Constitution
Autumn Quarters 1906

The first meeting of the College of Arts (Women) was held in Lexington Hall Wednesday, October eleventh.

The meeting was preceded over by Dean Bochermead who opened it by speaking briefly of the new experiment of small colleges acting as constituent parts of the Junior college, and of the first matter of importance to be considered in the meeting—namely, the election of an executive board.

In order to become acquainted with some slight measure the roll was called, in response to which each member present was requested to rise.

It was then moved and seconded that nine nominations be made for members of the executive committee; an amendment was made to this motion, however to the effect that the first five receiving the highest number of votes should constitute the committee.

The amendment was accepted, and with this change the motion was carried.

The voting was done by ballot and two tellers were appointed to take charge of the votes cast, and report the result at the next meeting.

Dean Reuchlinridge then submitted the following act and moved that it be copied and sent to Dr. Harper:

To the President:

The Junior College of Arts (Women) has held its first meeting and has organized by electing its Executive committee. For its first official act after organizing it wishes to express to you its desire and intention to cooperate heartily in making a success of the experiment of separate small colleges as constituent parts of the Junior College of the University of Chicago.

(Signed)

M. E. Courtain (Sec. pro tem.)

This motion was seconded and passed, and the act was handed over to the secretary pro tem. to be copied and mailed to Dr. Harper.

The meeting was closed with an invitation from the Dean to a tea at Green Hall the following Friday at four o'clock.

Miss Roberts elected Chairman
Miss Culver elected Secretary of Executive Committee.
The second meeting of the Juniors College of Arts (Women) was held in Lexington Hall room 2, Tuesday, October 7th. The meeting was called to order by Dean Brehm at ten thirty A.M. The minutes of the previous meeting were read. A suggestion was made that the names of the two tellers be inserted in the record of the minutes of the executive committee, and with this correction the minutes were accepted.

Miss Ferris was then called on to give the report of the tellers stating with full particulars the result of the election. It was moved and seconded that the report be accepted as read and embodied as a whole in the secretary’s records. This motion was carried, and the report was handed over to the secretary.

Miss Culver as secretary of the executive committee, gave a complete and satisfactory account of the first meeting of that body and the arrangements made for plans of organization to be presented and discussed by its members at the next meeting of the committee.

Then followed the report of Miss Roberts, chairman of the committee who in that office represented the college at the meeting of the junior college council. Miss Roberts reported the election of the officers of the council.

Miss Culver was again called on to give the report of the second business meeting of the executive committee. In this she set forth the different plans of organization presented by the respective members of the committee, and moved that these plans be recommended by the committee be placed before the college for discussion in turn. The first article taken under consideration provided that the Dean act as the president of the college with the title of president and that a vice president be elected to preside in her absence and at such times as she wished to enter into the discussion from the floor. Provision was also made that in case of the absence of this officer the Chairman of the executive committee act in her place. An interesting discussion ensued which was interrupted by the necessity of adjournment owing to the end of the allotted time for the meeting.

The Junior College of Arts (Women) met in Lexington Hall, Tuesday morning, Oct. 24 at 10:30 in the room appropriated for its exclusive use. The meeting was called to order by Dean Breckinridge. The regular introductory matter of the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting first received attention. The minutes were approved and accepted as read and the discussion began in the former meeting was taken up at the point at which it was interrupted. The pros and cons of the question of the powers of Dean were considered, the discussion being open to all. Dean Breckinridge called Miss Heap to the chair and from the floor set forth her own ideas on the subject clearly and interestingly. She advised that the powers of the Dean be at once defined and limited if that seemed necessary. She defended the right of the Dean to the privilege of entering into any discussion with the other members of the college; and in answer to the objection that it instructed with the two-fold power of member and presiding officer, others would be led to blindly follow her instructions, she expressed the opinion that the members of the college would feel perfectly free to correct and criticize any statement on her part or any measure she might propose to defend. This opinion seemed to meet the approval of those present. It was suggested that a consular office be created to which the Dean should be elected, but this did not receive the support of the college. A motion was then made that the first article recommended by the executive committee be accepted. An amendment was made to this motion to the effect that the presiding officer retain her title of Dean and the office elected to act in her absence or at such times as she should desire assistance be termed President. This amendment was accepted and the motion thus corrected was carried. Again the limited time made adjournment necessary and a special meeting was called by the Dean for Thursday morning at 10:30, in order to elect the first President of the college.

It was decided that while the college was discussing and arguing questions of constitutional interest, a temporary program committee be elected to arrange for some form of entertainment at our regular meetings. Accordingly, the motion was made and seconded that a temporary chairman be elected to choose two cooperative workers to assist her. This motion was carried and Miss Peabody and Miss Carlisle were nominated for the office. Voting was done by ballot, those who made the nominations acting as tellers by the appointment of Dean Breckinridge. The election decided in favor of Miss Peabody who was assigned to choose her helpers and plan a program for the next regular meeting.
Special Meeting

On Thursday morning, October 21st, a special meeting was held by the college for the purpose of electing a president. Upon the opening of the meeting by Dean Breckenridge, the plan and method of election were laid before the college for discussion. It was moved and seconded that three nominations be made from the floor, and the election then proceed by ballot. This motion was carried, and the nominations made were as follows:

Miss Dussold
Miss Strachan
Miss Preston

A request was made before voting that the three nominees be called upon to rise that they might be seen. In accordance with this request, the three young ladies were asked to stand in review before the assembled college. They stood the test well and when Miss Slurges and Miss Kellogg had been appointed tellers by nomination they resumed their seats and the ballot took place, while the tellers were counting the ballots. Miss Peabody was called on to speak of the work of her committee. She reported her choice of Miss Slurges and Miss Slurges as cooperative workers and the program arranged for the next meeting. This is to consist of talks by two members of the respective subjects: "The Duties of the Women to the College" and "The Duties of the College to the Women." She closed by urging each member to accept cheerfully the task assigned her by the committee, and to do to the best of her ability what was asked of her. The tellers then rendered the following report:

Miss Dussold 10
Miss Strachan 5
Miss Preston 15.

As no one received a majority, it was moved by Miss Peabody, who had supported one of the other nominations, that Miss Preston's election be made unanimous by a standing vote. This motion was seconded by Miss Strachan and carried by an unanimous vote of the college. Then the meeting was adjourned.
The regular meeting of the College was held Tuesday morning, Oct. 31, at ten thirty at its usual meeting place in Lexington Hall. In the absence of Dean Beckwith, the meeting was called to order promptly by the President, who called for the reports of the two meetings held in the past week. After these had been approved, the President presented the question whether or not the next meeting should be devoted wholly to the consideration of the constitution recommended by the executive committee. The motion was carried that the next meeting be made a business meeting.

Miss Roberts then laid before the College the request from the Junior College Council that each college submit through its representative a recommended plan of electing an executive committee at the beginning of the quarter. Miss Roberts further explained that in this connection at the last meeting of the council the question of freshman suffrage was a matter of consideration and the opinion had been expressed that it might prove wiser to debar freshmen from holding office during the first quarter, allowing them the privilege of voting. After some discussion it was moved that the plan of election which was adopted by the college at the beginning of the quarter be submitted to the council with the amendment that freshmen be debarred from holding office during their quarter. This motion was carried; but an amendment was then moved to the effect that two freshmen be included in the nominations. A rising vote was taken on this measure, the result being that eleven voted for it and 30 against. Therefore, the original plan of the college as first amended was voted to be sent to the Council. The question having been thus settled, the President proceeded to the program. Two interesting talks were given by Miss Preston and Miss Catlock on the subjects of "The Duties of the Women to the College "and "The Duties of the College to the Women". The speaker urged the promotion of friendship and good fellowship among the members of the college and the necessity of the individual realizing the responsibility resting upon her, and showing her loyalty to the college and her interest in its welfare by entering actively and enthusiastically into its work both in the regular meetings and the social gatherings. After the talks the meeting adjourned.
The regular meeting of the college was held Thursday morning Nov. 7 at ten thirty. Dean Burchamridge called the meeting to order and as the first notice of the morning announced a social gathering of the college to be held in the parlor of Green Hall on the Friday afternoon November 10th. The minutes of the previous meeting were then read and approved and again the constitution of the college was taken up. The first question was what article should be first considered. In order to decide this the secretary of the executive committee was asked to read the constitution as it had been drawn up by that body. After this a motion was made and carried that the article on membership should be discussed. The recommended measure of the executive committee provided that the present members of the college constitute its active members.
The regular meeting of the College Nov. 14, 1905 was held in Lexington Hall. The meeting was called to order by Dean Bechamridge, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Owing to unforeseen circumstances it was impossible to conduct the program which had been arranged by the program committee and the meeting was therefore given over to business. Miss Roberts reported the topics discussed and the business transacted in the last two meetings of the Junior College Council. Miss Roberts reported the organization of an athletic league had been considered for the purpose of promoting class spirit. Acting upon the instruction of the Council, Miss Roberts appointed Miss Heat and Miss Culver to represent the college in this league.

In taking up the discussion of the constitution a motion was made that the secretary write and inform the associate members of the college of the act which entitled them to this membership. The motion was seconded and carried. The next article considered was to provide for standing committees on room and programs, the chairman to be elected by the college to suggest cooperative works to be drafted on in the college at large. The adoption of this article as it stood was moved and carried.

With regard to the term of office it was decided that all officers should be elected every three months except the chairman of the program committee who should act for a year.

In order that the members of the college might gain intimacy with the faculty, the next article of the constitution provided that the various faculty members hold stated office hours at Lexington Hall during which periods they should be at the disposal of the students. The adoption of this measure also was moved and seconded and Dean Beckwith volunteer to attend to the arrangements necessary for the accomplishment of this plan.

At the close of the constitution discussion a suggestion was made that at chapel the college of arts occupy the first five rows of seats on the right hand side of the hall and thus sit in a body instead of being scattered about in different seats. The meeting stood adjourned.
and interesting manner by five of the members. At the close Mr. Bonner gave a short instructive talk about Creek life and costumes.

Nov. 28, 1905.
The college held its regular meeting in Haskell museum where I had the pleasure of listening to a very interesting lecture by Mr. Sargent on Turkish civilization, with illustrated views.

Dec. 5, 1905.
The college in accordance with the kind invitation of the college of literature joined them in Mandel Hall at the regular hour of meeting to hear a charming and most interesting talk by Senorita Lorenzo, who is a student in the International Institute in Spain, the only protestant educational institution for women in that country.

Wednesday Dec. 4, 1905.
A special meeting was called by the executive committee for the purpose of presenting to the college the newly prepared constitution. Before taking up this discussion however, it was moved and seconded that the College of Arts (Men) and the College of Science (Women) be asked to join us in hearing Mr. Sargent's next lecture on Tuesday morning Dec. 12. This motion was carried and the secretary was instructed to write to the colleges, extending the invitation to them. He was also instructed to write to the college of literature an acknowledgment of their invitation to hear the talk of the Spanish student on the premises Tuesday.

The articles of the constitution were then read and discussed in turn. It was moved and seconded that the acceptance of the first article regarding attendance be postponed for the present, and this motion was carried.
The second article concerning the time of election was then discussed. A motion was made and recorded that the article be rejected, but this motion was not carried. Another was put before the house that it be accepted. This motion was carried.

The acceptance of the third article on the election of officers was likewise moved and carried. The fourth and fifth articles defined the duties of the president and the secretary and treasurer respectively. These articles were all moved, accepted, and the motion was carried.

The 6th article concerned the choosing of an athletic representative by the chairmen of the executive committee at the beginning of each fall quarter. There was some discussion as to the advisability of adopting this article, and it was finally moved that it be rejected as part of the constitution and left to the vote of the college in the future. This motion was carried.

The subject of the selection of a college color was brought up for consideration but on account of lack of time it was postponed until the next meeting, and the meeting was adjourned.

Friday, Dec. 9, 1905.

A special meeting of the college was called by the both of the college. The meeting was called to order by the Dean, who, before taking up the regular business presented to the college the question of responding to the appeal of the Spanish Students for the International Institute. The Dean inquired as to the pleasure of the college in this matter and suggested that it might act in cooperation with the other Junior Colleges (Women). It was decided to leave the matter to the executive committee. An announcement was also made of three lectures by Mr. Lawes which have been procured for the winter quarter and the motion was made and carried that these also should be shared with the College of Arts (Men).
Miss Culver then reported that a basketball game had been arranged for, while the College of Philosophy for some day in the next week the day to be definitely stated later. The team of the College of Arts is as follows:

Miss Culver
Miss Sturgess
Miss Short
Miss Schobinger
Miss Fox
Miss Beak

The next matter to be discussed was the carnival proposed to be held in the gym in January. After Miss Beak had spoken, it was moved, seconded, and carried that we take a booth and for this purpose choose a managing committee. The following nominations were made:

Miss Morgan, Miss Busenberg
Miss Culver
Miss Beak
Miss Preston

The voting was done by ballot, the result being nine votes for Miss Morgan and eleven for Miss Busenberg. The chairman was then instructed to choose five cooperative workers.

After some discussion as to a college color, it was moved and seconded that we adopt purple, which is symbolic of the classics and the arts degree. This motion was almost unanimously carried. The adoption of an emblem was then considered and it was moved and carried that designs be made by any members who so desire and deposited in the suggestion box.

The meeting was then adjourned Tuesday, Dec. 12.

A meeting was held for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing quarter. The nominations for president were as follows:

Miss Preston
Miss Culver
Miss Driscoll

Votes cast: Miss Preston 19, Miss Culver 5, Miss Driscoll 7.

As no majority was obtained a second ballot was cast; the result this time being:

Miss Preston 17
Miss Culver 4
Miss Driscoll 3

This gave Miss Preston the presidency again.
The nominations for secretary were, Miss Courtenay
Miss Sturgess
Miss Scholtinger

The result of the vote cast was the re-election of Miss Courtenay with 18 votes, Miss Sturgess receiving ten and Miss Scholtinger 2.

A motion was made empowering the executive committee to take some action with regard to the eight members who left the college and graduated into the Senior College.

An amendment was made to the effect that they be allowed to choose two other members to act with them. Thus stated the motion passed.

Tuesday Dec. 19, 1905.
The meeting was called to order by Dean Bulchimbridge. She suggested that the formal adoption of the constitution be postponed until the spring quarter and this suggestion was accepted by tacit agreement. It was then moved, after hearing Miss Roberts report of the proceedings of the Junior College Council, that the rules be suspended and the executive committee be elected for two quarters as the chairman is active on the council for that term of office. This motion was seconded and unanimously carried.

The nominations for the committee votes cast:
1. Miss Carlocke 25
2. . . Campion 19
3. . . Burenberg 11
4. . . Greenacre 25
5. . . Armstrong 28
6. . . Bovell 7
7. . . Branchion 20
8. . . Bieson 1
9. . . Heaps 23

The tellers therefore reported the following elected to constitute the new executive committee:
Miss Carlock
Miss Greene
Miss Coveny
Miss Strachan
Miss Beak

Dean Breckinridge then discussed the condition prevalent in the University of dishonest practice such as stealing and cheating in the examinations. After hearing her opinion of this matter, a motion was made and carried that the executive committee be asked to consider this matter and report on any possible remedy for it or any action it might be advisable for the college to take.

Miss Roberts then reported on the design of an emblem suggested by the athletic committee to the college council. It was moved and carried that this matter be referred to the executive committee and to Miss Culver, who is the athletic representative.

A suggestion was made by the Dean that there be a joint discussion held with another college regarding the matter of women's suffrage in the new Chicago charter to be granted within the next few years. After some little discussion, it was decided that the invitation be sent to the College of Science (Women) and that the discussion be a general and informal one carried on under leaders of both colleges to open and close the discussion. It was further agreed that the visiting college be given the privilege of choosing the side it considered desirable. The last meeting of the junior College of Arts (Women) for 1908 was then adjourned with the best wishes on the part of all for its Dean Miss Breckinridge who is not to be in residence during the winter quarter.

M. E. Courtenay
Winter Quarter 1907

January second

The college held its first meeting of the new year and of the new quarter in its usual place of meeting at ten thirty Tuesday morning. Mr. Buchanan called the meeting to order and the first matter brought before the house was the reading of Miss MacKinnon's note of thanks for the flowers which the college had taken pleasure in sending her at the end of the previous quarter.

After this followed the nomination for the election of a permanent chairman of the program committee. An office which had up to this time been filled only temporarily but very satisfactorily by Miss Peabody. The nominations for the office were as follows.

Miss Peabody
Miss Grenade
Miss Driscoll

The voting was done by ballot, the result being as follows:

Miss Peabody 12, Miss Driscoll 4, Miss Grenade 12.

As this gave nobody a majority there was another vote cast which resulted in the election of Miss Driscoll with 18 votes, Miss Peabody 18, and Miss Grenade 1.

Nominations were then made for chairman of the committee. The nominations made were as follows:

Miss Short
Miss Beale
Miss McCartin

Miss Beale's name was withdrawn on request and Miss Short was nominated in her place.

The total number of votes cast was 32, the ballots being thus divided:

Miss Short 18
Miss McCartin 9
Miss McCartin 5

Miss Short was therefore elected. Mr. Buchanan then called Miss Preston to the chair and from the floor made a motion to the effect that the eight officers and three other members of the college who might be chosen or elected should take charge of the college meetings in future. There was an animated and interesting discussion of this motion, but when the half hour closed no one was ready to second it, and so it was withdrawn and the meeting adjourned.

Jan. 9, 1906

The business considered consisted of certain matters which had been left undecided from the previous quarter. The first of these was concerning cheating, which was reported to be practiced in the University. An animated discussion of this subject ensued, in which many took part, either reporting, expressing their opinions or suggesting possible remedies. Miss Strachan led the resolutions passed in Green Hall but the end of the allotted time prevented any definite action being taken.

Feb. 13, 1901

An Feb. 13 another business meeting was held in Lexington to take up unfinished business and any other matter that the executive committee might bring before the college. The first item was the possible cooperation with the other colleges (Women) in sending some aid to the International Institute in Spain, a matter which had been suggested by Mrs. Buckinridge in the previous quarter. After some discussion, it was finally decided that an entirely voluntary offering be made by the individual members. It was determined that twenty-five cents would be an appropriate sum.

The executive committee then reported that they had discussed the action to be taken with regard to those graduating from the college. They thought that it ought to be entrusted to a separate committee.

Miss Brunace was nominated for chairman of this committee with the privilege of selecting her co-workers, and was unanimously elected.

Miss Strachan, on behalf of the executive committee made the following motion:—that the second Tuesday in every month be reserved for a business meeting. This motion was recorded and carried.

any social function that might be arranged for by the entertainment committee.

Miss Baber gave the first of her series of illustrated talks on India, taking up the geography of the country.

Special Meeting

The meeting was called by Miss Breckinridge to reconsider giving the dance.
Miss Strauchon as representative of the Executive Committee reported that the Science College had voted to give the dance. Inasmuch as we had really pledged ourselves to help them the majority of those present said they would attend.

A committee of four volunteered to write postals to the absent members, and invitations to the alumnae and faculty. This committee consisting of Misses Strauchon, Beul, Preston, and Hellogg was requested to meet with the Science committee at 1:15 p.m.

As the Executive Committee had made all arrangements nothing needed further needed to be done. It was announced that the dance would be held in Reynolds Club and that the tax of 50 cents could be paid to the treasurer. Miss Strauchon moved that the treasurer be instructed to pay to Miss Greenacre the dollars and twenty cents deficit for the entertainment of last quarter.
This was carried, making the college free from debt.

The next business was the election of a chairman of the special committee of entertainment of this quarter. Miss Courtney and Miss Greenacre were the nominees but the latter's name was withdrawn by request
Miss Courtney was therefore

The first meeting of the College of Art (Women) for the Autumn Quarter was held Oct 9, 1906 in their college room.

Miss Blechimridge opened the meeting with a short talk welcoming the new members of the college and greeting those who returned.

Miss Avery then read the Constitution as recommended by the executive committee of the Spring Quarter.

The business of the day, namely the election of the officers, was taken up. By a motion of Miss Greann, it was decided to elect the executive committee first. After Miss Scholinger and Miss Greann had been elected tellers, the election proceeded.

Miss Avery moved that the two members who had been elected the preceding quarter, Misses Preston and Strangers, should hold over and the nominations be limited to seven. The nominations for the committee were as follows:

Scholinger, Jacoby, Preston, Todd
Votes and Pae.
While the votes were being counted the nominations for president and secretary were made. Miss Avery and Miss Courtney were the nominees for the first office.
Miss Vee, Miss Kold and Miss Morgan were nominated for the office of secretary.
Aiding to lack of time, the tellers were requested to post the results and the meeting adjourned.

Approved.
Dec. 16, 1906, Autumn Quartet.

The College of Arts held its second meeting in the college room at half past ten. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting being omitted, the first business was the reading of the list of members of the College.

The report of the tellers of the election for President and Secretary was then called for and Miss J. Morgan reported the following result:

President:
Total number of votes cast 37
Miss Avery — 21
Miss Courtney — 16

Secretary-Treasurer:
Total number of votes cast 37
Miss Booth — 17
Miss Morgan — 12
Miss Ulmer — 8
The report of the tellers for the election of the executive committee was then asked and Miss Greenacre made the following statement:

There are 37 ballots which should bring 111 votes. But one ballot contains four names instead of three. This ballot contains the names of Misses Scholinger, Jacoby, and Slater. As the result is counting these votes Miss Scholinger has 28, Miss Gould 24, Misses Slater and Jacoby each 16; Miss Roe 15; Miss Biesch 13. To throw this ballot out would therefore make the situation worse by giving 15 votes each to three people.

Alfred Greenacre
Edna Gould
The Executive Committee recommends to the college:

1. An informal reception at Green Hall, on Friday, Dec. 19, 1906, from 4:00-6:00 P.M.

(There is enough money in the treasury, and we have all the arrangements made, and will give you a good time, so you'll have to agree!)

2. The election of an Athletic Representative, with a view to forming a Basketball team as soon as possible, and challenging the other colleges.
It was then moved that the ballot containing four names be discarded and that the college proceed to an election of the fourth member. The three persons Miss Jacoby, Miss Roe and Miss Slater were nominated being considered candidates. This motion having been seconded and carried, the result of the election was:

Total number of votes cast 32
Miss Jacoby 14
Roe 7
Slater 11

Miss Schobinger the chairman of the executive committee was then called on and reported the organization of the committee of four with Miss Sturgess as secretary. For the Committee she made the following recommendations:
The election was agreed upon to take place as recommended and with the absence of objection at the suggestion of Dean Breckenridge, Miss Sedlbinger was appointed to act as athletic representative.

The election of a person to look after the program for the college meetings was then taken up. The following persons were nominated: Misses Roe, Hess, and Braunlich. The tellers after counting the votes made the following report:

Total number of votes cast 34

Miss Roe 12
Miss Hess 13
Miss Braunlich 9

The meeting then adjourned.

The College of Arts (Women) met in Lexington Hall, Room 2, Oct. 23, 1906. The meeting was called to order by the secretary's reading a paper which urged the members of the college to join the Women's Union, signed by Miss Livermore, chairman of committee on membership. At the suggestion of Dean Breckenridge, it was decided to hold the college meetings, temporarily on Monday at 10:30 instead of on Tuesday.

The college assembly was then very pleasantly entertained by Miss Ball who gave an instructive and interesting talk on "Latin manuscripts." After which the meeting adjourned.

At the close of which, the meeting adjourned.

This motion was seconded and after Dean Breckenridge, by request, described the Settlement, the motion was carried.

How the money should be collected was then discussed and Miss Courtenay made a motion that a box should stand in the College Room wherein the subscriptions should be placed and that Miss Avery should have charge of the pledges.

This motion was seconded and carried after which the meeting adjourned. Approved.

This was then made in the form of a motion, seconded, and carried.

2) That the system of student government should not be adopted in the University. Miss Courtenay moved that the recommendation be adopted. This motion was carried.

Miss Greenacre introduced the matter of making an amendment to the Constitution to the effect that it should not be necessary always to invite the alumni to the social affairs of the College, but by the suggestion of Dean Breckenridge it was decided to postpone this matter until the first business meeting of next quarter.

Miss Utmeas then brought up the question of having a Debating Club. Miss the College and after telling of the purpose of such a club moved that I not be a debating club made up of volunteer members. This motion was seconded after a brief discussion was carried. Mine was set for those interested in such a club to meet and organize on the following Wednesday at 6:00 o'clock.

Miss Schobinger announced that there was no committee in charge of the dance to be given Dec. 14. Miss Egelée was then appointed chairman and given the privilege of selecting herown committee. The subject of the formation of a dramatic club was then brought up for discussion.

Miss Breckenridge made the supposition that a Greek play or dance be given and that Mrs. Moore be paid to train for the performance. This met with a fairly response but no definite action was taken.

The meeting then adjourned.

College of Arts held its last meeting of the Autumn Quarter Monday, December 10th, 1906.

The meeting was called to order by Dean Breckenridge who before beginning on the business of the hour made two announcements: 1st. Tuesday, Feb. 5.

A special meeting of the college of arts was called on Tuesday, Feb. 5, 1907. The meeting was called to order by the president after which Miss Morgan, as chairman of the Carnival Committee, opened the discussion concerning the arrangement of the booth. She urged all members of the college to be on hand Thursday afternoon and Friday morning to help with the work of decorating the booth; then she asked for suggestions as to how the thatching should be done. After a general discussion on the matter and no definite plan settled upon, other small items connected with the Carnival were brought before the college and arranged for.

The chairman of the executive committee then brought up the question of the College picture. The announcement that to have the picture would cost the college $120 if no pictures were bought and $105 if twelve of the members of the college agreed to buy a picture; also that all the college excepting the science women had voted for the picture. Miss Schobinger then went to the science... room to find out what they had decided to do in the matter. She learned that they had decided against the movement. Then in view of the fact that at present the college is in debt twenty cents and also that it would not be the only opposing college, a motion was made that the college should not have the picture. This motion was carried, the Science Women informed of the decision and the meeting adjourned.

It was moved and seconded that the recommendation be accepted. The motion was carried.
Miss Morgan then gave the following report of the carnivals, which was accepted:

Spring Quarter 1907

The first meeting of the College of Arts (Women) for the Spring Quarter was held in the college rooms on April 8. After it was voted to grant the request made by the Student Volunteer League for the use of the college rooms on the evening of the eighteenth of April, Dr. W. Mac Crichton talked to the college on "Modern Realism" and read as an example "The White Peacock." The meeting then adjourned.

April 15, 1907

The Arts college women met in the college rooms.

Miss Breckenridge proposed that the huschean arranged for Friday, April 9th, be postponed and a dance be given in its place. Miss Breckenridge then invited the college to hold this dance in Green Hall as her guests, that she might become better acquainted with the members after her absence during the winter quarter.

After the college approved of this plan Mr. Capps talked to us on the Meaning of the Degree of B.A. Then the meeting adjourned.
April 22, 1907

The Arts College Women met in the college room. After a delightful musical program had been rendered by Miss Swalen and Miss Preston, those present joined in singing college songs until the meeting adjourned at eleven o'clock.

April 29, 1907

The first business meeting of the Arts College (Women) for the Spring Quarter was held in the college room April twenty-ninth.

The meeting was called to order by the president. Mr. Leander Mac-Clintock of the Arts College (Men) made an appeal to the college for its cooperation in some dramatics planned by the college which he represented. After some discussion a meeting of those interested was arranged for on Thursday May 2nd at 1:30 p.m. in the college room.

Next a letter from the "Cap and Gown" Board was read by the president. The board asked that as many as possible subscribe for the annual before May 1st.

Miss Director as chairman of the executive committee urged the members of the college to take part in the song and yell contest. They further recommended that the students take part in the May Festival. After some discussion, it was moved that two representatives be chosen from the executive committee to take the names of all who were willing to take part in the May-pole Dance and to consult with Miss Dudley about rehearsals, etc. This motion was carried.

Miss Breckenridge spoke of the tardy attendance at college meetings and urged punctuality. After discussing the matter it was decided that the college meetings might be held more conveniently on Tuesday mornings. After it had been moved and carried that the college meet Tuesdays instead of Mondays, the meeting adjourned.

President of Arts College (Women).

Dear Madame,

Since I find it necessary to leave school for the rest of this quarter I must resign my secretarialship in the Arts College. I regret that I was not able to mention this at the last meeting so that another might have been chosen to fill the vacancy, but I did not know of it then.

Hoping that the reports will be satisfactory to the college, I remain

Miss Johnson was therefore declared elected.

An invitation from the College of Literature Women was read, inviting us to their college meeting on the 28th at which Mr. Gorads Catt was to speak. In this, no action could be taken as Mr. Nelson had already been asked to speak to us on that date and we did not know what arrangements could be made, so it was left to the chairman of the social committee.

Next, our decorations for the May Pole dance were discussed. It was suggested that we wear white flowers in our hair. Miss Trenton was appointed to purchase the paper for these flowers and... was decided that each girl should pay for her own flowers. A time to make the meeting then adjourned.
