Faculty met in special session at the call of the President at 12:30 P.M. The President related the particulars of an interview which he had just held with one of the students, and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

University, Dec. 12, 1882.

Faculty met at 8:15 A.M. pursuant to an announcement by Dr. Bache, Dean Anderson, and Prof. Hoke, Olsen.

The President was summoned to give his reasons for the action between the President and himself, and to say what he had to say in his own defense. He made a statement of facts, differing in nothing materially from his sworn examination in the resolution of the Faculty at its last meeting, only adding that his action in drawing the resolution upon the President was unprompted and unprovoked, but that he was very much impressed by the President's letters, addressed to him, and his personal conversation with the President, and his answers to them, and that he was satisfied.

The resolution passed by the Faculty at its last meeting was reconsidered and promptly confirmed, and the Faculty adjourned to meet at 12:30 P.M. today.

J. B. Riggs, Sec.
The statement was unsatisfactory as to cause the adoption by the Faculty of the following resolutions:

Whereas Mr. A. H. Smith, in his examination before the Faculty on Dec. 12th, as we believe, not only gave false testimony, but gave testimony which he could not have delivered, if he otherwise than falsely at the time of making the same;

Whereas he also declared that he did not know whether the putting of a bottle of sulfanilic acid into the Bubbett room, and conducting the contents by means of a tube into the room, occasioned by one of the literary societies of the University, during the time of one of its regular sessions, was a proper thing to do or not, therefore;

Resolved, that we do not allow Mr. A. H. Smith to be present, or make a character as to render it advisable to retain him as a student of this University, and we therefore hereby suspend him indefinitely from all connection with the same.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Whereas an Eli R. Booth, in his examination before the Faculty on Dec. 12th, exhibited a spirit of misconduct, of disrespectful towards the president of this institution, and of insubordination, hereby declaring his contempt of the authority of the tribunal before which he had been summoned, and

Whereas his previous course of conduct has been such for some time as to render it expedient that he might not be retained as a student in this University, therefore;

Resolved, that he be not hereby indefinitely suspended from his connection with the same.

The Faculty then adjourned to meet at 12:30 o'clock.

J. D. Rigg, Sec'y.
