The kind and intelligent concern we at a distance have always followed each publication, with what pleasure we read his own forbodings, with what anxiety we shall deal. It reports hearing the next few days, how readily we pray that the diagnosis be erroneous.
...ing to him because I realize the burden of his recent correspondence, and wished to thank him for the trouble of an acknowledgment. I would save you it also. Do not therefore take this as other than an expression of concern which requires an answer.

Faithfully yours,

[Signature]

Prof. Harry N. Judson
Liberal of Congress
Washington

May 1, 1908

My dear President Judson:

The data requested in your note of the 28th can of course be given only approximately, the two extremes of books of great simplicity and of sets very intricate (from the viewpoint of the cataloguer) being so far apart in their requirements. But I am asking our Chief Cataloguer to get together for you some figures which may be to your purpose.

Very sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Librarian of Congress

President Harry Pratt Judson
The University of Chicago
Chicago, Illinois
May 1, 1908

Mr. President Jackson:

The fate preserved in your note of the 28th can of course be given only approximately, the two extremes of both of Great,

similarity and of outer very instructive from the view point of the catastrophe) gained as far speed in their developments. But I am making our whole catastrophe to get together for you some figures which may go to your purpose.

Very sincerely yours,

Librarian of Congress

President Henry Pratt Johnson
The University of Chicago
Chicago, Illinois