Third Meeting, May 22, 1917

The meeting was called to order, on notice duly issued May 15, at the Quadrangle Club, 12:45 p. m., with F. J. Miller in the chair and the following members present:

J. R. Angell  F. J. Miller
O. W. Bell    H. Miller
A. J. Carlson  E. H. Moore
J. M. Coulter  D. E. Reed
W. G. Hale    D. A. Robertson
J. M. Manly   A. W. Small
F. Merrifield J. Stieglitz
A. A. Michelson A. C. von Noé

On the suggestion of the chairman the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was omitted.

Julius Stieglitz made a report on the activities of the Scientific departments in the aid of the government, calling attention to the special work which was being conducted in chemistry, physics, biology, etc. He also stated that E. H. Moore had accepted the chairmanship of the subcommittee appointed at the last meeting to analyze and classify the information which had been collected under previous action.

Mr. Moore reported that a preliminary canvass had been made of the information resulting from the distribution of questionnaires and that it was the plan of his committee to proceed as rapidly as possible with the analysis and Mar 12, at the Governor's Club, 1600, p.m., with Dr. Miller.

In the absence and the following members present:

- E. Scott
- H. Miller
- H. W. Moore
- H. E. Ream
- J. T. A. Houghton
- A. W. S. Smith
- T. E. S. Smith
- A. C. O. Brown
- A. W. McDonald

On the suggestion of the absent, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was continued.

The minutes of the last meeting were received by the secretary and a report on the activities of the Aeronautical Department, the Society, and the government.

The society's attention is called to a report which was prepared on the scientific projects, etc., at the recent meeting of the Indian Association. The committee has expressed its appreciation of the progress made and recommends the appointment of a special committee to report on the information which has been collected under previous section.

Mr. Moore reported that a preliminary canvass had been made of the information available from the appropriation of the committee and that it was the plan of the committee to proceed as quickly as possible to complete the studies and classification of the material so that it might be available for reference.

Mr. Merrifield supplemented his report made at the last meeting regarding cooperation with alumni organizations, stating that the work of distributing questionnaires among alumni of the University had been completed and that between two and three thousand returns had been made. This report was received as evidence of the fulfilment of the work of Mr. Merrifield's committee, appointed at the meeting held March 30. After discussion, a motion was duly made, seconded and carried that it be the sense of the committee that the information obtained from alumni should be analyzed and classified at the earliest possible date, and that Messrs. Merrifield and Robertson be appointed a special sub-committee to present the matter to the proper alumni authorities and to encourage the early adoption of a plan which would make the material accessible for reference.

The chairman called attention to recent correspondence which had developed regarding the possible alliance of the committee with the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau, of Washington, D. C., and called upon Major Bell for his report on certain material which had been referred to him at the meeting held March 30. Major Bell stated that while he had not been able to obtain any very definite information regarding the organization, nevertheless he was of the opinion that the work of the committee should in some way be identified with that of the Bureau. The secretary presented a letter from Dr. Joseph B. Baycroft of Princeton University urging that the University of Chicago become allied with this Bureau. He also presented correspondence with the Director and Secretary of the Bureau urging cooperation on the part of the committee.

A motion was made by Mr. Coulter, which was duly seconded and carried, that it be the sense of the committee that we accept the invitation to cooperate with the Inter-collegiate Intelligence Bureau in its work, and that the secretary be authorized and instructed to enter into negotiations to this end.

The secretary reported progress in the organization of employees to the effect that in so far as preparedness matters were concerned in the University Press the staff had been divided, the men devoting themselves to regular drilling and the women to questions relating to Red Cross service. He also stated that a little progress has been made with other groups, but that he expected to present more encouraging information at the next meeting.

In compliance with action taken at the last meeting, Mr. Angell reported that every member of the teaching staff of the University had received a typewritten statement of the
The work of the committee applies to some way of thinking about the potential for the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Chicago to become affiliated with the same. The committee, with the help of the University of Chicago, is preparing for a meeting with the director and secretary of the University of Chicago to discuss cooperation on the part of the committee.

A motion was made by Mr. Cooper, which was only seconded and carried, that it be the sense of the committee that we accept the invitation to cooperate with the University of Chicago in forming a new group of institutions to work and that the secretary be instructed and instructed to enter into negotiations for this purpose.

The secretary reported progress in the organization of the new group, to the effect that no letter of acknowledgment had been received from the University. The details of the new group and the new relations between the institutions to cooperate are still to be determined.

He also reported that a little progress has been made with other institutions, but that he expects to present more encouraging results at the next meeting.

In compliance with section seven of the last meeting, Mr. Vogel reported that each member of the committee will make a report at the University, and receive a supplement of the report of the University.
condition under which students are receiving credits when they go into military service. He stated further that, in his judgment, the action of the Faculties had amply provided for all contingencies which might arise and that probably it would not be necessary for the committee to give further attention to the question.

Mr. Angell also reported that the Board of Physical Culture had not deemed it necessary to do away with competitive athletics for the present. In replying to expressions of dissatisfaction on the part of members of the committee, he stated that the action of the Board had been based not only upon advice received from authorities in other institutions, but from military officials as well.

The chairman called attention to the recent announcement of the appointment by President Judson of a committee to devise effective ways of using University resources in military matters, and presented for the minutes the memorandum hereunto attached marked Exhibit "A". Discussion followed, and upon motion duly made, seconded and carried Mr. David A. Robertson was appointed a sub-committee to canvass the community to see to what extent the work of the various military committees might be coordinated. Further discussion resulted in a motion duly made, seconded and carried that Chairman P. J. Miller and Mr. David A. Robertson be constituted a sub-committee to consult collaboration under which students are receiving adequate pay be into military service. He stated further that, if the "uniformed" the sections of the report and have already been not be necessary for the committee to give further assistance to the committee.

Mr. Whitefield also reported that the Board of Education

Commission did not agree it necessary to go very much with competitive test scores for the freeze. In referring to expressions of the satisfaction on the part of members of the committee he added that the action of the Board has been read not only upon me-also coming from committee in other institutions and from military officials as well.

The remains of all new activity to the Board announced matters, and requested to the minutes the reverend personage

Mr. Davy's recommendation made through a sub-committee to canvass

Mr. Davy's recommendation made thorough a sub-committee to canvass with President Judson regarding the status of the Committee on Plans and Organization and its relation to other committees concerned with military affairs, official and voluntary.

Mr. Angell made a statement with reference to recent provisions of the University for military drill as well as courses and lectures bearing on military subjects, and called attention to the announcements covering these matters. See Exhibits "B" and "C" attached.

Mr. Manly reported briefly with reference to certain special work which he is doing for the Secret Service Department of the government (see minutes of March 30), and stated that he would be willing to offer a special course in the University on the subject of codes, ciphers, etc. In the discussion which followed Major Bell stated that in his opinion such a course would be very valuable, and that probably many students who are preparing for military service would profit by such work. It was moved, seconded and carried that it be the sense of the committee that early consideration be given to this question by the proper University authorities and that the secretary be instructed to bring the matter to the attention of President Judson.

The secretary reported that, in accordance with action taken at the last meeting he had entered into correspondence with individuals and organizations "in an effort to secure information as to possible lines of service which might be rendered by members of the University." He stated that letters had been received from Major Leonard Wood, the Commanding General of the Central Department, Chief Quarter-Master of the Central Department, and others, and that his activities had developed correspondence with the Military Training Camps Association and the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau. The drift of such advice as was given seemed to be (a) in the direction of enlistments on the part of the constituents represented by the committee, and (b) toward an alliance with the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau.

Mr. Michelson raised anew the question canvassed at the meeting held April 16, of the status of members of the University called for military service. After discussion, it was moved, seconded and carried that Mr. Angell be requested to act as a sub-committee to secure an official ruling on this matter covering faculties, administrative officers and employees.

The secretary stated that a request had been received from Mr. Conyers Read that the records of the committee be made available for the historical archives of the University. Discussion indicated that probably the request was in some way related to the work of the organization referred to in Exhibit "A", and it was moved, seconded and carried that the secretary be authorized to make the records of the committee available in due course.

The chairman stated that he had received from Miss Elizabeth Wallace a "Report of the Activities for War Relief among the Men of the University and of the University Neighborhood," and submitted for the records the statement covered in Exhibit "D."

Dr. Reed stated that in his judgment considerable unnecessary confusion existed among students and others seeking information with reference to the requirements of the various lines of military service and that it was his opinion that many of the younger men were rushing into lines of service for which they were neither fitted nor needed. His judgment was based mainly on his contact with those entering the various phases of hospital service. Major Bell confirmed this opinion, and stated that he found himself utterly unable to answer inquiries which were being put to him daily by those interested in the question of army and navy enlistments. After discussion, it was moved, seconded and carried that Messrs. Reed, Merrifield and von Noë be constituted a sub-committee to assist Major Bell in making information on these matters available and, in so far as possible, advising with individuals regarding their fitness for given work.

My dear Mr. Gregory:

I am in reply to your letter of October 4, I would say that the order of the President exempting medical students from immediate service, applies only to medical students in their second, third, fourth, and interne year. First year medical students and premedical students were not included and are subject to draft on the same conditions as other men. While we should have been glad to have the freshmen and premedical students exempted as well as the others, and thought last spring from the action of the Council of National Defense that such exemption might be provided for, it is not difficult to understand why the incoming medical students were excluded from the ruling of the President. To exempt such in all medical schools would have left the door open for claims by students who had not intended to study medicine at all, but entered the medical school on that ground.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

I have the honor to request that you send me an open letter, certifying to the fact that I was graduated from the University of Chicago with the degree of Ph.B., in 1914. This letter is important to me as it affects my getting a commission in the British army. Mr. Paul G. Pierce desires a separate letter certifying to the same facts as stated above.

Three weeks past, I requested such letters to be sent to Paris. This repeated request is a further precaution. Please fulfill the request in this letter regardless of the former instructions.

Chicago, Illinois.

My dear Mr. Robertson:-

I was very pleased to receive your communication of November 7th, asking that we co-operate with you in securing a record of the University of Chicago men now in training at Camp Grant.

The Adjutant General, Colonel Heistand, has recently formulated a definite policy concerning the giving out of such lists. He directs that I write you saying, that while his personal wishes are to furnish such a list, he feels that he dare not establish a precedence, because of the demands which have recently been made upon us by the big corporations and former employers of the men now in the Camp.

He did, however, say to me that if I could personally arrange a way where this matter could be handled without breaking down the precedence which he recently had to establish, he will leave it to my judgment to get the work done. It is my belief that if you will give me a short time to work on the matter that I can find another way to get the information, which will be just as reliable and accurate as though I took it out of our files.

Your record card is a very good one and I have no suggestions to make. I am taking the liberty, however, of forwarding to you a copy of the Personnel qualification card which...

Mr. D. A. Robertson,
University of Chicago,
Chicago, Ills.

My dear Mr. Robertson:—

Since the entry of the United States into the war I have been extremely anxious to find some way in which I could be of service to the nation.

Even before the actual declaration of war I enrolled in the class in Military Science at the University, as an alumnus member, going out to the campus every afternoon for the drill and lectures. This proved very unsatisfactory, however, owing to the great amount of time that I was obliged to spend going and coming, and also to the interference with my work downtown. Finding that I was getting very little good out of the experiment, I finally felt compelled to drop out. Later, when the alumni battalion was formed for drill two evenings a week, I joined that, but this also proved unsatisfactory owing to the very small amount of real work that can be done in only two evenings a week.

As a matter of fact, I have been out of physical training so long, and my activities have been along strictly intellectual lines for so many years, that I fear it is impracticable for me to attempt to qualify as an officer in the armed forces.

Furthermore, it happens that I am over the age limit prescribed in the conscription act, and so the government does not desire my services in the field at this time. Hence I feel that I can, with a perfectly good conscience, seek service in some other branch of war activity.

Being exempt from the draft, I could, of course, avoid service of any kind. I do not wish to take advantage of my immunity, however, as I feel that I could render valuable service to the Government in some capacity or other.

As I understand that you are directing to a large extent the University's participation in the war, I am wondering whether you could find a suitable place for me in some one of the various organizations that are being formed under
The Business Philosopher

The meaning of life is not to be found in the things we possess, but in the things we create. The true value of a life is not measured by the amount of things one accumulates, but by the amount of happiness one can create for others.

I have always believed that the greatest gift one can give to another is not material wealth, but the gift of one's time and energy, of listening and understanding. In this way, we can make a difference in the world, and leave a lasting legacy.

In a world where materialism has become the norm, it is important to remember that true wealth is not measured by the amount of possessions we have, but by the love and friendships we create. The true value of life is to be found in the relationships we build and the memories we create together.

So, let us not waste our time on the unimportant, but focus on the things that truly matter. Let us create a world where love and compassion reign supreme, and where every person is valued for who they are, not what they possess.

In conclusion, let us strive to be the change we wish to see in the world. Let us be the light that shines in the darkness, and let us create a world where all are welcome and all are loved.

COPY OF LETTER

SECOND COMPANY 310th MILITARY POLICE 85th DIVISION, Camp Custer, Mich.
October 23rd, 1917.

From: Commanding Officer, 2nd Co. M.P.

To: Cadet Lt. Darwin Curtis

Subject: Making the backbone of an army.

1. I am putting this heading on the letter to let you see the way we have to address our letters when we get into the regular service. I have learned from your brother of the exceedingly good work you are doing at the University of Chicago Corps of Cadets, in training men to become efficient noncommissioned officers. Only a man in my position can thoroughly appreciate the nature of the work you are doing and know to what great advantage the men are being used that you turn out of your short course. I have heard army officers from all parts of the United States make the statement that the noncommissioned officers are the heart and soul of a company, especially a First Sergeant, for he is the connecting link between the officers and men of his organization, and a company can be either ruined or made a crack - er - jack by the personality, knowledge and ability of the First Sergeant. I heartily endorse these statements.

2. It has been found that the splitting up of many old organizations and sending many of the men as noncommissioned officers to the new army and skeletonizing some of these old organizations and filling them in to their full quota by men from the National Army, as well as many new organizations of the new army being formed, has caused a great demand for noncommissioned officers; that is, men who have had training before coming to the cantonment. I have heard officers from Rockford state that the noncommissioned officers supplied from the University of Chicago are a very desirable type of men and seem to have been instructed very well for they are able to hold down their jobs to the complete satisfaction of the company commanders. I only wish that I were as lucky in being able to draw on an organization like the University of Chicago for noncommissioned officers who are already trained. Here at Camp Custer we have been fortunate in having sent to us from various National Guard organizations many noncommissioned officers who are a very great help in whipping into shape these new companies.

3. I should like to have it arranged somehow so that in the future Wisconsin and Michigan can reap some of the benefits of your work and as an old University man myself, I would think it would be the best move the University of Chicago could make to enlarge this course for drafted men.

4. There is also a great need for men with the ability to handle paperwork and would recommend that a course be established that would instruct noncommissioned officers so that they could handle successfully a company's paperwork.
Congratulating you on your good work, I am sincerely.

Dear President:

You, doubtless will be interested to hear something from us. The University of Chicago unit is now securely quartered and have drawn most of our supplies and are now on the same status as other companies that have been here for some weeks. The new organization provides for five companies to a battalion. The Chicago group has been divided into four complete companies of forty-five men each; each under the command of a first lieutenant. There will be one more company assigned to us; five companies thus constitute a battalion under command of the captain. This is the organization according to the French Army plan.

There are about five thousand men in camp here including two base hospitals. Allentown is a concentration and training point for medical organizations soon to go to France to join the French Army. We do not know whether as announced some time ago we shall ever be assigned to the American Army. Rumor has it that the French are so badly in need of physicians, it is contemplated that a certain number of men from the line will be promoted to the rank of first lieutenant and the majority of the doctors be assigned to base hospitals of the French Army. I am greatly surprised at the number of physicians one encounters here who prefer not to do technical medical work. I suppose that it is the proximity of the firing line with its activities which makes them prefer the direction of companies with ambulance work.

There is, I believe, no question but that everyone here will be sent abroad to join the French Army. The Chicago men seem to have given an excellent account of themselves. We are the largest ambulance unit that has ever been organized in the United States and Colonel Persons took occasion to pay a high tribute to the University of Chicago group. In the matter of mechanics, musicians, cooks and laboratory men, we seem to be better equipped and organized than any one else. The portable laboratory has attracted a great deal of attention among the medical men here. It is now being used as the Post Medical Laboratory and two of the Chicago boys are doing all the laboratory work for the entire camp. It is probable that this arrangement will continue even after we get to France.

My dear Mr. Robertson:

The University of Chicago Rifle Club has been very active during the past year, and a large number of men have received training with both the service and the sub-caliber rifle. I do not have the exact record of membership at hand, this being in the hands of the club secretary, Mr. von Nose, but the membership is over 500.

All the members of the club have had training with the sub-caliber rifle, expending approximately 120,000 rounds of miniature, and 12,000 rounds of service ammunition.

Outdoor target practice was had at the Fort Sheridan range every Saturday until the range was closed to riflemen by orders of army officers. Apparently certain experts in the art of war do not think that a soldier should be able to use his rifle effectively.

When Captain Moffett, the commandant at Great Lakes learned of the closing of the Fort Sheridan range, he set aside one day in the week for civilian riflemen to use the splendid new range which had just been completed under the direction of Major Harlee, U. S. M. C. Too much cannot be said concerning the courteous treatment we receive from the officers and men of the navy and Marine Corps. These branches of the service evidently know the value of well trained riflemen.

One of our greatest handicaps has been the lack of expert riflemen to serve as instructors. Members of the club who have qualified as expert and sharpshooter have given ungrudgingly much of their time to instruction. At Great Lakes this difficulty is not met, an instructor being assigned to each man.

According to the regulations laid down by the National Rifle Association 78 men have qualified with the service rifle; 55 marksmen, 16 sharpshooters and 7 as expert rifleman. These qualifications were made according to Navy and Marine Corps rules, which are much more difficult than the army rules as well as more practical.

The present indoor range, although small, is exceptionally well equipped, having every safety device which can be devised. The equipment of rifles is unusually good, consisting of two springfields, four Stevens "Military", two Remington repeating and one Ross "Military miniature". During the coming year it is the intention to use service rifles for gallery practice, satisfactory reduced charges having been worked out for these rifles by myself.

The range has not been found large enough to accommodate the number of men who come for practice.

In addition to members of the rifle club and the R. O. T. C., a large number of men of the first call received instruction in rifle practice.

Perhaps I should not speak of my own endeavors, but for your personal information I will do so. Knowing the absolute helplessness of the who does not know how to use the modern rifle, for the past two years I have spent most of the time I could spare from University duties in giving instruction in the use of the rifle. Also, looking for sources of supplies for military explosives, I found and reported on a new and abundant source in a plant which has hitherto been a great nuisance. I understand that the Navy Department has acted on this information. Again, I have been passing on the suitability of American peat mosses for dressing wounds.

Very truly yours,

The importance of the eras for military strategy, it is understood that the first era of military history, which embraces about five centuries, defined the character of warfare for all the time to come, and it will affect to a great extent the way in which the subject is treated in this work. The first era, therefore, is characterized by two distinct features:

1. The use of horse-back

2. The use of the sword as a weapon of defence and attack.

The sword was the principal weapon of warfare in the first era, and it was used not only for offensive purposes, but also for defensive purposes. The horse-back was the principal mode of transportation, and it was used for both offensive and defensive purposes.

The first era of characterized by the features are the

Mr. D. H. Robertson,

Dear Sir:

Received your letter, forwarded from my home address, some time ago, and appreciated it very much.

I am one of the enlisted personnel of the Distances Office, Supply Division, and am enjoying my work, and finding that my class course at Chicago is very helpful, and expect it will have much to do with my promotion.

Respectfully,

Lawrence W. Larson,

Dear Dave:

One method of securing an inclusive list of men here at camp would be to have some active alumni here at the camp post a sheet on the bulletin board of each company asking University of Chicago alumni to sign the same. Let me know what you think of this plan. There are of course other methods, which would take up considerable precious time.

I am fine to know of the comfortable situation at the house regarding freshmen. I understand that you maintain a watchful eye, which is a might fine thing in these offensive times. Internally, please send record.

Sincerely,

Mr. D. A. Robertson,
The President's Office,
The University of Chicago.

Dear Sir,

It has been some time since I received your letter which I believe was sent to most of the alumni that were in the Service. To those of us who received it, it was indeed most gratifying to know that our Alma Mater appreciated our very humble effort to do what I am sure every true and loyal "Chicago Man" will do for this, the most glorious of all wars, which is for pure Principle without the customary materialistic reward.

Things have been moving along so fast since I received your communication while in Training Camp at Ft. Sheridan that it has seemed but a few days instead of a few months. I am sure that you will pardon this very belated reply.

Fultz, Dan W. Ferguson and Bob Hunter, who went to the University about 1902, were in the same battery with me there. Jimmy Lightbody, Rudy Matthews and Harvey Harris were in the battery next to us. Saw Sauer, Gray, Boyle and McConnell about the camp. Was quite surprised to see Dean Gale there. Every Chicago Man that I knew was in camp "came thru" in true Chicago style and landed commissions.

At present, I am located at Camp Funston, Kansas with the 342nd Field Artillery. It would surprise you to see what strides have been made here toward getting the men in shape. The spirit and capacity for hard work is almost incomceivable.

With best of regards to you and the University,

Dear Sir,

I trust you have some time I can repay your letter.

I am most pleased to hear you are going to the United States. I am informed it is an interesting country to know about. The Executive Office of Government is in charge of the government of the country.

I have been told the government of Ethiopia, which is in charge of the government, is very interesting to know about. The country's capital is Addis Ababa.

I hope you can get some time to visit the capital and see the government buildings. I am sure you will find it interesting.

I have been told the government of Ethiopia is interested in the country's economy and the people. I am sure you will find it interesting to know about.

I hope you have a good time in Ethiopia.

With best wishes,

Dear [Name]:

I sent a copy of this letter to your Chief and get the enclosed reply. It is the only one so far. The man definitely declines to cooperate, and I will come to the History Department for me. (Copy)

The History Department has been instructed to maintain a record of the activity of members of the University in the preparation for and the conduct of the present war. This record is to include work of all sorts performed by undergraduates, graduates, alumni and faculty, in any way contributing to the solution of the national problem. With a view to the collection of data regarding the activity of the facculties, I am writing to request that you prepare and send to me a detailed statement of the work of this sort which the individual members of your department are, or have been, engaged in. This information will be entered upon cards and added to from time to time as further information is received. The purpose of this record is, of course, purely historical. The question of its publication has not yet been raised.
It is desirable, of course, that the reports shall be as full and as specific as possible. Activities of the following sort should properly be included in the report:

a) The writing of books or pamphlets or newspaper and magazine articles bearing upon the war.

b) The delivery of lectures bearing upon the war.

c) Membership in associations dealing with war problems.

d) Drill work.

e) Government service of all kinds in any way connected with the war.

f) Scientific investigation directed toward the solution of any problems presented by the war.

I shall be much obliged for the report of your department at your earliest convenience.

Yours very truly,

Dear Mr. Read:

I regret to say that I have no facilities for procuring the information asked for in your note of May 22d. I am interested in the preservation of such a record as you propose, but it does not seem to me fair to ask Heads of Departments, who are already overburdened with work, to undertake the collection of this information.

I return herewith card which I have filled out in behalf of my son Harry F. Vories, Jr., who volunteered in the American Field Service in France in May, but who finished his Freshman year at the University of Chicago at my request before he sailed for France.

It is his wish and my own that he should be carried on the roll of students of the Chicago University, as it was his intention to enter the Sophomore class at the beginning of the present term.

I assume that this can be done with the notation that "he is absent on military service."

Dear Mr. Newman,

Perhaps you would remember me from last year when I attended the university for awhile. Now I made a big mistake that I joined the Medical Corps thinking that I may be drafted. I did not know long after that they did not draft those who intended to take up medicine. Now will you do me a favor? I am trying to obtain a furlough in order to come back next quarter and continue my studies. Last year I have not been able to attend university longer on account of my ill health. Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent events that have taken place in our community. As a member of the Young Men's Christian Association, I feel compelled to address these issues openly and honestly.

The recent reports of vandalism and acts of aggression in our neighborhood have caused much distress among our local residents. It is clear that these events are not only a violation of our community's peace but also a reflection of deeper societal issues.

I am calling for a united effort to address these concerns. It is essential that we come together as a community to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all our residents. We must work towards creating a more inclusive and supportive environment where everyone feels heard and valued.

Please consider calling a community meeting to discuss these matters further. I believe that collective action can lead to positive change.

I am able to speak six languages and I do not think I will not be able to get out on furlough and resume my studies. He also told me that he knew a Navy boy who got out on furlough to resume his premedical studies. Now I can't see why not be the same thing with me. Please let me hear from you how I can be able to get a furlough? Hoping to hear from you as soon as possible.

Dear Mr. Payne:

I have been away from Chicago for ten days, which explains why I have not sooner acknowledged receipt of your letter of 13th instant.

I assure you that I very much appreciate the fact that my son is still regarded as a member of the University. If you have a Roll of Honor of members absent on military service, his name should appear in that list. He has been under fire many times, is well and in high spirits and will, I am sure, not discredit the University of Chicago in the service in which he is engaged.

My dear President Judson:

To the activities in which the University and Rush Medical College are engaged in the service of the Nation, we are just adding another in undertaking to provide courses of instruction for the assistant surgeons admitted to the medical department of the United States Navy.

This is being done at the special request of Surgeon General Braisted of the United States Navy, as the resources of the Naval Medical School at Washington are quite inadequate to afford the usual courses of preparation for the large number of men now entering this service. These men are therefore being distributed to various Naval stations, and we have organized at Rush Medical College courses of intensive instruction of six weeks' duration for the attending surgeons assigned to the Great Lakes Station.

You will be interested to know that a number of the members of our faculty have been ordered to training stations, possibly to be utilized later as instructors in the medical department of the Army.

Asst. Prof. Irons and David have been ordered to Ft. Benjamin Harrison; Assoc. Prof. B. C. H. Harvey and Dr. Jos. Davis, Dr. F. C. Gateswood, W. P. Seglets, H. K. Nicoll, and Wall T. Robertson have been ordered to Ft. Riley, Kansas, and Carey Culbertson to Ft. Snelling.

Dear Mr. Robertson,

I received the "Greeting" from the University yesterday, the day after Christmas, and having finally caught up with me after a Departmental trip, I appreciated it greatly and read with interest the account of the University's activities at this time.

There are a number of Chicago men here, most of them having taken the first course in the Ordnance work at the University. We shall, however, be separated within a short time. Among these are O. E. Newman '13, J. J. Dailey '14, S. A. Bould '18, H. A. Morse '15, O. Swett '17, W. W. Wohlle '18, etc.

Would like to receive the "Magazine," which will reach me if mailed to this address. Kindly remit me to Dean Irwin and Dean Boynton.

We had a very satisfactory trip across + have been working hard since arriving.

Sincerely yours,

Harry H. Young '15
But if the point is that, it is not clear what is the problem. It is important to note that in some cases, the problem is not a typo but a misunderstanding of the concept.

For example, if we consider the concept of "mass" in physics, it is not a simple measurement but rather a fundamental property of matter. It is important to understand the difference between mass and weight, and the role of gravity in determining weight.

Another example is in the field of biology, where the concept of "DNA" is crucial for understanding genetic information. The structure of DNA is complex and requires knowledge of molecular biology.

In both cases, it is important to understand the underlying principles and concepts, rather than simply memorizing facts. This requires a deeper level of comprehension and critical thinking.

It is also important to note that the concept of "understanding" is subjective and can vary depending on the individual's perspective. What one person considers to be understood may be different from another person's understanding.

In conclusion, it is important to approach knowledge with a critical mindset and to seek a deeper understanding of the concepts rather than relying solely on memorization. This requires a willingness to question and challenge the information presented and to seek out alternative sources of information.

Furthermore, it is important to recognize that knowledge is not static and that new information and discoveries are constantly being made. This requires a commitment to lifelong learning and a willingness to adapt and change one's understanding as new information becomes available.

Lastly, it is important to recognize that knowledge is a powerful tool, but it must be used responsibly. It is crucial to consider the implications of our understanding and to use it for the benefit of all, rather than for personal gain or to advance one's own agenda.

In reply to your letter of commendation to the capacity in which the University graduates and students are doing their part in the great world war, will give you my record up to date. On October 27th I enlisted in the Quarteat that time taking the Stores Course at the University. On the 18th of December we were called into active service and transferred to the National Army and assigned to this camp for mobilization and training. As yet I have not been assigned to a permanent company, but am expecting an order any day to be transferred to some specific company for some specific duty or to some other camp for quartermaster functions there, as many are being put into such positions who have never before had any training in the organization of this branch of the service. In this same company there are three others who took the stores course, namely, Harry A. Hanke, Paul G. Carlson, and Charles A. Mortensen, all Corporals, and two others who took this course have been transferred, namely, Corp. Julius

How long I, or for that matter, any of these men will be in this camp can not be told with any degree of certainty, as on account of the great need of men to fill the openings, men are being moved out daily without the training which they came here to receive. The climate here is varied, ranging from light snow and frost to hot sultry weather such as we are having this afternoon. The camp is slowly approaching a finished state, though many of the details are now only crude and they will probably not be changed to any extent in the near future on account of the pressing need of new work. You probably know that Francis Townley (1917) is in aviation now at San Antonio, Texas; and that Roland George (1916) is also in aviation. The last I knew his address was Mineola, Long Island, but he expected to leave there almost at once.

W. C. Toepelmann, Fellow in the Department of Geology, has gone into aviation.

Holly Reed Bennett, Fellow in the Department of Geology, has gone into the meteorological service, and has been sent to Indianapolis for preliminary training.

Bernard Schockel, graduate student in Geography, near his Doctor's degree, has also gone into meteorological service, and has been sent to St. Louis for preliminary training.

Both Bennett and Schockel expect to be transferred to Washington in a few weeks.

My dear Mr. Robertson:

Before announcing your letter to Dr. Ford and I agreed to call your attention or rather attention of the office to the fact that the Department of Physiological Chemistry and Pharmacology is now distinct from the Department of Physiology. This will probably save delay in correspondence particularly when a given notice pertaining particularly to one of these departments is sent to the former chairman of both departments.

The following were in the Service of the Nation:

Afternoons were devoted to lectures, laboratory work, and laboratory demonstrations on nervous physiology. The course opened Nov. 6 and ended Nov. 23. The Adjutant of the school, Maj. No other faculty members are absent at present from this department. However, Dr. H.B. Hager, formerly assistant in Pharmacology, is now Assistant Surgeon with the Atlantic fleet; also Siegfried Maurer, formerly assistant in Physiological Chemistry is 1st Lieutenant in the Headquarters Company, 344th Infantry, Camp Grant. Mr. Earl Thompson, unclassified student and formerly store-keeper, resigned to enter the medical service. He is located in St. Louis.

Dear Sir:

As you are well aware, a class of surgeons made up from the Medical Reserve Corps, U.S. Army, has just finished a course on Brain Surgery in the Departments of Anatomy and Physiology of the University of Chicago. The course began November 1st and was to end November 15th, but the members of the class found the instruction so profitable that by unanimous request the course was extended to include November 23rd.

On behalf of the class, who are unanimous in their opinion as to the course, we wish to thank the University of Chicago for the splendid opportunities extended to us. We bear testimony to the ability and earnestness of the heads of the departments of Anatomy, Physiology and Neurology, as well as that of their assistants. All of these men have given evidence of thorough knowledge of their subjects and a disposition to make every effort to impart this knowledge to us. We are also greatly impressed with the excellent team work, not only each department, but between the different departments by reason of which the courses are made to supplement one another. We also noted with pleasure the excellence of the

We wish to extend to the Trustees of the University of Chicago and to all of the Instructors with whom we came in contact, our most sincere thanks for the splendid efforts made to render the course a most valuable one.

For your records I would like to inform you that Dr. R. F. Bacon, Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1904, and Director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, University of Pittsburgh, has been appointed Lieutenant Colonel and will have charge of the experimental work on gases in France.

Dr. William Lloyd Evans, Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1905, is Captain in the Ordnance Department and on duty in Washington in connection with the chemical service.

Mr. Leo Finkelstein, instructor on leave in the Department of Chemistry and Mr. L. E. Roberts, assistant on leave in the Department of Chemistry will shortly go to France in Dr. Bacon's staff.

Dr. Robertson

Dear Dr. Robertson:

I would like to call your attention to the changes made in the list of men in service from the Chemistry Department. The Dr. Hall who is in France is Dr. Robert A. Hall, Ph. D. of 1907 and Fellow at that time and not the Dr. R.E. Hall who was associate in the Department and took his Degree in 1916.

I am adding the name of William Henry Kuh who took his M. S. in December, 1913 and who was assistant in the Department at that time. He is a chemist in the Sanitary service in a cantonment in Georgia.

Perhaps the President would like to include in his statement on Tuesday the following, which should not as yet be published since the appointment as far as I know has not gone through the final stages! Dr. Raymond F. Bacon, Ph. D. in Chemistry of 1904 and Fellow at that time, Director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, is going to France as Lieutenant Colonel in charge of the experimental department of Gas Offense. He is organizing a large staff of chemists including Mr. Leo Finkelstein, Mr. L. E. Roberts mentioned in the previous list. I will notify you as soon as I hear that the facts may be published.

Mr. Clarence E. Irion, undergraduate and laboratory attendant in this Department, has joined the Ordnance Department as chemist. Mr. Henry M. Keating, undergraduate and student assistant has entered the radio service.

Items concerning people who are still with us and which might be included in the University record are the following: Dr. Schlesinger and his assistants, Messrs. Popoff and Mullinix, have completed the investigation for the improvement of the yield of permanganate, working in collaboration with Armour and Company. The work of the Chairman of the Department on synthetic drugs is being continued with the aid of Miss Mary Rising and Mr. W. J. Suer and work on the utilization of a bi-product for the preparation of an explosive is being conducted with the aid of Mr. A.T. NePherson. Mr. C. A. Nash and Mr. F. Blicke have continued work on the problem of the absorption of carbon monoxide. Other work is in the stage of being organized.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Robertson:

It may interest you in case the copy of the University record is not already in print, that Lieutenant Colonel Bacon (Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1904) is now on his way to France to take charge of the division of chemistry at the front and that with him are Mr. Leo Finkelstein, Instructor in this Department on leave and Mr. L. E. Roberts, Assistant in this Department on leave. I am also informed that Dr. William Lloyd Evans, Ph. D. in Chemistry 1905 is a Captain in the Ordnance Department and has been appointed to establish a new factory in the east for ordnance work. Dr. R. E. Hall, Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1916 is entering the service and will cooperate with Dr. Evans in this undertaking. He has been active under Dr. A. L. Day of the Carnegie Institution in the preparation of optical glass for the Government which has been one of the most successful operations in chemistry.

Dr. W. A. Roberts, Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1916 is in the service of the inspectors department of the Aviation Corps on duty in Chicago.

Mr. C. R. Olson, B. S. in Chemistry, 1915, who has recently taken his Ph. D. in Chemistry at the University of California is enrolled in Chemistry service for the Government and will go to France with the staff of chemists being organized by Dr. Bacon, Ph. D. Chicago, 1904.

Dear Dr. Robertson:

Dr. R. F. Bacon informs me that his appointment as Lieutenant-Colonel to have charge of the Chemistry Division for service in France has been officially acted upon. There would, therefore, be no objection in publishing the fact. He has also informed me that Mr. James K. Senior, Ph. D. in Chemistry, 1917, has been made First Lieutenant and will be a member of the staff going to France.

Recently I informed you that this department had arranged with the Aviation Department in Chicago to take care of such analytical work as might be necessary in materials required for aeroplanes. The offer was gratefully accepted by the Aviation Department. At my suggestion our Dr. Wendt visited Dr. Kawin, head of one of the large technical laboratories in the city to consult with him in regard to methods and Dr. Kawin very obligingly not only offered to help us but offered to undertake all the work for the government free of charge. As he has a splendidly equipped laboratory to carry out this work with the utmost speed and is a perfectly competent man, I recommended to the Aviation Department that his offer be accepted with the understanding that we would assist either with our men or with our equipment if and as needed. That arrangement has now been carried out and as a result this department is not carrying the work we had planned to do.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. D. A. Robertson,

My dear Mr. Robertson:

Mr. Raymond E. Lamborn, Assistant in Geology, has withdrawn from the University for Government meteorological service, and probably will be sent to France before long.

Mr. Bernard H. Schockel, near his Ph. D. degree in Geography, has also entered the meteorological service.

Mr. Holly Reed Bennett, near his Ph.D. degree in Geology, has also entered the meteorological service.

My dear Mr. Robertson:

In connection with the roster of the University of Chicago faculty members with the national service, returned herewith, I would raise the question concerning Mr. Canning. Mr. Canning would not have been a member of the instructing staff in Political Economy during the current year but had been appointed at Leland Stanford University. I believe, however, that he left here last May, at which time he was a member of the Department.

Mr. Viner's appointment in connection with the Tariff Commission is not, as I understand it, a war position, but perhaps you were not intending to make the list exclusively such.

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Sir:

In connection with the enclosed, I have little to add.

Professor Tower's appointment has not been actually his eyes cause him to be rejected.

It is almost certain that some of the other men now should not be included.

I will keep you posted as to further changes as they

Dear Dr. Robertson:

Mr. Fred Neher, Professor of Organic Chemistry Princeton University, Fellow in the Department of Chemistry 1895-8 should be added to the list of our University men who are serving the Government. Dear Mr. Robertson, Complying with your request this morning I am giving the following data about my war work here in Chicago: I was appointed last June as Director of Government Free Navigation School of the United States Shipping Board. I began work on July 16 and have conducted the school since then. The work will probably continue for some time to come. Its purpose is to gather in men who in the past have had sea experience as well as pilots and masters from the Great Lakes, to train them intensively for a period of six weeks in the theory and practice of navigation and to assist them in getting placed as deck officers on the boats of the Merchant Marine. All the men whom I have recommended for licenses have passed the examination under the Steamboat Inspection Service of the Department of Commerce.

Thirty officers have been placed so far from this school and in another week or two about twenty more will be assigned to boats, which have been built on the Lakes, to take them out to the coast whence they will go directly into the trans-Atlantic service.

Any other information which you might wish concerning this, I shall be glad to give you if you will call up my office, Randolph 4350.

Very truly yours

Alice J. Lee

6th session full enrollment.

began 15th Feb.
Some officers have been picked up and are in another week or two more quickly.

Some may go nearest to posts which have been built on the lakes to take them out to the coast.

I’ll go directly into the truck tomorrow.

Dear Sir,

Believing that you may be interested in the experiences of one of those who attended the third class in the study of the Ordnance Supply Service I am sending this brief summary.

I was called to Rock Island on Sept. 31st. On Nov. 1st I received my warrant as Ordnance Sergeant and was assigned by request from Washington as instructor and squad leader to remain at Rock Island. I remained there until Dec. 25th. Then I was called to Washington and am now with the Supplies Division as instructor of Entry Clerks in the Balance of Stores Office.
Will be glad to give any other information possible in reference to myself or other Chicago students now in Washington, many of them being here.

Yours very truly,

Harry E. Hillstrom

Dear Dave,

I hope President Judson won't think ill of me for failing to answer his letter -- and on Italian paper, too. I'm afraid that the university was piggish last summer and bought too much in a desire to be entirely distinctive. But notwithstanding porcinity, distinction is laudable. There are times, often, when I am rather pleased with not being classified among the commissioned officers. They look so funny.

Your return envelope was, I gather, intended to correct a mailing list. I am helping the intention as well as I can, though next month I expect to leave for somewhere or other -- I hope for the United States. Texas has too much individuality. It would be nice to hear a voice that by its intonation doesn't betray the culture -- or is it the cult? -- of the bigger mammy. But doubtless almost anybody in the northern camps could wish for a winter in the south.

Have a merry Christmas and don't let Dave Junior eat too much candy.

Fraternally,

Dear Dad,

I face a difficult decision now. I think I'll be new to falling to receive the letter -- any letter. I realize that the situation is serious, and I respect your concern and your right to know in a matter of importance, but I have had very little time to prepare for this event. I have never been away from home before, and I am not sure how I will make it. Please do not worry too much about my safety. I will do my best to keep you informed of my progress. I love you and miss you very much.

Yours truly,

My dear Mr. Rableston:

I have just been selected from fifty candidates to attend the Army Officers Training School which opens here Jan. 5th. I gratefully appreciate your influence in this, and the weight of your influence in causing a letter from President Judson to be written in my behalf. I trust Mr. Rableston, that the outcome on April 5th may not be disappointing to you.

Most Cordially yours,

My dear Mr. Hulette:

In response to your letter of April 27 I enclose herewith the statement desired. I judge from your letter that you expect to enlist in the United States service. When you enter active service please let us know your position and command for record. If you know of any other University of Chicago students entering United States service, military or civil, please inform us, and oblige.

Yours sincerely,

In replying refer to No.

Mr. David Allen Robertson,
University of Chicago,
Chicago, Ill.

My dear Mr. Robertson:

It is rather a bad time to thank a man for a past favor, only when you are asking another, but I am about to do that very thing.

First, I will relate to you my experiences, since you so kindly gave me the former letter of recommendation, addressed to Lieutenant Rasnick. I left the day following my visit to you for Washington, presented the letter of the President, together with one from Dean Hall, one from Dean Marshall, and one from the Judge of our Local Court. I was told that I would have to go to work immediately, but very fortunately, due to the fact that at the time enlistments were prohibited by men who had been rejected in the first draft, I could not then enlist. Accordingly, went home, tried a law suit, won it getting judgment for $6,500, which suit was for $10,000. Started for Washington thirty-six hours later, enlisted as a Private Second Class, and was sworn in at Fort Myer, Virginia, on December 12, 1917, and assigned in charge of the purchase contract work of the Motor Equipment Section of the Ordnance Department. Then when the reorganization struck the Department, I was assigned to the centralized Legal Section of the Procurement Division, where I find I was prior to the reorganization, the only enlisted man having charge of a contract section in any subdivision of the Ordnance Department. I have been made a Sergeant, which brings me to the present point, and my new request.

I shall probably ask to be recommended by my Commanding Officer for a Commission. This cannot be done, I understand, until I have been in the service three months, but I want to have my letters ready when the time arrives, and I now would like to ask that President Judsen grant me this further favor of a letter of recommendation for a Commission. This letter should be directed to the Chief of Ordnance, Ordnance Department, Washington, D. C., and I would suggest that it contain, in addition to subject matter similar to that of the former letter, or as the President desires, a reference showing that the President is conversant with the fact that the one recommended is applying for a Commission, in the Ordnance Department. As before, I am going to ask Dean Hall for a letter regarding my law school qualifications.
