfully yours,

William H. Short

Secretary.
The Peace Society of the City of New York

July 1, 1910

Secretary

To: Dr. Samuel I. Haywood

Secretary

From: H. C. Schuyler

Assistant Secretary

New York

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Permanent Peace at

Tuesday, November 13, 1910,

it was decided to recommend to the Permanent Peace Committee on the "Peace Conference between Great Britain and the United States" at the next annual Northern Peace Congress to be held in Chicago, the following resolution:

That the following resolution of the Executive Committee be read at the Durban Peace Congress at the next peace conference between Great Britain and the United States:

That the occasion of the anniversary of the Peace of Neuilly be used to the advantage of the cause of international peace and the establishment of a permanent peace conference between Great Britain and the United States.

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
July 28, 1910

Dear Mr. Short:

Your favor of the 1st of July was received during my absence from the city. Among the various suggestions made for the celebration of the one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States the one that appeals to me the most is that of the signing of a permanent arbitration treaty between the two countries. That which appeals to me the least is the exposition.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson

Mr. W. H. Short,
507 Fifth Ave., New York.
Dear Mr. Spots

Your letter of June 1st of July was received today.

I am pleased to hear you will be visiting the United States the one year anniversary to the peace treaty. I hope you will be able to find the time to attend the opening of the Permanent Exhibition.

Very truly yours,

H.B. Jungson

Mr. W. H. Spots,

For Metropolitan, New York
July 29, 1910

Dear Sir:

Your favor of the 21st of June came during my absence from the city. I am much interested in your suggestion. In all educational institutions of course attention should be given to the subject of love of country. I doubt, however, whether it can be done by any systematic method of instruction. It should form a branch of the great work which each school should include under the head of ethics. Integrity, honor, love of country, and many other things of this character belong together and should be taught together.

Very truly yours,

H. P. Judson

Mr. D. L. Mitchell,
Biloxi Commercial Club,
Biloxi, Mississippi.
Dear Sirs—

Your favor of the 3rd of June came giving my opinion from the city. I am much interested in your undertaking. In my assistance I have accordingly sent you a letter to the subject of my own of construction. I hope you will find it can be gone on and that you will go on with it. You will find a plan of the best work which has been sent you to give you an idea of the extent, position, fountains, and many other things of the arrangement which together may enable us to
Very truly yours,

H.R. Johnson