My dear President Pritchett:

It is simply magnificent, from the point of view of the Carnegie Fund, that you are willing to take hold as President and I think from your own point of view it will prove to be a great step. The dream in which we indulged last spring have often been dreamed over again by me and I am thinking that the time may not be far distant when we shall be able to move along the lines suggested, but for the present the Carnegie Fund must be organized and there is no man having between Maine and California capable of doing this so well as yourself.

I have often been reminded of your statement in my mind that the time may not be far away when we shall be able to move along the lines suggested and that for the present the Carnegie Fund must be organized and there is no real difference between these and other universities

You will be coming next sometime soon and we shall have an opportunity to exchange views at that time.

I hope that my next little essay may not be far behind.

I am very much interested in some of the fundamental principles put on these points I am sure that we all feel passionately

University of Chicago,
Chicago, Ill.
Dear President Harper:

Replying to your letter, I have written to President Thwing, and asked him to send you a copy of the minutes of the Trustees' meeting of November 16th. It may be possible these minutes will not convey the most important part of the meeting, which was the informal one. I write, therefore, to say that three things were practically agreed upon; first, in the matter of denominational control, to stick closely by the expressed wish of the founder. Second, in the matter of admission of state institutions to the benefits of the foundation, to take no action for the present. Third, the most important of all, to frame, at as early a date as possible, an educational standard which shall be adhered to by the foundation, in admitting colleges to its benefits.

One other action of moment was to authorize the Executive Committee to take steps to secure national incorporation. I shall hope to have some talk with you at an early date, and as I am spending one-half of my time now in New York, I shall count on seeing you if you come East at all.

With best wishes,

Cordially yours,

DEAR DEAN NAGLE:

I am glad to hear from you and your letter was a cordial welcome at the end of a long winter. I am enclosed a copy of the minutes of the meeting of November 18th of the College of Liberal Arts, which I hope will be of interest to you. I am copied on the report of the committee on the matter of admission of the officers of the College, and I think that the action of the Council is relieving a very serious problem. I am glad that you are going to take steps to secure better representation of the community in the admission of students.

I am enclosing a letter on the subject of the Carnegie Foundation's action in respect to the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. I am not sure that I am understanding the action of the Foundation in this matter. I am not sure that the Foundation is doing the right thing.

I hope to hear from you at an early date and to learn what you are doing to carry out the provisions of the agreement. I shall be glad to have you come up to New York at any time you may be here. I am enclosing a copy of the letter you wrote me.

If you come here at all, I hope you will have pleasant weather.

Sincerely yours,

My dear President Judson:

Will you let me know the cost of the Rush Medical School for the academic year 1913-1914? In case hospital and instruction expenses are difficult to separate, perhaps you can send the items of your budget.

I am studying a problem that involves the cost of first-rate medical instruction and these figures will help me very much.

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Robertson,

Will you please bear it in mind to let me know by Thursday about the question of my room-rent, if there is a question? I have to pay on that day, as things now stand, or the room will be assigned to another. You will not misunderstand me, I am sure. I should gladly have come to Hitchcock on any terms; and am not seeking to escape payment. But if the use of a room properly goes in it an assistant headship, and is meant to do so, I shall be glad to make the having. Except in those few weeks of extraordinary pressure, I want to do all that is expected of an assistant head.

Sincerely yours,

W. H. Hale
