To the Junior Colleges:

At the beginning of the school year all the colleges agreed to give 10% of all the money collected in the college to the Junior College Council to pay for ballot printing, program printing, etc. Very little of this quarter's money has come to the council yet, and we have to pay for the Junior day programs this week. So pay up as soon as possible. This is urgent.

Treas. of Junior College Council.

my boy to western Canada for education. It would not be complete without a few years in that vast country of enormous possibilities.”

Rudyard Kipling, just returned from a trip through Canada, said that this evening. Mr.
Kipling owns land in British Columbia and is impressed by its possibilities. This was
Mr. Kipling’s second interview since his trip.

From his position of comfort, leaning back in a red plush fauteuil, he would bend forward when emphasizing a point, glare from a knitted brow until the point had been made clear, when the eyes would shut to open immediately, the brow would lift with a quick action, and the whole face break into a smile
of Rooseveltian proportions.

A secretary pro temp appointed
There was a called meeting of the Science College on Monday January 13, 1908 for the purpose of completing the business remaining from the meeting before.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Spohn, last quarter's chairman, acting until the new chairman could be elected. In the absence of the Secretary Miss Hull was appointed acting Secretary for the meeting.

It was voted that no further nominations be added to the one made by the committee for chairman. So Miss Soule remained the only nominee and the secretary was requested to cast the ballot electing Miss Soule chairman of the College. At the request of the new chairman Miss Spohn remains in the chair.

The two committees to be elected were the Program and the Room, for the former of which the executive committee had nominated Misses Philbrook, Fleming and Kellogg, and the latter Misses Gleason, Such and Ferris. The college voted to close the nominations for the Room committee and instructed the secretary to cast the ballot for the Room committee as it stood. All of which the secretary did.

Miss Roberts was added to the list of nominees for the room committee, after which the nomination were closed and the college voted on the committee. The result was Miss Glarum 11, Miss Herris 12, Miss Finch 8, and Miss Roberts 10, making the Room committee Misses Herris, Glarum and Roberts.

A meeting of the executive committee was announced and a request was made that the two other committees meet with the executive committee to make plans for the needs of the college.

It was also announced that the college would entertain its members and some of the faculty at luncheon on Friday January 17, 1908 at one o'clock in the College room. Luncheon to be served by the Commons at $2.50 per person.

Word came in that there was to be a meeting and organizing of a Chapel Committee consisting of representatives from the various colleges to consider the problems of the Chapel service. The Chairman appointed Miss Shell to represent the Science college on this committee.

This being all the business the meeting adjourned.
