The Editor of the Daily News

Dear Sir.

Will you be kind
enough to insert the enclosed letter in the Daily News of tomorrow?
I should like it to appear in Mr. May Thomas's Theatre
column - am I to tell?

Yours faithfully,
Arthur W. Benson.

Theatre.

Will you therefore allow me to tell you
that the present demand for seats is quite unprecedented in the history of that house,
and that during
even this, passion,
week (one of the
worst in the theatrical season) the theatre
is nightly crammed
to its almost capacity.

I am, my dear Sir,
very truly yours,
Arthur W. Clifton.

My dear Sir.

Mr. John Clifton -
Whom I was with to-day
thinks you might care
to acquaint the readers of your theatrical Column with the nature of the public
response to our new departure (if it be
one) at the Park

a farce, as I have read somewhere, but a domestic drama with a distinctly serious interest in which Mr. Perry departing somewhat from his usual method will participate. The company of Perry's Theatre, almost entirely re-organized for my play, will include in addition to Mr. Perry

Mr. Alfred Bishop
" Fred: Kerr
" Sant McAtkins
" J. C. Valentine
" Bernard Gould
" Brandon Thomas

Dear Sir.

As an item of gossip for your theatre column in the Daily News will you permit me to tell you that we hope to produce my new play at Perry's Theatre on March 20th? It is not

My dear Sir.

In tomorrow's paper
Mr. George Alexander
announces a play of my writing for production at his theatre during the season.

This play, on which I have been long engaged,
has a modern setting
but its interest is of
