My dear Dr. Harper:

As you are interested in school administration, I send you a copy of a bill which our reform committee is advocating before the Massachusetts Legislature. We shall at least see if this is the "stuff" which pulls down the committee.

Among other agencies to arouse public opinion working this winter is the course indicated on the enclosed ticket.

I think you would have been very proud if you had seen the audience which listened to Dr. John Dewey and known the make up of it. It was a great tribute to the little people in general have known of the deeply interesting philosophical ideas which Dr. Dewey is so patiently and scientifically working out. It is because of this careful experimental, truly scientific development that the world, which is as yet quite unscientific, has failed to grasp the meaning of his work. But I was delighted the other day both with his clear, logical presentation... of the problem of modern education and with the reception of his paper by his hearers. It really gave me new courage on account of this legislative business - a hearing that day. I did not see Dr. Dewey a moment to learn how you have progressed in the year, but Miss Talbot is soon due.

Very truly yours,

Ellen R. Richards

To Alumni and Former Students:—

At a meeting of the Corporation of the Institute, held on October 11, a report was received from the Executive Committee advising the Corporation that, in the view of the Committee, the recent decision of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts relative to the land on Boylston Street made it impossible for the Institute to take further steps in the plan of co-operation with Harvard University, which has been under consideration the past year.

In view of the facts set forth the Corporation thereupon adopted a resolution instructing the Executive Committee to notify the authorities of Harvard University that the Institute found itself unable to proceed with the plan of co-operation, and to express at the same time the appreciation of the Corporation for the fairness and courtesy with which the authorities of Harvard had joined in this common effort to solve a difficult question.

The Corporation further authorized the President to communicate this result to the alumni, Faculty, and friends of the Institute, and to invite their hearty co-operation in the future upbuilding of the Institute.

This decision disposes not only of the matter of an alliance, but also, for some time to come at least, of the question of a site. It seems clear that the Institute’s home must continue to be, for a number of years, its present one, with such added room and buildings as may be found necessary and practicable. With these questions settled, it is clear that the duty of each Institute man, of each friend of the Institute, is to go heartily and enthusiastically at the problems which lie immediately and clearly before us, with the ambition to make the Institute the most efficient means possible for ministering to the intellectual, moral, and social life of its students. The questions upon which we have honestly differed are now out of the way. Let us now pull together for the solution of our common problems. Some of these problems need to be attacked at once. Outside of the question of increased endowment, which is most pressing, additional land ought to be secured as soon as possible; a site for the Walker Memorial Building must be provided and the building started as promptly as possible; and an additional building, such as a chemical laboratory, and the erection of one or two modest dormitories on our land in Brookline adjoining the athletic field would serve a great need of the student life. To the solution of these pressing and specific problems the Corporation asks your heartiest support and assistance.

HENRY S. PRITCHETT.

Boston, October 12, 1905.
My dear Harper:—

I enclose a brief circular of mine to the alumni which is self-explanatory. After the court had decided that our title to our saleable property was not good it seemed to me wise to terminate a position which was somewhat embarrassing, and to turn heartily to the development of the Institute on its old site.

With best wishes,

Cordially,

October 19, 1905.

My dear Mr. Krupka:

I enclose a draft of a letter to the President which I wrote for you yesterday. After the council meeting last night, I was asked for a copy of the final draft. The council has decided that our letter to the Smithsonian should be sent as soon as possible. We have been discussing it for some time, and it seems to us that it would be best to submit it to the Institute of the Arts.

With best wishes,
