Biographical Note

The Rev. William Eleazar Barton (1861-1930) was one of the early twentieth century's most prominent writers and lecturers on the life of Abraham Lincoln. Born in Sublette, Illinois, in the same year Lincoln assumed the presidency, Barton grew up in an environment heavily influenced by reverence for Lincoln. After pursuing undergraduate studies at Berea College in Kentucky, Barton earned his divinity degree from the Oberlin Theological Seminary in 1890. He served parishes in Tennessee, Ohio, and Massachusetts before becoming the pastor of the First Congregational Church of Oak Park, Illinois, a position he held until his retirement in 1924. Four years later, Barton accepted an appointment as lecturer at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, where he also organized and served as pastor of the Colleside Congregational Church.

Barton's work as a writer produced a number of denominational manuals and a series of books presenting the wisdom and parables of a character he named Safed the Sage. For the last ten years of his life, however, Barton was best known to the public as a prolific author and lecturer on Abraham Lincoln. His publications about Lincoln included The Soul of Abraham Lincoln (1920), The Paternity of Abraham Lincoln (1920), The Life of Abraham Lincoln (1925), The Great and Good Man (1927), The Women Lincoln Loved (1927), and The Lincoln of the Biographers (1930).

In the course of compiling material for his writings and talks, Barton visited Lincoln sites in Kentucky, Indiana, and Illinois; interviewed surviving Lincoln relatives and acquaintances; and traveled as far as California and England to collect information and conduct genealogical research on the ancestry of the Lincoln family. While acquiring a large collection of books, periodicals, pamphlets, manuscripts, and ephemera related to Lincoln and the Civil War era, Barton also purchased privately or at auction historical materials amassed by other Lincoln collectors such as John E. Burton and Osborn H. Oldroyd.

Scope Note

The William E. Barton Papers forms part of the William E. Barton Collection of Lincolniana. The collection consist of materials collected by William E. Barton, a Lincoln expert and enthusiast and primarily cover the years 1861 to 1930 (Lincoln's inauguration to Barton's death). The collection includes correspondence, newspaper clippings, published and unpublished writings, research notes, bibliographical materials, sheet music and song lyrics, maps, pamphlets, textiles, and photographs. A handful of materials concern Barton himself and relate to his role as pastor, his publications, and his many speaking engagements. The vast majority of the collection, however, consists of materials directly related to Barton's work on Abraham Lincoln. Barton's research on Lincoln's family history, the controversy over his genealogy, and the Civil War are especially well represented in this collection.

The collection is organized into seven series. Series I, Correspondence, contains letters exchanged between Barton and publishers, fellow Lincoln scholars and enthusiasts, and occasionally family and friends. Also housed in this series is a small collection of nineteenth-century letters gathered for research purposes.

Series II contains materials related to Roy E. Tomlinson, a Lincoln expert with whom Barton exchanged research materials and ideas. This series houses correspondence, clippings, bibliographical materials, photographs, and articles.

Series III is extensive and consists of Barton's writings and lectures both published and unpublished. The majority of the typescripts housed in the series bear marginalia and research notes. Series IV is small and contains published works penned by authors other than Barton.

Series V is the largest series in the collection and is devoted to Barton's research. It is divided into several subseries, the first of which covers research into Lincoln's family tree. This subseries includes materials regarding the controversy over the identity of Lincoln's mother, the English ancestry of the Lincoln family, the charge of insanity leveled against Mary Todd Lincoln, and a variety of other topics. The other subseries of particular note is that devoted to the Civil War. Barton collected song books, newspaper clippings, anti-slavery materials, and, in particular, items related to the Lincoln-Douglas debates. Additionally, this series contains subseries consisting of Lincoln portrait reprints, memorials, photographs, and bibliographical materials.

Series VI, is reserved for materials unrelated to Barton's work on Abraham Lincoln and includes items related to Barton's alma mater (Berea College), his travels, his meeting with President Coolidge. This series also contains clippings of obituaries published upon Barton's death.

Series VII, consists of oversize materials and follows the organization of the collection as a whole, divided into correspondence, writings, research, and general materials.

INVENTORY

Series I: Correspondence

This series primarily contains correspondence written by Barton. This includes letters exchanged with family, professional correspondence regarding his role both as reverend and author, and communication with fellow Lincoln experts. Additionally, this series houses correspondence that was not written by Barton. This includes posthumous correspondence written by his son as well as a handful of nineteenth-century letters, presumably collected by Barton for their historical interest.

Series III: Writings

Series III houses materials related to published and unpublished texts authored by Barton. It is divided into three subseries: Lincoln and Walt Whitman (a topic of special interest for Barton), Lincoln Genealogy and Family (Barton researched claims that Lincoln's parentage was not what it was generally thought to be), and General Writings. Primarily, all three subseries contain copies, manuscripts, reprints, and proofs of Barton's writings. While the majority of the research materials housed in this collection are to be found in Series V: Research, some texts housed in Series III: Writings are accompanied by research materials. Lastly, the final folder in this series contains reviews of Barton's work. Please note that although not always highlighted in individual folder descriptions, most typescripts include marginalia and notes.

Please note that the majority of texts housed in Subseries 2 have correlates housed in Series V: Research, Subseries I: Lincoln Genealogy and Family.

Series V: Research

This is the largest series in the collection. It houses a variety of research materials, the bulk of which are Lincoln related. These include: correspondence, hand-written notes, partial typescripts, photographs, bibliographical materials, and newspaper clippings. The series is divided into six subseries: (1) Lincoln Genealogy and Family, (2) The Civil War, (3) Lincoln Portraits and Memorials, (4) Photographs and Prints, (5) Bibliography, and (6) General Research Materials. Of particular interest is Subseries 2: The Civil War, as it contains a small but interesting collection of correspondence.

Series VII: Oversize Materials also houses a variety of interesting Civil War texts and artifacts, including newspaper clippings and an anti-slavery printed textile. Additional material on Lincoln genealogy can be found in Series III.

Series VII: Oversize Materials

This series contains oversize materials. When possible, the ordering of this section mirrors that of the preceding six series. Of particular interest is a textile printed with anti-slavery parables and images (Box 46, Folder 27). The accompanying note suggests that the textile was a handkerchief, although whether this was actually the case is unclear. The textile and accompanying note are not dated.
