It is clear that the new draft law as proposed by the government will materially affect a number of our instructors. Steps are being taken to protect the instructional staffs of the colleges against too sudden disintegration, but the success of these attempts cannot at present be predicted. Meantime it seems wise to forecast as far as possible the probable effects upon our own teaching force. Will you therefore be kind enough to prepare at once and as accurately as your knowledge permits a statement regarding the men in your own department which will indicate by name (1) the instructors who will be involved if the draft law is made to include ages up to forty-five, and (2) the probable classification which such men will receive? Men physically unfit or with dependent families will presumably be put in deferred or limited-service classes.

Your prompt co-operation will be much appreciated.

Yours very truly,

Vice-President Angell,

Dear Mr. Angell:

Replying to your letter of August 13th in the absence of Dean Hall.

The following members of the Law Faculty are under the age of forty-five: Mr. Woodward, who will reach the age of forty-five in February, 1919; Mr. Bigelow, who will reach the age of forty-five in September, 1919; Mr. Oliphant and Mr. Bills. Mr. Woodward and Mr. Oliphant are in war service at the present time and will remain absent from the University for an indefinite period. Mr. Bills has been twice classified in Class V and on the ground of physical disability is not likely to be called on for service. Mr. Bigelow not only is very near the upper limit but also would in all probability be excused from service,

Very truly yours,

Acting Dean.

Dear Mr. Angell:

Replying to your inquiry of Aug. 16, the following members of the Dept. of Oriental Languages will be included by the proposed new draft law:

1. D. D. Luckenbill, married, no children, wife not dependent on him; physically very strong; likely to be put in Class one or two.

2. Martha Strengthen, married, three small children, wife and children entirely dependent on him; physically very strong; likely to be put in a deferred class.

3. Samuel Harper, unmarried, physically strong, likely to be taken at once.

All other members of the department are over forty-five years of age.

The recent case of Professor Barden's appointment as head of the department of philosophy at the University of California has occasioned much discussion and comment. It seems to me that this appointment is a significant development in the field of philosophy in this country. The University of California has a long history of excellence in education and research, and the addition of Professor Barden will undoubtedly enrich the department and contribute to its further development.

Dear Mr. Angell:

Regarding the effect of the new draft regulation on the instructional staff in this department I have the following statement to make.

Shiro Tashiro, unless he claims exemption will probably be in deferred class on account of dependent family of wife and child.

A. L. Tatum, in deferred class on account of family of wife and three children, will be in the new draft.

E. C. Mason, married, no children, was rejected on account of hernia and by special permission from surgeon general's office was transferred to the medical reserve.

H. M. Sheaff, has wife and child, was originally put in class 5, but is now in the medical reserve.

H. B. Dabbs, unmarried and has no dependents, will be in the new draft, is a medical student and probably will then be in the medical reserve.

J. V. Lawrence, single and is in the medical reserves.

F. C. Koch, in deferred class on account of dependent wife, will be in the new draft.

There will be two assistants in Pharmacology, but they no doubt will be in the medical reserves.

I expect that all men needed for the teaching of medical courses will be deferred except those placed in a special service class.

Dear Mr. Angell:

In compliance with your request of August 16th I have made an inquiry regarding the relation of the men on our staff to the new draft law. I would report as follows:

1. Professor Harkins is forty-four years old and has a wife and two children and a mother-in-law dependent on him. He certainly would not be drawn in the draft.

2. Professor Schlesinger has a wife and two children dependent on him and he also supports his mother-in-law. He should also be put in a deferred classification and not be liable to draft.

3. Professor Piccard is a Swiss and not subject to the draft.

4. Professor Glattfeld has a wife but no child, and Mrs. Glattfeld has supported herself before and presumably could do so again if necessary. He would be subject to draft and if not detailed back to the Department for instructing enlisted men in Chemistry, he would without question enter the Chemical Warfare Service of the Army. It would be a very serious handicap to lose his services, but what action could be taken in the situation would depend entirely on the rulings of the Government in regard to the detailing of men of draft age to continue as instructors in colleges.

5. Professor Wendt is on leave of absence in service.

6. Professor Ethel Terry is, of course, not subject to draft.

7. Mr. De Beukelaer, Instructor, has a wife and child dependent on him.

8. Miss Rising, Associate, is not subject to draft.

My dear Mr. Angell:-

The following members of the English Department are subject to draft if the age is raised to 45: Associate Professors C. R. Baskervill, T. F. Goss, J. W. Linn, D. A. Robertson, F. H. Boynton; Assistant Professor J. R. Hulbert; Messrs. C. H. Grabo and F. M. Webster. I believe that these men will receive deferred classification on physical grounds, with the exception of Mr. Hulbert. In addition they all have dependent families. Should they be called to the colors it will be possible to replace their work, after a fashion, at short notice with the exception of Mr. Goss's courses in Celtic.

My dear Mr. Tablet:

The following specimen of the morning newspapers was sent to me by a friend in the United States who declared it "especially appropriate for your consideration." I have read it twice, and it seems to me that it is not so much a news article as a political statement. It appears to be a plea for the cooperation of all neutral powers in the promotion of peace. The writer calls upon the nations to work together for the establishment of a just and lasting peace. He believes that the United States has a duty to take a leading part in this movement, and he suggests that the President should immediately send a special envoy to Europe to discuss the question with the other powers.

The University of Chicago,

My dear Mr. Angell:

At the present time the staff of Pathology consists of only two instructors, Dr. George T. Caldwell, and myself, both within the proposed draft age. Dr. Caldwell is only continuing with us until he can get his M.D. degree, and I am quite sure that as soon as that happens, probably at the end of the Spring Quarter, he will go into the service whether drafted or not. I, myself, at present am giving almost my entire time to the Government as a member of the Medical Council of the Gas Defense Division of the Chemical Warfare Service, and as Chairman of the Committee on Industrial Poisonings Among Munitions Workers of the National Research Council. Our laboratories and those of the Sprague Institute are given over almost entirely to research work in this field, so that I presume that in case of the draft I would be given deferred classification as already engaged in Government work, being commissioned at $1.00 a year in the Chemical Warfare Service. It is highly probable, however, that when our work on Industrial Poisonings becomes better organized that the Government will ask my services either in Washington or in France. On the other hand, as you know there is also a possibility that medical school instructors will be enlisted and drafted and then assigned to teaching our enlisted medical students.

Replying to yours of the 16: The following men in the Department of Geography will be affected by the new draft law: Mr. H. H. Barrows will go into Class IV. He is now in Washington doing government work. He will be there until January first, and probably longer. Mr. Walter S. Tower will go into Class II. Mr. Tower is in Washington in an important position in the shipping board work, and there is no probability of his returning to the University until after the close of the war, if at all. Mr. Wellington D. Jones goes into Class IV. Mr. Jones is in residence here and will probably remain here. Mr. Charles Colby will go into Class I. Mr. Colby is in Washington, doing government work and probably will not return. Mr. Salisbury and I are above draft age, which I certainly regret.

Dear Dean Angell:

The department of theology will be affected by the new draft law as follows:

1. Albert Johanson - Married and has dependent family. Class 4, I believe.

2. R. T. Chamberlin - Class 1. Mullen given deferred classification for some special technical service.

Mr. Stockton is already in Washington working in connection with the shipping board.
I fancy that I am the only one affected by the draft from biology.

In biology C. C. Colby is likely to be the only one affected. He is now in service in Washington. The others are married with families.

In reply to your letter of August 13th I would say that the only instructors in the Divinity School who would be involved in the draft would be:

S. J. Case born Sept. 28, 1872
A. Hoben born April (?) 1874
P. G. Mode born Oct. 13, 1875
F. Merrifield born Jan. 18, 1874

With the exception of Dr. Case, I should suppose these would be classified among those having dependent family.

Dear Mr. Angell:

Regarding the men in the Greek Department liable & draft by the proposed law, permit me to say that Shaw and Castle are overage, Tarbell is retired, Bonner and Prescott are both married and have large families dependent on them and are not likely be taken. Nelson has tried to enlist but not acceptable because of his eyes, Taylor is married and has a wife and child dependent on him.

I don't think the new law will disturb our department much so far as teaching force is concerned.

Yours truly,

C.H. Castle
In the Department of Sanskrit and Comparative Philology I am the only one who will be affected by the new draft law.

I will be 37 on Sept. 8. I am married but have no children; my father and mother have recently become dependent on me to a certain extent. So far as I know I am physically fit and would welcome the draft. At present it is impossible to say how I would be classified.

I enclose, as you request in your letter of August 13, a full list of the men in the School of Education together with a notation as to the date of birth of each. I have added in each case a statement with regard to the family of the man, so far as I have this information. I have not attempted to secure this information in detail with regard to two or three of the men who are of the rank of assistant. I have then marked with a red arrow on the left of the page the cases which seem to me to involve the possible withdrawal of the men. You will note that so far as the College of Education is concerned this probability is serious only in the case of Dean Gray. I think he is very likely to be withdrawn immediately if the draft age is changed. I shall regret this very much, as he is of the highest importance to our institutional organization. In the High School there seem to be four probabilities of withdrawal. The one that is the most serious is the new man in physics, where we shall be left very shorthanded indeed. None of the withdrawals in the Elementary School need give us any serious concern, I think, unless Mr. Gillet should be

Dear Professor Angell:

I have your letter asking concerning the instructors in the department of botany who will be involved if the draft law includes ages up to 45.

We have three such instructors, Associate Professor Wm. Crooker, Assistant Professor Lee I. Knight, and Mr. M. C. Coulter, who is to be an instructor beginning with the Autumn Quarter.

Dr. Crooker is 42, and is certain to receive deferred classification for two reasons, he is a married man with dependents, namely, a wife and two small children, and secondly, because of his important service to the government in connection with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Knight is 38, and is also likely to have a deferred classification, since he has a wife and one small child, who are dependents. He also is doing important agricultural service.

Mr. Coulter is 24 years of age and unmarried, and of course is involved in the present draft. He would normally have a classification of IA, but he is classified at present as 3K, on account of the great practical importance of his researches in plant genetics.

Dear Mr. Angell:

If the draft law is made to include ages up to 45 the following men in our Department will be involved:

Dr. D. B. Reed
D. L. Hoffer
D. S. Merriam

If the method of classification hitherto in force is followed, it seems probable that all these men will be put in Class 4A because of dependent families. Mr. H. O. Page and Mr. Wm. B. Bosworth, who were included in the first draft, have already been placed in Class 4A.

At present Mr. Page and Mr. Hoffer are enlisted in the Student Army Training Corps at Fort Sheridan. I understand, however, that they receive an honorable discharge at the end of their course and that their training will in no wise effect their standing in the draft.

Dear Professor Angell,

In accordance with your request of the 16th
I am giving the following list of members of the department who may be included in the next draft.

✓ C.H. Swift  No dependants, unmarried, physically fit.
✓ G.W. Bartelmez  Wife and three children, physically fit.
✓ C.O. Melick  Married, no children, physically fit.

All other younger members of the department are in the Medical Reserve as medical students.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Angell:

RE: THE NEW DRAFT MEASURE AND THE LATIN DEPARTMENT.

Mr. Prescott is the only regular member of the Latin faculty who falls within the eighteen to forty-five law. I do not suppose, however, that he will be called as he is forty-four years old and has a wife and four children.

The work of the department may be affected by the fact that we have planned to make use of the services of fellows for seven courses, namely, AI, AII, BI, BII, and the off courses, Latin 6(Autumn), 4(Winter), 5(Spring). Of the fellows who will participate in this work, two are men: John Rice and Victor Hill, both of them are in the thirties and are married. Rice may possibly be called in spite of the fact that he has a wife and child, but I doubt very much whether Hill will be accepted as he has very bad eyesight.

My dear Mr. Angell,—

In reply to your request for a statement setting forth the probable classification of the members of the Physics staff when the new proposed draft law becomes operative, I submit the following:—

Summ, below 45, Wife & children, wholly dependent.
Kappine, below 31, Wife & child, wholly dependent.
Kamenstedt, below 31, Single. Limited service.
Hammers, below 45, Single. Limited service?
Willson, below 45, Single. Dependents.

Yours very truly,

My dear Mr. Angell:

In response to your inquiry concerning the probably effect of the new draft law upon the instructors in the Department of Political Economy and the School of Commerce and Administration, I beg to submit the following report. In a few cases, I have not heard directly from the men involved and have simply indicated such facts as I happen to know.

L. C. Marshall - born March 15, 1879. I had no report from Mr. Marshall, who is at present Director of Industrial Relations, Emergency Fleet Corporation. He has a wife and four children and I presume they are dependent upon his income.

James A. Field - born May 26, 1880. Mr. Field is at present with the Allied Maritime Council in London, and I have of course not had time to secure a report from him.

H. A. Millis - born July 2, 1873. Mr. Millis reports a wife and three children entirely dependent upon his salary.

C. W. Wright - born May 27, 1879. Mr. Wright has a wife, but no children. In case his wife's health does not become seriously impaired, no claim for exemption from the draft law will be made on account of dependents.

H. G. Moulton - born November 7, 1883. Mr. Moulton has a wife and two children dependent upon him for support.

J. M. Clark - No report has been received from Mr. Clark. I believe he is 33 years old, unmarried and without dependents, and would be subject to draft if he can pass the physical examination.

C. O. Hardy - Mr. Hardy reports that he is 34 years old, married and has a wife and two children dependent upon him. He would expect to be put in Class 4.

Dean James R. Angell

A. C. Hodge - Mr. Hodge was born May 5, 1887. He reports that he was in the first draft and was placed in Class 2A. His family is dependent upon him.

N. W. Barnes - born July 25, 1884. Mr. Barnes is married, but has no children. His wife is seriously ill and is dependent upon him for support.

L. S. Lyon - born December 14, 1885. Mr. Lyon reports that his wife and two children are dependent upon him and he expects to be placed in Class 4.

F. H. Knight - born November 5, 1885. Mr. Knight reports that his wife and one child are entirely dependent upon him.

L. C. Sorrell - born July 26, 1889. Mr. Sorrell reports that his wife and two children are entirely dependent upon him. He was placed in Class 4A in the first draft.

S. M. Hamilton - No report has been received from Mr. Hamilton. He is married, but I believe has no children, and I am uncertain whether his wife is dependent upon him.

Yours very sincerely,

C. S. Duncan - born August 25, 1878. No report has been received from Mr. Duncan. He is married, but has no children and is at present working for the War Trade Board in Washington.

My Dear Mr. President:

The enclosed letter is in reply to an inquiry about the use of Divinity students of the draft age, including those that are ordained ministers, for work in Y. M. C. A. I raise two questions: First is his position right relative to a man ceasing to be a Divinity student if he becomes a Y. M. C. A. Mr. President:

What are you doing to prevent the colleges and the universities of this country from being destroyed? You must be aware of the military propaganda at Washington to lower the draft age to 19 years. This will take every young man out of our higher educational institutions. For, under the new classification these young college men fall in the first class, since they are unmarried and have no dependents, and they will be called in the next list. Then you will have to close your doors, for you will have no young men left in your classes.

You and every other college president should take the sensible and patriotic stand that it means more for the nation to let these young men finish their educational work than to take them away. They will then be better fitted to serve their country. We need more and more educated, proficient men. To cut off the entire supply would be a crime. It is more sensible to let these young men finish their education that they may give better service when actually needed. They have but one opportunity to get an education and that is now. War must not be allowed to destroy the intellectual and educational status of this country, until such desperate conditions arise as demand such action. No such necessity yet confronts us.

You should write President Wilson and your U. S. Senators and Congressmen letters of strong protest against taking any student at this time; and have others do the same. United action by the educators of the country will prevent this criminal raid against the very foundation of the Republic; intelligence and education.

Dear President:

What are you going to prevent the colleges and the universities of the country from being opened? You want to waste all the money?

I will take every young man of our higher educational institutions. You will lose every young man of our higher educational institutions. Your colleges will be closed to the next fall. Then you will have to close your colleges for you will have no money men left in your classes.

You and every other college president should take the seat.

We are going to make more for the nation to get those new and better fitted to serve your country. We need more and more educated, proficient men. To cut off the college supply would be a crime.

If it were possible to let those young men finish their education that they may give better service when actually needed. They have not one opportunity to get an education that is now. Our men not be afforded to get the intellectual and educational states of this country, until such educated colleges continue on as normal educational sections. No such necessary agreement, because

You should write President Wilson and your U. S. Senators and Congressmen letters of strong protest against taking any student at all.

I have one more office of the same. United section of the educators of the country will prevent this calamity and protest to the very continuation of the Republic; interference and education.

Dear Sir: Notification these young college men fall in the first class, since they are unmarried and have no dependents, and they will be called in the next first. Then you will have to close your doors, for you will have no young men left in your institution.

Your favor of the 17th inst. is received.

I do not feel disposed to interfere with what the government may regard as essential to the defense of the nation. It has by no means been settled, of course, that the draft age shall be reduced to nineteen. If a consideration of the whole situation in Washington makes it seem necessary to adopt such a system we ought all cheerfully to accord with it. In any event I never join in deluging Senators and Representatives with letters. It is more sensible to let these young men finish their education than to take them away. Dean J. W. Linn,
University of Chicago,
Chicago, Ill.

My dear Dean Linn:

I am sending you herewith statement of the progress of the War Department so far as it can be formulated at the present moment. As indicated in my previous letter, the proposed changes in the draft law will radically modify the scheme which we had completed and which we were ready to put into immediate operation. After due consideration, the War Department through its Committee on Education has decided to proceed forthwith with the original plan and to make such alterations as the draft law now proposed may require when that law is actually put into operation. This decision represents the belief that it is better to set up the general machinery at once and then make such changes as may be required, than to permit the entire program to be delayed until an indefinite period after the opening of the colleges.

The main features of the plan to be put into operation are as follows:

1. All physically fit male students between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one who are graduates of a satisfactory high school (also presumably all educationally and physically qualified men over thirty-one) may enlist in the Students' Army Training Corps, a newly organized Corps of the Army.

2. The Government will issue such enlisted men uniforms, rifles, and other essential equipment.

3. It is confidently expected, but not yet definitely settled, that the Government will pay such enlisted men.

4. Men otherwise qualified, but under the age of eighteen may enroll in the S. A. T. C., receiving uniforms and equipment, but no pay.
5. Men enlisted in the N. A. T. C. are subject to call to active service in the case of acute National crisis, but it will be the policy of the Government not to call such men prior to their summons under the operations of the Selective Service law.

6. The Enlisted Reserve Corps (Medicine, Engineering, etc.) will be assimilated into the N. A. T. C. and will, in time, cease to exist as separate organizations.

7. The course of study for men in the Enlisted Reserve Corps (Medicine, Engineering, etc.) will be substantially the same as at present, except that military drill will be added under the conditions the details of which are still to be worked out.

Students in the Departments of Art, Literature, and Science not intending to enter the technical branches of the Army Service, but to be trained for officers of the line will receive approximately six hours a week of training in strictly military lines, of which roughly two-thirds will be actual drill and one-third close room instruction. The remainder of the course for such students will include substantially four hours of work in subjects allied to military training such as mathematics, chemistry, physics and American History and.

8. Should the new draft law go into operation on the lines now laid down, the enlisted men of the N. A. T. C. will go, as soon as practicable, on full time basis. They will be quartered in dormitories or barracks, will be rationed as in the case of the Training Detachments, and as far as possible will pursue subjects of study strictly related to military training. This will mean that for example, subjects like Greek, Latin, History of Art, etc. would drop out of the program of such students. It would not mean the elimination of such subjects as were listed above, e.g., French, mathematics, physics, chemistry, etc.

9. Under these conditions, the students will be subject to special assignment by the Committee on Education and Special Training when their order number is reached by the local boards. Assignments would be made in accordance with the existing needs of the Service. Promising students in the technical branches would presumably be assigned to continue their educational training until this had been completed and they were ready for transfer to active service. Enlisted men pursing non-technical subjects would, if judged, by the commanding officer and the Educational authorities of the Institution unlikely to develop into satisfactory officer material be assigned to a Testament, or some other special detachment. Men who give promise of developing into satisfactory line officers would be kept in the college as long as the interests of the service might dictate and then be assigned to Army schools for commissions.

10. In other words the system contemplates treating college students strictly in the interests of the army, training those for line officers and for technical branches, who give promise of making good and sending out into other forms of service those who fail to qualify under this test.

Undoubtedly this arrangement will, in its early operations, create many very serious problems. For a good many men between the ages of twenty and twenty-one are fairly sure to be drawn out at an early date, possibly in the late summer, but as the older men are called this condition will settle down to a more stable basis and it may be expected that men who give promise of developing into line officers, if they enter college before they are eighteen years of age will be allowed to stay about two full years. Those needed for the technical branches, if they make good, will remain as at present, approximately four years.

The only alternative to this general solution has been to shut up the colleges as far as concerns physically fit men subject to the draft.

11. It is likely that there will come through in a few days permission to enlist in the S. A. T. O. all registrants between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one and thirty-one and forty-five. It will be unnecessary, therefore, for boys to hasten to enlist before the opening of college. Indeed under the orders of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, issued a few days ago, all volunteer enlistments are stopped. The boys, therefore, will register with their local boards, then be enlisted in the S. A. T. O., and forthwith be re-classified by the Board in Class V, i.e. Military Service of the United States.

I enclose herewith a rough suggestion for a postal card or circular to go to all men who were enrolled in the University last year. The exact date under which enlistment may be legally made into the S. A. T. O. have not been authorized, but it expected that September 16th will be the earliest date. Many institutions open early in September. I see no particular point in our own case, in authorizing such enlistments prior to the date of academic registration. I leave this for you to fill in as you think wise, after conferring with Messrs. Judd, Lovett, Robertson and such others as you think wise to consult.

Orders have been issued to send the University, in care of Capt. Cranfill, 1000 rifles and 1000 uniforms, A. T. O. These must, of course, be properly stored. I have spoken to Mr. Amett about facilities for such storage. The University will also be required to take out Insurance, but it will not be required to issue a bond.

I shall be glad to have you take up with Dean Lovett and Mr. Payne, the question of raising our present qualifications for entrance from approved high schools, i.e. the requirement that a man must have more than a passing grade in the high school in order to come in.
The only alternative to all these would be for the whole world to fall into a common...
I think that for the period of the War, in as much as four-fifths of the boys who enter will never return to take a degree and aside from those in the medical courses will only, in perhaps fifty percent of the cases, be with us for years, and further in view of the fact that there may well be in this lower grade in the schools a certain proportion of good officer material, it is perhaps a patriotic obligation to take all who offer and try them out, provided they have graduated from high schools. The selection will be fairly severe after they get to us. It will be understood, of course, that boys who fail to make good academically will be dropped out of the college and forthwith assigned to other military duty. I am willing to have this matter brought before a special meeting of the faculty and will ask Mr. Judd to call such, if you agree to the force of the considerations which I have just recited.

We have had assigned to us as Commanding Officer, Major Wigant, who is at present, at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. I expect to confer with him tomorrow in New York and he will be coming to Chicago in the near future. I shall explain to him as fully as I can both the progress of the War Department and the local conditions in Chicago. I shall ask him to report to Mr. Judd and to arrange promptly for a conference with yourself and Mr. Robertson. He has already met Mr. Arnott.

The consignment of rifles and equipment has been sent in care of Captain Crandall. The War Department will, of course, issue instructions regarding the relations of these two men. I am free to say, however, for your information that the present program contemplates the consolidation of the academic training with that now being carried on for technicians under Captain Crandall. Presumably, therefore, Major Wigant will in time find himself in charge of the entire enterprise, with Captain Crandall and Lieut. Thronton as his subordinates.

I may be reached for the next week or ten days by letter or telegram at Hurricana, Essex County, New York. I plan to return to Washington on or about August 22nd to be here for a few days and arrive in Chicago in time for the conference. I have already asked Mr. Robertson to say that I should like for you to be present at the conference called for Fort Sheridan August 30th—31st. I shall myself attempt to be present also.

Very truly yours,

James R. Angell.

8. Should the new draft law go into operation on the lines now laid down, the enlisted men of the S. A. T. C. will go, as soon as practicable, on full time basis. They will be quartered in dormitories or barracks, will be rationed as in the case of the Training Detachments, and as far as possible will pursue subjects of study strictly related to military training. This will mean that for example, subjects like Greek, Latin, History of Art, etc. would drop out of the program of such students. It would not mean the elimination of such subjects as were listed above, e.g. French, mathematics, physics, chemistry, etc.

9. Under these conditions, the students will be subject to special assignment by the Committee on Education and Special Training when their order number is reached by the local boards. Assignments would be made in accordance with the existing needs of the Service. Promising students in the technical branches would presumably be assigned to continue their educational training until this had been completed and they were ready for transfer to active service. Enlisted men pursuing non-technical subjects would, if judged, by the Commanding Officer and the Educational authorities of the Institution unlikely to develop into satisfactory officer material be assigned to a Cantonment, or some other special detachment. Men who give promise of developing into satisfactory line officers would be kept in the colleges as long as the interests of the service might dictate and then be assigned to Army schools for commissions.

10. In other words the system contemplates treating college students strictly in the interests of the army, training those for line officers and for technical branches, who give promise of making good and sending out into other forms of service those who fail to qualify under this test.

Undoubtedly this arrangement will, in its early operations, create many very serious problems, for a good many men between the ages of twenty and twenty-one are fairly sure to be drawn out at an early date, possibly in the lambsquarter, but as the older men are called this condition will settle down to a more stable basis and it may be expected that men who give promise of developing into line officers, if they enter college before they are eighteen years of age will be allowed to stay about two full years. Those headed for the technical branches, if they make good, will remain as at present, approximately four years.

The only alternative to this general solution has been to shut up the colleges as far as concerns physically fit men subject to the draft.

II. It is likely that there will come through in a few days, permission to enlist in the S. A. T. O. all registrants between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one and thirty-one and forty-five. It will be unnecessary, therefore, for boys to hasten to enlist before the opening of college. Indeed under the orders of the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, issued a few days ago, all volunteer enlistments are stopped. The boys, therefore, will register with their local boards, then be enlisted in the S. A. T. O., and forthwith be re-classified by the Board in Class V, i.e. Military Service of the United States.

I enclose herewith a rough suggestion for a postal card or circular to go to all men who were enrolled in the University last year. The exact dates under which enlistment may be legally made in the S. A. T. O. have not been authorized, but it is expected that September 16th will be the earliest date. Many institutions open early in September. I see no particular point in our own case, in authorizing such enlistments prior to the date of academic registration. I leave this for you to fill in as you think wise, after conferring with Messrs. Judd, Lovett, Robertson and such others as you think wise to consult.

Orders have been issued to send the University, in care of Captain Griswold, 1000 rifles and 1000 uniforms, A.T.O. These must, of course, be properly stored. I have spoken to Mr. Arnett about facilities for such storage. The University will also be required to take out Insurance, but it will not be required to issue a bond.

I shall be glad to have you take up with Dean Lovett and Mr. Payne, the question of waiving our present qualifications for entrance from approved high schools, i.e. the requirement that a man must have more than a passing grade in the high school in order to come in.

Dear President Judson:

I have received your letter of July 24, with instructions as to Major Tolman's procedure in the case of Camp Logan. He has already applied to the Adjutant General for the use of the camp. My report to you was made so that in case you desired to write directly to the Governor in the matter you might do so. The suggestion was Major Tolman's.

Today General Barry will review the Highlanders and Chicago military organizations, including the Ambulance Company. The ticket sent to you for admission to the reviewing-stand I delivered to Major Tolman, who will represent you. Major Tolman will also represent you at a meeting of the Association of Commerce Preparedness Committee, which is undertaking a celebration in the form of a parade honoring drafted men.

Mr. Gates reports that he wrote to you at the Hotel

Dear President [Name]:

I have received your letter of April 18 with information as to the recent Tom-Tom's appearance in the Chicago Daily News. It was strongly suggested to the President in a letter of March 28 that we make this general for the use of the camp. We also want to know if you are making a general for instance you mentioned to write directly to the Government as to the matter you are writing to me. The suggestion was that the General Staff of the Government might cooperate.

Accordingly, I am writing to you, in the interest of the promotion of the welfare of the Government, to invite your attention to the following fact. I have received a letter from a constituent enclosing a photograph of a man who was present at the event of a similar nature. The letter and photograph enclosed are as follows:

I believe the facts are of interest to you and I would appreciate your assistance in this matter.

Yours truly,

Manhattan the very day I telephoned him and that two days later he wrote again. Copies of his letters he is sending to me, and I will mail them tomorrow. He reports that the dog acted very strangely, and could not be induced to respond to treatment of the veterinarian. Dr. McKillip thinks that extreme nervousness brought on the death of the dog. I had not heard of the dog's death until this morning.

It is too early yet to know what is happening to the attendance in the summer quarter. As soon as we have some indication I shall report. The several Deans of the second term are already in charge of their offices.

The day before the draft and the day of the number drawing were days of extreme tension within the quadrangles. The suspense showed very clearly among the men students. As Dean Gale put it, the attitude before and after the drawing was typically American. Each man, drafted or not, found something peculiarly lucky in his case! We have had many questions as to procedure in the case of drafted men whose homes are at a distance. We have notified such men who wished to receive physical examinations here to instruct the Chicago boards with regard to physical examinations. This is the advice which the Chicago office directed us to give to such students. Of course cases of exemption must be handled by the local boards, and students are so notified. The Commissioner of Education sent to you notice that the cases of drafted scientific and technical students might be presented by the University to the Chicago boards for the purpose of retaining for scientific and technical purposes experts in several fields. Had you received notice that you are a member of the Division No. 1, Northern District of Illinois Federal Exemption Board? Your name is published in the paper this morning. Victor Olander represents the labor interests on your board, and Theodore W. Robinson, of the Illinois Steel Company, Jacob H. Hopkins, formerly a Municipal Court Judge, and Dr. E. J. Doering, the surgeon, are other members of your board. In Division No. 2 the following are named: Ralph Crews, Dr. M. L. Harris, H. H.

Merrick, Seymour Morris, and George W. Perkins. In Division
No. 3 J. V. Farwell, John Fitzpatrick, Frank Hamlin, Luman T.
Hooy, and Dr. J. L. Taylor. Doubtless you have already received information about these appointments in the Chicago papers. I hope that you are finding the Fort William Henry Hotel a comfortable place in which to live. This hope includes golf for you and all that Mrs. Judson desires for her own comfort and recreation. Things are going smoothly, so that no University business need recall you to the city, and I trust that other business, like the exemption boards, will not bring you back too soon.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Smith,

I hope you are already receiving information about the opportunities in the office. I am sending this message in the hope that you are taking the time to review the information.

I hope that you are finding the work enjoyable. I hope you are considering a permanent position in which to live. If you have any questions, feel free to ask.

I have been told of your interest in teaching and research. I am sure you will find opportunities for both in this city. If you have any questions or need assistance, feel free to contact me.

I hope you will enjoy your stay.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr President:

It is a pleasure to be able to tell you that the summary of the addresses from colleges and universities in the United States which I had the privilege to carry to the universities and schools of France was presented to the faculties (and in most places to assemblies of officials, students and citizens) of the following universities: Paris, Nancy, Dijon, Lyons, Grenoble, Montpellier, Toulouse, Caen, Rennes, Poitiers, and Bordeaux (in the order of presentation). This collection, of which your message was one, was characterized by the great philosopher of France best known in America, as a "Golden Book." Word has just reached me that it has been printed in French by the French Government and distributed throughout France.

I have had the honor to bear back to the United States letters from the rectors of all the universities named (Lille, alas, was not accessible, but I met some of her scattered teachers). These with other messages and a brief resume of the journey are being put into type and will soon be sent to you.

I thank you for the great privilege and honor of being your courier.

Sincerely yours,
